

Looking for a Settlement

In opinion the prospects for an early settlement of the tie-up in the Barre industry are the brightest since March 1st. We have it from the best authoritative committee meetings will be called and every effort made from now on to settle the same. Success to them.

New Waists.

The big bills of Waists have just been received. All who have seen them say they are the prettiest line of medium priced Waists they have ever seen. They start at $1.50 and lots of Waists we have seen at $1.50 were not as pretty. Then the new $1.50 ones—you wouldn't want to buy the material and make them for yourself. Others up to 4.00.

New Skirts and Suits.

You should have seen the load of express we received this morning—new Skirts, Suits, also Coats. Now is the time to pick up the styles that will Suit you best.

and Man, Herman W. Johns, Sued For $5,000.
Burlington, March 16.—Deputy Sheriff served papers on Saturday upon T. Terrien, a Williston man, who is employed in Hinesburg, a suit being brought against him by man W. Johns of Richmond, who alleges that Terrien alienated Mrs. Johns' affections. Damages of $5,000 are asked. Terrien in default of bail was brought to the jail in this city. The case is returnable at the September term of Chittenden county court.

Judge John H. Watson, one of the Vermont supreme court judges, was taken ill with an acute attack of indigestion yesterday while at his home in Montpelier. Physicians were called, and he was given relief, although he remained in bed during the remainder of the day.

There have been several Salomes shown upon the stage during the past year, but the most human of them all is the Salome introduced in "The Holy City," the engrossingly interesting play written by Clarence Bennett, which is to be produced at the opera house on Tuesday evening. Mr. Bennett's Salome is not a depraved and morbidly unhealthy creature, but a beautiful and passionate creature who is carried away by a sweep of her ardor for a time, but who dies expressing her belief in the great truths of religion.

The Aurora borealis, or northern dawn, is an electrical phenomenon which in high northern latitudes, especially in winter, illuminates the skies with streamers of light. As the streamers of light have a tremendous motion, they are called in many places the "noisy dances." They assume many shapes and a variety of colors, from a pale red or yellow to a deep red or blood color, and in the northern latitudes they serve to illuminate the earth and cheer the gloom of the long winter nights. The connection of the aurora displays with the disturbance of the magnetic needle is now regarded as an ascertained fact.
