

TWO STRINGS FOR COSMO'S

Leaving One For the Little Teddy Bears

IN THE CANDLE PIN MATCH

Highest Single String of 117 Was Made by Nite, With E. Masi Getting the Highest Total of 316—Veterans Also Rolled.

Two matches were played on the bowling alleys last night, the Cosmopolitans going up against, and defeating, the Teddy Bears in the candle pin league by a score of two to one, and the veterans of the big pins playing off another match, Capt. Richardson's men winning two out of three from Capt. Townsend's.

E. Masi of the Cosmopolitans rolled two pretty good strings in the candle pin match, one of 113 and the other of 115, and having a total of 316. Nite of the same team had the highest single, however, getting 117 first time at the bat and going down both times thereafter. The score of the candle pin game is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Score 1, Score 2, Total. Includes Cosmopolitans and Teddy Bears.

NEW ENGLAND WARMING UP. Hard Campaign For Delegates From Now On. VERMONTERS AT CAPITAL. The Taft Boom Has Made No Advances Which Cannot Be Checked, Say Men for Delegates Uninstructed.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Practically every Republican leader of New England now in Congress has taken off his coat within the last few days to join in the struggle for national convention delegates. The Taft and the anti-instruction campaigns for every New England state are virtually being run from Washington.

The machinery of more active opposition was set in motion very quietly, but none the less, with great determination. During the last three or four days politicians from different New England states have been dropped into Washington on apparently innocent "visits."

The fresh reports brought in by these visitors have encouraged immensely those Republican senators and representatives who would like to see New England's 32 delegates go to Chicago without instructions. They say with considerable unanimity that the Taft boom has made no marked advances which cannot be checked, but that the aggressive agitation for him is attracting attention which might eventually lead voters to overturn the plans laid for the various state and congressional conventions.

Therefore the anti-instruction campaign is to be pushed vigorously in every New England state from now on. The aggression of Hughes boomers in three or four New England states fits in well with these plans.

While things are moving quietly in Massachusetts, A. M. Fletcher of Cavendish has the helm of the Hughes boom in Vermont and ex-Gov. N. J. Bateholder is performing a like office in New Hampshire. Both men have been in Washington recently and have consulted at length with their respective congressional delegations.

The recent political declarations of Rhode Island Republicans against instructions likewise tallies with New England efforts elsewhere. At the same time the Connecticut senators and several Connecticut representatives have had their heads together with reference to harder campaigning in that state. The situation in Maine has also been receiving attention.

Henceforth, if there is any noise-making for any presidential candidate in New England, Secretary Taft's lieutenants will not be allowed to monopolize it. The Hughes boomers will be out in force and the population will not be left to infer that there is but one real candidate ahead.

The delegate candidates who have come out on anti-instruction platforms have been informed that they must take hold. This quickened movement seems to be essentially a Hughes movement because of general sentiment in New England that either Taft or Hughes should be the nominee. Nevertheless, the Republican leaders here are nominally working in the interest of no particular candidate but for the principle that representative men should be chosen as delegates, and that they should act upon their best judgment at Chicago.

The three northern New England states are said to be in the most satisfactory shape for these allied workers. E. C. S. Page of Vermont has just been here and gave an assured report from that state. Ex-Senate Senator R. W. Hilliard accompanied him. Judge S. D. Morse of St. Johnsbury and Porter H. Dale of Island Pond, all more or less interested in politics, have also been here. Others have come with reports from the other two border states.

Dist. Atty General M. Swift of Fall River was here talking with Massachusetts men at the Capital. He said that he had decided not to run as a candidate for delegate to the national convention from that district.

PHYSICIANS TALK SHOP. Express Varied Opinions on Cooper's Work. Side Lights on the "Cooper Mania," Which Has Aroused Multitudes in the Western Metropolis.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—The astonishing sale of Cooper's preparations in this city has now reached such immense figures that the medical fraternity at large has become forced into open discussion of the man and his preparations.

The physicians as a whole seem to be divided with regard to the young man's success in Chicago—some being willing to credit him for what he has accomplished, while others assert that the interest he has aroused is but a passing fad which cannot last, and which will die out quickly as it has sprung up.

The opinion of these two factions is very well voiced in the statements made recently by two of a number of physicians who were interviewed on the subject.

One of Chicago's most prominent physicians, when questioned about the matter said: "I have not been a believer in proprietary medicines heretofore, nor can I say that I believe in them at present. But I must admit that some of the facts recently brought to my notice concerning this man Cooper have gone far toward removing the prejudice I had formed against him when the unheard-of demand for the preparations first sprang up in this city."

"Numbers of my patients, whom I have treated for chronic liver, kidney and stomach troubles, have met me after taking Cooper's remedies and have stated positively that he has accomplished wonderful results for them. I notice particularly in cases of stomach trouble that the man has relieved several cases that were of years' standing and proved very obstinate in treatment."

"I am the last man on earth to stand in the way of anything that may prove for the public good simply through professional prejudice, and I am inclined to give Cooper and his preparations credit as deserving to some extent the popular demonstration that has been accorded them in this city."

Another well-known physician who was seen took the opposite view of the "Cooper mania," as he called it, which now has this city in its grip. He said: "I can only liken the present state of affairs to a certain kind of hallucination. For want of a better name I might call it 'Cooper mania.' The people of Chicago seem to be firm in the belief that this man Cooper has health-corked up in a bottle."

"Some of them imagine that he has completely cured them of various ills, gone crazy over the man. It may be beyond me to say why the city has judging from their statements. It is safely put down, I think, to one of the passing fads that so often attack the American public."

"Sooner or later the people are bound to regain their senses, and will then realize that a reputable physician is the one to whom their health had best be entrusted."

In the meantime, Cooper meets several thousand people daily, and only smiles when statements of the above character are quoted to him. His charitable work still continues to be very extensive.

"JIM BLUDSOE" BURIED; RECALLS JOHN HAY'S POEM. Thrilling Experience Made Many View Jones at Writer's Original.

Dakota, Minn., Feb. 28.—The body of John Jones, famous as the "Jim Bludsoe" of the upper Mississippi river, was laid to rest here Wednesday. Jones' experience was so like that of the hero of John Hay's well-known poem that many believe he was the inspiration of the latter.

Jones was a pilot of the ferryboat Warsaw, which transferred passengers from LaCrosse to the Minnesota side of the river just after the Civil war. She caught fire while in the middle of the channel with several hundred passengers aboard, but Jones headed her for an island, and in the words of the poem, "held her nose high in the bank till the last gallop" came ashore.

He was seriously injured in passing through the burning boat.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Feb. 28.—Night riders early yesterday set fire to the residence of Broussard Gregory near here and fired guns into the bedroom in which Mr. Gregory, his wife and daughter were sleeping. The residence was burned to the ground, a detail of Middleboro troops on guard here under Major Albright have been ordered to the scene. The land left a note accusing Gregory.

NOVEL SURGICAL WORK SAVES LIFE OF A CHILD. Small Electrical Bulb Used to Locate Seed in Lung. Pittsburg, Feb. 28.—Ruth Steffen, the five-year-old daughter of Mrs. J. C. Steffen of McKeesport, is apparently recovering, following a surgical operation such as physicians say never before was performed.

Last September the child swallowed two round seeds. She coughed one up, but the other became lodged in the lung. Dr. Jackson of the Eye and Ear hospital in this city, using a delicate instrument, which contains a small electrical bulb, located the seed and removed it.
