The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

It was not Brattleboro's whiskey island that was washed away by the flood of water.

The Indian raid on Royalton should be nothing compared to the Indian massacre at Cambridge this afternoon.

It is said to be a fair statement that Jamestown will owe something like $2,500,000 when the gates close. Poor Jiminytown!

The United States calmly goes on breaking records. Last year the railroads killed 773 more people than for the year previous.

Barre must have treated the Methodists well, for the Vermont conference will be held here the coming year, making three conferences within a dozen years.

Was it "shear" foolishness or "boiler-plate" assurance for the self-righteous Rutland News to proclaim that it gets its telegraphic despatches "in the old reliable way"?

Now that the president is going to commit another unpardonable sin in deciding to review the great fleet before it leaves for the Pacific, they will manufacture another war in certain New York newspaper offices.

Just now the Republicans in Boston have a splendid chance to make fools of themselves by not uniting on a fit candidate for mayor against "Pitzy" Fitzgerald. The experience of the Democrats in the state should have shown them something.

The great United States sits idly by and watches first Germany and then Great Britain and then Great Britain again pile up ignominy with one splendid achievement after the other on the water. "First in war, first in peace," but not first in ship-building by a long shot.

The transplanting of a newspaper, root and stem, from one town to another is such a rare piece of work that the Southern Vermont Mirror, removed from Danby to Rutland, will be watched with interest. With less than a thousand population, Danby could not have afforded an extensive field for growth.

The house-cleaning which Controller Rideley promises for certain banking institutions in New York City will serve to smother what small bit of suspicion there may be remaining there, following the near-panic of two weeks ago. It is evident from what has crept to the surface that the house-cleaning is needed in at least one institution, and that its patrons will not be fully satisfied until the refuse is swept way.

King Leopold is the richest man in Belgium and in fact of the whole country and they say the wickedest. The mass of his wealth has come from his brutal exploitation of the Congo and his original system of greed and outrage. When not in royal regalia he wears a Double Breasted Sack Suit. We can sell you a better fitting one at $20.

MONTPELIER

Henry T. Frenier is making good progress toward recovery from his severe illness.

The measles are about stamped out in the public schools. No new cases are appearing and the existent ones are improving.

The thirty cows belonging to W. D. Hill were tested on Thursday evening and this morning Dr. C. E. Barrett, who tested them, found them to be all free from tuberculosis.

The bowling season will open Tuesday evening at Daley's alleys where the Haymakers and Merchants will roll three strings of big pins. This is a preliminary game, it is said to try out the players and a series between the Merchants and Haymakers will probably follow. A meeting to formulate plans for city bowling league will be held at Daley's alleys next Thursday evening.

The new engine house at the Junction is fast nearing completion. Two of the tracks have been laid and chinders and curbs are being hauled to the house to rise the grade of that of the other tracks. The sides have been covered with galvanized iron. The dream of an extensive repair shop, in which some people have been indulging, seem doomed to be dispelled, as there is little more room in the house than is absolutely necessary to get in the engines and move about them.—Montpelier Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Whelan left Thursday evening for New York, where they will make a tour. Mr. Whelan has been connected several years with the American Fidelity company with his headquarters in this city, but from this time on his headquarters will be in New York, where he will have charge of the work connected with the inspection of liability risks and audits of payrolls under liability policies. This has been a part of his work but he has made trips to New York to New York to do the work and from now he will make his home in that city.

The semi-annual election of the officers of the Epworth League of Trinity church was held following the mid-week meeting Thursday evening. It resulted this president, O. J. Goss; first vice-president, Howard Smithers; second vice-president, Miss Aurelia Sinclair; third vice-president, Miss Mae Bullard; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Bertie Goodale; organist, Mrs. Eloise Nason; secretary, Adelbert Gross and treasurer, Miss Elizabeth M. McDonald. The report of the work this half of the year was very encouraging and much progress has been made. The finances of the society are in better shape now than they have been for several years. During the half year nine new members have been admitted.

A large line of star goods that must be closed out at once. O. H. Hale, auctioneer.
