FAMILIES FLEE FIRE

Three Hundred Homeless in Chelsea, Mass.

TWENTY-TWO BUILDINGS

Destroyed Yesterday Afternoon—Number of Persons Injured—Help Was Sent From Boston.

Boston, Jan. 23.—Fire, believed to have been started by incendiaries, destroyed twenty-two buildings and tenement houses, twelve rag and junk shops and a rendering plant in the rag business district of Chelsea, which lies between that city and Everett, yesterday afternoon.

Sixteen of the burned tenement houses were on one side of Auburn street and six on the opposite side.

The principal rag shops destroyed by fire were those of G. Ostler, Israel Rubin and J. Weiss.

Seven persons were injured or overcome by smoke.

A Chelsea fireman, who fell with a roof into flames and smoke, is in a serious condition at the Frost hospital, in Chelsea, and may die.

The loss is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

Three hundred persons are homeless and many of them lost considerable of their household and personal effects.

When the fire got beyond the control of the Chelsea firemen they summoned aid from Everett and Boston.

Hadstock Armour, a hoseman of engine no. 3, Chelsea, fell through the roof of the block nos. 96 to 100 Auburn street.

With him when the roof fell in was Captain O. L. Spencer of the same company.

He was taken to the Frost hospital.

Patrol Catello of no. 7 Spruce street was severely burned on the face and shoulders while trying to save his personal effects from his burning home.

He was warned not to enter his tenement after it caught fire, but he would not heed the warning and rushed back through the flames.

He was in a semi-unconscious condition when firemen dashed in after him and pulled him to the street.

An unknown man was overcome by the smoke at the corner of Spruce and Second streets and was found there unconscious.

Joseph Shuman of ladder no. 1, Chelsea, and Herbert Hanford of chemical no. 1, Chelsea, were overcome by the smoke, but were soon revived by other firemen and returned to their posts.

Mrs. Uerkes Dolzelsky, who lives in one of the houses on Second street which caught fire, attempted to rush down the stairs of her home with her two children.

She fell and broke her right leg. She was taken to the Frost hospital. Firemen removed the woman and children from the house before they were harmed by the flames and smoke.

The Chelsea firemen realized soon after the second alarm had been sent in that the fire was more than they could handle, and they telephoned to Everett for aid.

Two Everett companies were sent across the line and were soon at work with the Chelsea firemen in Auburn and Williams streets.

These brave firemen worked as they had never worked before, but the flames gradually got away from them and a telephone message was sent to Boston fire headquarters for more assistance.

An alarm was sounded from Boston headquarters, which called out East Boston and Charlestown companies, and they were soon in Chelsea, working side by side with the fire fighters of Chelsea and Everett.

SHONIS ADMITS HE OWES $1,200 DUTY

Government Officers Search Home of Millionaire on the Charge of a Servant.

New York, Jan. 23.—Dutiable goods valued at between $1,200 and $1,500, upon which no duty had been paid when they were brought in from Europe by Mrs. Theodore P. Shonts and her daughter, were found by customs officials, who made a search in the Shonts residence.

This statement was made yesterday by a representative of Mr. Shonts, who had been authorized to tell of the result of the investigation.

It was said at the same time, however, that no effort at concealment had been made when the family arrived; that the 20 trunks which they brought in were thoroughly examined by the customs officers at that time, and that the only reason duty was not paid was because none had been assessed.

The search by five custom house representatives, four men and one woman, was made in the presence of the duke of Chaulms, the elder Miss Shonts, who is to marry, her sister and Mrs. Theodore P. Shonts.

The complaint was sworn to by a discharged servant of Mr. Shonts and on invitation from Mr. Shonts as soon as he heard of the complaint. Mrs. Shonts acted as guide, piloting the officials from one room to another.

Before the representatives of the federal government left they were served with refreshments.

"It was a regular pink tea affair," remarked one of the appraisers on leaving the house.

HE WILL RESIGN.

Former Secretary Shaw to Leave Carnegie Trust Company.

New York, Jan. 23.—Secretary Shaw stated yesterday that he has not resigned from the presidency of the Carnegie Trust company, but had contracted to sell his holdings in the company and if paid according to terms, would resign on March 1.

Mr. Shaw says he came to the Carnegie Trust company on March 4, under a contract with Mr. Dickinson and his associates in control, at a salary of $46,000 a year.

He said that the company is in good condition and has made very satisfactory growth and showing.

When it developed that Mr. Shaw and Mr. Dickinson differed as to policy and methods, Mr. Shaw proposed purchasing control of the institution, but Mr. Dickinson declined to consider the offer, and Mr. Shaw, therefore, contracted to sell to Mr. Dickinson. Mr. Shriv says his best wishes remain with the institution and he hopes for its continued success.

Mr. Shaw declined to discuss his political ambitions, further than to say that he is as much interested "in the wise solution of public questions as ever, and as certain in the conviction that the continued success of the party in power is essential to that end."

Man's past history upon this planet has been immeasurably lengthened out by the discoveries of the geologists, but it is impossible to fix upon any hard and fast date for the beginning of the species. It is certain, says so careful a man as John Fiske, that men were living in Britain contemporaneously with the big nosed rhinoceros, which became extinct about the beginning of the glacial period.

The glacial period, according to the best authorities, began at least 240,000 years ago. In all probability human beings have been living on the earth for that length of time at the least calculation. How much longer men have been here does not appear.—New York American.

EXPERTS TO TEST BENZOATE

President Yields to Desire of Manufacturers

DECISION WILL AFFECT

Big Industries—Order of Dr. Wiley Temporarily Suspended—Board Will Decide Whether Preservative Is Harmful.

Washington, Jan. 23.—President Roosevelt has decided that a board of impartial experts shall determine whether or not benzoate of soda is a decision, which has been announced to Senator Lodge is, in a measure, a victory for the National association of Food Manufacturers over Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture.

Ever since the pure food law went into effect the makers of preserves, fruit syrups, pickles, etc., have been disturbed by the alleged harmfulness of benzoate of soda, which most of them use. They have claimed and cited their whole business experience as proof that sodium benzoate, used in proper quantities was not injurious to health.

Dr. Wiley, as the result of experiments with his "poison squad" declared it harmful and recently issued an order prohibiting its use. The manufacturers have fought the decision at every step and enlisted the aid particularly of Senators Lodge and Crane, as Massachusetts is a leading state in the manufacture of the fruit and vegetable delicacies at issue. There has been marked difference of opinion among chemists as to the effect of the chemical upon the human system although the preponderance of opinion outside Dr. Wiley has appeared to favor the position of the manufacturers.

In view of the large business interests at stake and the uncertainty of the situation, a final appeal was taken to President Roosevelt, who has decided to submit the question to five expert chemists to be selected by the presidents of various universities, including President Hadley of Yale.

The action of President Roosevelt probably will operate on a suspension of the order of Dr. Wiley but the findings of the board will be regarded as final as far as the government is concerned. Boston interests will be vitally affected by the decision which, if adverse, will restrict their business to one state limits. Massachusetts law does not discriminate against benzoate of soda except to require that the proportion used shall be stated upon every package.

THE CANAL SAFE IN TIME OF WAR.

Col. Goethals Says It Will Not Be Hard to Defend.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 23.—At the hearings of the Senate committee on interoceanic canals which continued yesterday, Col. Goethals gave assurance that the Panama canal, when completed, would be reasonably safe from military invasion, and said that the chances of the crippling of the canal by spies armed with dynamite will be very small, provided armed guards are maintained at the Miraflores and Gatun locks. The Gatun lock is located seven miles from the Atlantic, and the Miraflores lock eight miles from the Pacific. Shells fired blindly over this distance, in the opinion of the commission chairman, would do very little harm.

In discussing the possible injury of the locks by spies, Col. Goethals said it was not possible for one or two men to carry sufficient dynamite to do much harm.

In response to questions by Senator Brandegee, Col. Goethals said that average ships would probably be able to pass through the canal in less than eight hours. He said there would be plenty of room for ships to pass except possibly in Cubaica cut, and also that more than one vessel could occupy a lock at the same time.

"The entire United States fleet," said he, "can be accommodated at one time in Gatun lake, when completed."

HEARING ON CURRENCY BILLS.

The First Yet Given by the House Committee.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 23.—The House committee on banking and currency held yesterday the first of its public hearings on the various currency reorganizations and federal guaranty bills which have been introduced. No persons other than members of the committee and Representative Fulton of Oklahoma appeared. The statement of Representative Burgess of Texas that under no consideration would he vote for a federal guaranty of national bank deposits, as provided for in the Fowler bill, roused Chairman Fowler to an energetic defense.

He disputed the position taken by Mr. Burgess when he said that fear of the criticism of depositors was the one successful check on bank managers and that the enactment of a federal guaranty of deposits would be tantamount to removing this check and throwing wide the doors to safe investment of bank funds. To-day the committee will receive a deputation from the national board of trade, which is now in session here.
