APPEAL IN SCHMITZ CASE.

Decision Legalizes Blackmail, Says District Attorney Henry.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 15.—Asst-ant District Attorney Henry filed a petition in the supreme court Thursday for a re-hearing of the case in which, the court of appeals rendered a decision practically declaring the crime of blackmail legal. The decision was reversed and the case remanded to the lower court in the Schmitz case.

In his petition Henry declares in effect that the decision of the court is not based on law and that it is not sustained by the authorities cited. The petition openly criticizes the court for its decision and charges that by its it virtually legalized blackmail in the state. The appeal is signed by Attorney-General U. S. Webb, Francis J.
Henry, William H. Langdon, Charles Cobb and Joseph Dwyer. "We ask for a re-hearing," reads the petition, "because the decision, with the greatest respect to the court that rendered it to this court, is:

- "1. Fallacious in its logic.
- "2. Devoid of reason to support it.
- "3. Unsupported by the authorities cited.
- "4. Diametrically opposed to high authorities, which we cited in our briefs, but which are unnoticed by the opinion."

The petition contains seventy printed pages.

Voorhees and Coombs Charged With Making False Insurance
Reports.

New York, Feb. 15.—Foster M. Voorhees, ex-governor of New Jersey, and Frank G. Coombs have been indicted by the special grand jury which has been investigating banking cases. Mr.
Voorhees was president of the Bankers' Life Insurance company, which got into trouble a year ago, and Mr. Coombs was secretary. Both are indicted for perjury on a charge of submitting a false report to the state superintendent of insurance.

The investigation was taken up on the report of Superintendent of Insurance McKelvey, who called the attention of the district attorney to the affairs of the company. The indictments were filed in the supreme court, criminal branch, where Justice Dowling is sitting.

The grand jury began its investigation of the Bankers' Life Insurance company about two weeks ago. Mr. Voorhees appeared as a witness at his own request.

HUNGRY SCHOOL CHILDREN.
How the Problem Was Met in a Jersey Town.

Fully twenty years ago, the late Robert F. Wescott, president of Wescott's Express company, then residing in Jersey, sent word to the principal of the Lincoln avenue school in that city that he would like to confer with her on the matter of luncheons for poor children in the school; children who had poor luncheons or who might have to go without their midday meal altogether. A great many of the pupils were children whose fathers or older brothers were employed in hat factories, and in order that the bread-winners might have a hot meal in the middle of the day, children carried the dinner pail to fathers or brothers, and in many cases had no time for even a bite at home. It was these that Mr. Wescott wished especially to provide for, and he generously offered to pay for all labor and supplies if the distribution could be managed by the principal and teachers.

A woman was found who made good bread, and who could make a palatable, nourishing soup or heavy broth. Her service was engaged. A barrel of flour, a whole mutton, quantities of potatoes, barley, onions, etc., were shipped to her, and the children were invited to be on hand for their hot meal at 12:30. This gave them time to do dinner-pail duty and get back to the school building in time for their food before the opening of the afternoon session. Contrary to expectations, it was no easy matter to induce many of those who most needed it to partake of the food provided for them.

Despite the dainty white bowls, their savoury contents and shining spoons, many held back, feeling that they were to be fed by charity. The teachers came to the rescue. Many of these lived at a distance and had heretofore eaten a cold luncheon. They fell into the ranks, holding their children, and then gladly took their hot portions with the little one. The basket of snowy bread and the big boiler of hearty soup disappeared as if by magic. The doubting ones no longer failed in their duty.

After a time a difficulty arose in the daily repetition of the flavor of mutton.
Mr. Wescott met this by sending the cook a quantity of beef. Varying the meat supply occasionally with chicken made an acceptable change. Of the five hundred pupils enrolled in the school, about forty were served daily with luncheon during the cold months of the year. The expense was met by one man and the labor, outside of the cooking, was done by the teachers.

York Times.

versalist Churches.

The fourth annual meeting of the Unitarian and Universalist churches of Vermont and the province of Quebec will be 19.

FIRE AT FAIRFIELD CENTER.
Owen Maginn's Sawmill Burned—Loss
About $10,000.

Fairfield Center, Feb. 15.—The sawmill in this place owned by Owen Maginn was destroyed by fire at an early hour yesterday morning. The fire started about 2:45 o'clock and when discovered had made great headway. The loss is about $10,000, with no insurance.

There appears to be some mystery surrounding the starting of the fire, for the mill had not been used for two days, and there was no fire in the boilers.

The question of rebuilding has not been decided as yet.

INVESTORS OBSERVE
NATIVE OF WILLIAMSTOWN.

Mrs. Helen M. Ballard Who Died in Burlington Yesterday.

Burlington, Feb. 15.—Mrs. Helen M.
(Perry) Ballard, widow of the late A.
K. Ballard died yesterday morning at her home at 51 Elmwood avenue following a long period of ill health.

Mrs. Ballard was a native of Williamstown, and had resided in Burlington since early life. Her husband who died fully a quarter of a century ago, conducted the pottery on an effort street for many years, with his brother, the late O. L. Ballard. Mrs. Ballard was a woman of culture with many fine attributes of character. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Theodore Prentiss of Watertown, Wis.

ABOUT THE STATE

J. F. Dewey of Castleton, found two live snakes at a spring near his home recently.

Ex-Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. Charles H.
Stearns, of Johnson, will leave this week for Florida to pass the remainder of the winter.

The following changes of fourth class postmasters in Vermont are announced. Forestdale, Rutland county, John C. Berner, vice W. B. Avery, resigned; West Derby, Orleans county, Loomis S. Miller, vice C. B. Cobleigh, resigned.

Le Roy G. Brant, clerk of the Bennington graded school district, has completed the annual census of the district, showing 1,330 children of school age.
Of this number 629 are boys and 710 are girls. The increase during the year was twenty-three.

The report of the Vermont Soldiers' home, Bennington, for the ten days ending February 10, is as follows: Attendance present, 85; average accounted for and present, 94; on the morning of the 10th there were 84 present and ten absent on leave. No new members were admitted during the last ten days.

A firm of certified accountants, which has been in Burlington auditing the books and accounts of the several departments of the city for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1907, reports that no irregularities were found but that the system of bookkeeping employed in some departments is crude and careless.

Charles W. Dunham of Brattleboro of the firm of Dunham Bros., will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for senator from the southern district of Vermont this year. This announcement is made on authority.
Mr. Dunham is seldom a candidate for political honors. He is one of the town's foremost business men.

L. H. Janvin, ex-'03, Norwich university, Northfield, who recently returned from an extensive trip abroad, a good part of which was passed in Iceland, has contributed to the university museum a very valuable collection of Iceland curios. Every article is in some way truly representative of the island and its peasant folk. Deserving of special mention are the many hand-fashions of the wearing apparel and many rare specimens of the birds peculiar to that section.

FATHER CHADWICK
ON VALUE OF SPORTS.

Famous Athletic Authority Says, Properly Handled, They Are a Benefit.

Brooklyn, Feb. 15.—Henry Chadwick, father of baseball, delivered his lecture, "Sports and Pastimes From a Moral Point of View," before the Men's club of the Church of Our Father, Grand avenue and LaFayette place, Wednesday.

Mr. Chadwick pointed out the great value of sports to the health of every youth, and said that parents and guardians should cultivate the desire for healthy outdoor exercise in the minds of every boy, for a devotion to such pastimes would keep him away from the influence of the race tracks, pool rooms and other vicious habits of boys from 12 years to 15 or 16 years. He said that some competent person should be in charge of the game, and rule with great fairness, and yet show consideration for the boys, remembering at all times "That boys will be boys."

The director of the sports should watch at all times for opportunities to help the boys to master their tempers, for if they passed through the years of their youth without learning to control themselves, they would develop into vicious men. The speaker said that sports and pastimes should be a part of every school boy's education.

In speaking of the advantage of one branch of sport over another, Mr. Chadwick said that the time necessary to reach a proper fitness to engage in any branch of sport should be considered, especially in schools, where time was valuable in the study hours. For this reason, he said, such games as baseball, cricket and lacrosse had a decided advantage over games like football, crew rowing and track and field sports, because of the natural fitness any healthy man had for the first and the long months of training necessary to become properly conditioned for the second.

IN THE SLATE BELT.

Labor Paper's Version of the Strike at the Present Time.

The Vermont Union Signal of to-day's issue gives the following account of conditions in the slate belt, where the men have been on a strike for a long while:

"Fair Haven, Vt., Feb. 12.—There is nothing starting to record the slate strike situation this week, neither in Fair Haven nor in Poulinville, although the association bosses have been extremely busy of late circulating the sorts of ugly rumors concerning the alleged weakheartedness of the Poulinville boys, who, it will be remembered, are now on strike at the Mathews plant in that town. No one pays the slightest attention to such stories, however, his memory running back to the yarns these same bosses used to spin about the boys here when their strike first started. The union men of Poulinville came from the same rugged stock as the men who have put up such a magnificent fight here, and that stock usually breeds fighters, not squealers, the Poulinville boys will undoubtedly hold their end up for a while.

"Despite the fact that the union is in the tenth month of its strike for a shorter workday, the strike pay of all married men has been increased to $5.00 a week, this action being taken at the last meeting of the local unions as a result of the splendid aid tendered them by American Federation of Labor organizations throughout the country. That boasted starving stunt proposed by the association doesn't appear to work as well as it was thought it would ten months ago.

"Record another unqualified denial of that old chestnut of the bosses, wherein they seek to make it appear that the union demands the right to have its officers employ and discharge all workmen on fair jobs as a prerequisite to settling the present strike. This makes about sixty denials of the foolish yarn, and although it is the most flimsy fourmyrtor ever conceived of by mortal man, there are professedly intelligent people in this district who still profess to believe that such is the case."

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpelide Is in Getting It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair preparations may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpelide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbrow's Herpelide stands the "test of use." It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.
Sold by leading druggists. Send 1c in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.
