

BARRE DAILY TIMES

Published Every Weekday Afternoon. Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cents; single copy, 1 cent. Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1907.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

That sign of relief betokened the end of the Jamestown exposition.

The "unwritten law" still carries quite a point in trials for murder of a paragon class. Note the Bradley case.

Word comes from Montpelier that Barre will vote "No" next year; all of which would be a hardship to Montpelier.

The husband of the St. Louis woman, who claims she's two beings in one, has reason for his double vision when he comes home late at night.

There were 30,000 words in President Roosevelt's message; in other words, 30,000 darts to prick the complacency of Harpo's Weekly, et cetera.

In spite of the approach of cold weather, don't shut the windows of your sleeping rooms. Rather, put up a protection from draughts, and still breathe wholesome, if cold, air.

With Senator Proctor still at the head of the committee on agriculture and Senator Dillingham at the head of the immigration committee, Vermont can't complain of her position in the upper branch of the national assembly.

They will either make or break "Johnny Fitz" in Boston a week from today. But as John says, "I've never been licked yet"; so there is some doubt about breaking him at this time. Still, a change wouldn't do any harm, particularly if the change couldn't be much worse.

Let various Vermont communities take notice that Burlington, although supposedly well-equipped as to fire-fighting apparatus, is taking steps toward adding to the effectiveness of its department. The wisdom of the move is apparent. Although having more fire alarms this year than usual, the loss in that city has been, up to this time, much less than during the preceding year. Prevention is certainly better than a cure in a matter of this sort.

PITTSFORD SANATORIUM OPENING.

The executive committee of the Vermont tuberculosis sanatorium, which will be dedicated at Pittsford next Tuesday, have emphasized the fact in their circular of information that the treatment there afforded is to be for those only who are in the incipient stages of the disease or those who are still suitable for treatment. Physicians who are contemplating sending patients are therefore requested to bear that in mind. The directors to whom has been entrusted the first management of the sanatorium are such that the successful and satisfactory conduct of the institution is assured. They are, Governor Proctor (ex-officio), George Aitken of Woodstock, Rev. P. J. Barrett of Burlington, Frank H. Brooks of St. Johnsbury, Dr. W. N. Bryant of Ludlow, D. D. Burditt of Pittsford, F. G. Butterfield of Derby Line, Dr. C. S. Caverly of Rutland, Olin Merrill of Enosburgh Falls, Dr. D. C. Noble of Middlebury, ex-Governor Carroll S. Page of Hyde Park, Frank C. Partridge of Proctor, Emily D. Proctor and Redford Proctor, jr., of Proctor, and Dr. H. C. Tinkham, dean of the medical department of the university of Vermont. Among them will be recognized the names of several medical men who have been foremost in battling against the disease in Vermont.

A WILLIAMSTOWN BOY'S ADVANCE.

Our neighbor to the south, Williamstown, which takes pleasure in following the careers of her sons, now has fresh cause in the appointment of Charles H. Beckett, son of Town Clerk Beckett of that place, to the office of surrogate in New York county, New York state, the appointment having been announced Monday by Governor Hughes. The office of surrogate in New York corresponds to that of probate judge in Vermont. Surrogate judges are elected for a term of fourteen years at an annual salary of $10,000. Judge Beckett succeeds the late Judge Fitzgerald, whose latest term began January 1, 1907. In connection with the appointment it is interesting to note the alleged politics of it, as discovered by that Parsons-hater, the New York Sun. Parsons is head of the Republican organization in New York county, and the Sun learns that he went to Governor Hughes with a list of possibilities for Judge Fitzgerald's place and that Charles H. Beckett's name was not in the list. Furthermore, the successful one is not a member of the Republican organization of the county and, according to the same authority, has not taken an active part in the politics of the fifteenth district, where he lives. Hence, concludes the Sun, it was a direct snub to Parsons for Governor Hughes to appoint Beckett as judge. A snub or not, point Beckett as judge. A snub or not, Beckett, but rather a compliment to him that he should have been appointed irrespective of political workings of the local boss. The selection is a reward of recognized ability, and other Vermonters will join with Williamstown people in satisfaction.

RANDOLPH.

Plans to Give Reception to New Head Nurse at Sanatorium.

At the meeting of the Sanatorium Ahd. appointed for the afternoon of Monday, December 2nd there were sufficient ladies present to make any very definite plans as to future action, although several items of considerable interest were considered and postponed till later date. It had been proposed to hold a reception at which all might meet Miss Folsom, the head nurse, who arrived Monday, but no date was fixed for this occasion. Three new nurses will enter upon duty at the sanatorium before January first as Mrs. Crown will then leave to enter the hospital at Hanover, N. H.

Rev. Baker of the Methodist church at South Royalton was in town on Tuesday.

Eugene Greene, who has been so ill, is reported past the crisis, and on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Fred Buck of Lebanon, N. H., arrived at Ned Buck's to spend the remainder of the week.

Mrs. Will Morrill of South Randolph spent Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Dupris.

Charles Greene has returned from Connecticut where he had been with friends for the last few days.

Mrs. J. W. Lynch left here yesterday for Worcester, Mass., for an indefinite stay with her son who lives in that city.

Miss Mary Flint, who is studying in some hospital in Boston for the duties of a nurse, arrived home on Saturday for a vacation.

Arthur Vaughan left town for Burlington yesterday to attend the meeting of the Horticultural society which convenes in that city.

Miss Ruth Morrill, who has been spending her two weeks' vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Lyman Rix, returned to her home on Monday.

Mrs. Thompson and daughter, who have been guests at Mr. Foster's for some days, returned to her home in Montpelier on Monday.

Mrs. Charles Leavitt, who has been here assisting in the case of Mrs. Abbie Bingham, left for South Royalton for a stay of one night after which she will return to her home in Boston.

The concert at Chandler Music hall was voted an entire success on Monday evening. The Honolulu students appeared in costumes appropriate to their country and all showed marked ability in their special parts.

CHELSEA.

S. W. Livingstone of Waitsfield was a recent guest of O. W. Baker.

Orange County creamery paid 31 cents for butter fat for the month of October.

Mrs. W. H. Cook has been engaged to teach the winter term of school in the E. A. Cook district.

Miss Emma Hatch left Monday morning for Orange to teach the winter term of school, where she taught in the fall.

Judge Horace White of Topsham is accompanied by his wife for the term and they have taken board and rooms with the Misses Andrus on Main street.

Arthur Carpenter has entered the employ of M. E. Hutchinson, proprietor of the Chelsea mills, for the purpose and with the intention of learning the business from the ground up.

Hon. J. K. Darling left Monday morning for Woodstock to be present at the opening of the December term of Windsoor county court, where he will be engaged in the trial of the first case to be tried by the jury.

Manager E. D. Barnes of the electric light plant has three experts, George A. Tracy of Chelsea, O. E. Philbrick and A. G. Parks of Barre City, at the plant this week repairing the engine and making other needed repairs on the machinery.

Among those from out of town who have been here this week on business are A. L. Parkhurst of Boston, W. G. Shaw of Bethel, J. H. Sprague of Brookfield, L. S. Hayes of Bellows Falls, E. A. Houghton and Cheney McAllister of Washington, Pearl Darling and son, W. C. Washburn of Corinth, and Deputy Sheriff J. P. Kendall of Stratford.

Dedication Tuesday, Dec. 10. At the official opening of the Vermont sanatorium for incipient tuberculosis, at Pittsford December 10th, it is expected that there will be present from without the state some of the leading experts on tuberculosis and sanatoria for its treatment. At 3:00 p. m. there will be a meeting in the administration building of which Dr. E. R. Baldwin of Saranac Lake and others will speak. The purpose and plans of the sanatorium will be explained; both before and after the meeting full opportunity will be afforded guests to inspect the buildings and grounds. Those who can do so are cordially invited to remain for the evening.

The board of trustees welcome this opportunity to have the medical profession and other guests acquainted with the sanatorium.

A gas stove is a great convenience — but don't hug it. Our all-wool Underwear will give more comfort. Special price today.

TUNBRIDGE.

Charles Parker, Died at 97, Had Always Lived in This Town.

Charles Parker, who died November 22d at the home of his son-in-law, David Dickinson, just over the line in Chelsea, was a son of Phineas and Mary (Whitney) Parker who removed about 1807 from Dedham, Mass., to the place just this side of the town line near the present residence of George Dickerman. At this place, Mr. Parker was born Sept. 24th, 1810 and always lived within one half mile of the spot. In 1833 he built the house in which he spent the larger part of his life; at the time living in a log cabin a few rods west. About six years later he married Rebecca Whitney, and removed to the new house which remained his home through life. Of the seven children, three are now living: Mrs. Dickerman, Charles of Randolph and Mrs. F. H. Tuttle of this town. Mr. Parker is also survived by one brother, Phineas, of Hartford and one half-brother, Dyer, of Chelsea. Mrs. Parker died about twenty years since. A brother-in-law of the older Phineas Parker settled the following year upon the farm now occupied by his great grandson, also mentioned, George Luckerman.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

An Incoherency.

A woman screamed: "They were here last night!"

And every one looked at me. But Sophy smiled: "This goes to the right; We use no cream in our tea."

The fleet sailed off with the news next morn.

On a course s. e. for Duluth; But ma, as she stood and stewed the corn, Broke down and sobbed the truth.

Well, there was a great to-do at that. And some were rife with their hints; But Tom cried: "I'm for home—that's flat!" To laugh this off with the prince.

Next day we went to the morgue for hats And hung them out on the beach; So Cleveland went to the Democrats, And, of course, T. H. made a speech.

Well, Lord knows how we hushed the thing up. But it all came out in the wash, And after some weeks without meat nor soup, We had the beans read in Oshkosh.

So there is the tale of those long sad years— Who cares if the King met his fate? Your grandfather'd kill him again my dears, For that kiss that he stole off Kate.

Bluffing Jim.

Jim puts up a frightful front, Makes an awful holler, Likes to scare a little runt; But it doesn't feller That a good old stiff-arm punch Wouldn't get him puffin'.

Somehow I've a sort of hunch Jim is only bluffin'.

Jim's a husky guy, all right, When you hear him belter; Then you'd think he likes to fight— Jest that sort o' feller, I believe that out o' Jim I could knock the stuffin'.

Never took much stock in him, Jim is only bluffin'.

Jim he acts up might tough, Rippin' so an' tearin', Walks in gallus, voice is gruff, Eyes is fiercely glarin', Still, one day I might near Give him a good enfilin'.

Didn't, though, that time, for fear Jim might not be bluffin'.

GET WISE ON THE OYSTER QUESTION.

Where have you always got your best Oysters? Isn't it at the City Fish Market? They are still coming from the same old place in the same old way. We have thoroughly investigated all the new fangled methods of shipping Oysters and have communicated with those who have tried them and we don't think it fair to charge a higher price for an inferior article shipped in the carriers of a corporation that is deriving a large revenue on the strength of a scare.

Our tubs are nicely painted inside and out, perfectly clean Oysters, the best that can possibly be procured. Guaranteed free from any adulteration whatever, as our pure food laws are being rigidly enforced in this direction.

We are still selling those large fancy fresh opened selects at only 45c per quart and they arrive fresh every morning.
