CONTRACT FOR MILTON, MASS.

For Granite in Pilgrim Monument at Provincetown.

From a field of six competitors, says the Boston Transcript, the commission having in charge the erection of the Pilgrim monument at Provincetown, the foundation of which was laid, and the corner stone dedicated by President Roosevelt, last summer, has decided to contract with Maguire & O'Heron of Milton for the erection of the huge pile of granite and concrete construction which is to perpetuate the memory of our Pilgrim Fathers.

On Feb. 28, bids were opened which proposed to undertake the erection of this monument, for sums ranging from $72,500, which was the bid of Maguire & O'Heron, to a bid of $119,000 by the Booth Bros. & Hurricane Island Granite Company of New York. The other bidders and their offers were: Norcross Bros. Company of Worcester, $75,000; Van Amringe Granite Company of Boston, $79,900; Pigeon Hill Granite Company of Rockport, $84,000; and W. L. Miller of Boston, $99,700. Within a day or so the commission will execute a contract with the successful bidder, and work will begin at once as soon as the matter of the choice of granites has been determined. The contractor will have until the end of 1909 to finish the work, and it is thought that that will give more than ample time.

The members of the commission have the project in charge are: Secretary Taft, Governor Guild, and Captain J. Henry Sears, president of the Cape Cod Pilgrim Memorial Association. Lieutenant-Colonel Edward Burr, as resident United States engineer, has charge of the construction and building. The memorial will stand 250 feet in the air on top of Town Hill, Provincetown. This hill itself is about a hundred feet above the low tide mark, so that the top of the staff will stand almost three hundred and fifty feet above the sea level. The bid submitted by Maguire & O'Heron offers two kinds of granite, Rockport or Deer Isle, Me.

Over 100 cities and towns, including Quincy, have raised funds for date stones to be placed inside this monument which is illustrated above. Quincy's date of 1623 is one of the earliest.

REV. ELIOT WHITE FINED.

Worcester Preacher Denies He Made a Disturbance. Worcester, Mass., March 18.—Rev. Dr. Eliot White, the wealthy Socialist divine who was arrested Sunday night in connection with disturbances arising from the police prevention of an address on "Anarchy," by Alexander Berkman, was fined $10 by Judge Samuel Utley yesterday for disturbing the peace. Rev. Dr. White was not represented by counsel, while City Solicitor E. H. Vaughan stated he was ordered to prosecute the defendant by Mayor James Logan. The prosecution presented a long array of police officials and detectives who testified that Rev. Dr. White was creating a disturbance at the corner of Mechanic and Main streets about nine o'clock, a crowd of 1,000 collecting. They said he refused to move and was locked up. Dr. White stated that he did not deny the police, but was roughly handled by the officers, who singled him out because in the press he had held that Berkman ought to have the right of free speech with the police in attendance. He said the crowd was never greater than 150. He did not appeal, but paid his fine. He remained in a cell all night.

NEARLY 85 YEARS OLD.

James S. Knowlson Died at Rutland Yesterday. Rutland, March 18.—James Somerville Knowlson died at his home on Washington street, at nearly 85 years. Although a native of New York state, having manufactured woolen goods at Troy many years, Mr. Knowlson had resided in this city for a long time. He was a Williams college man and was prominent in the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Bricklayers and Masons.

At the international convention of the Bricklayers and Masons' union recently held at Detroit steps were taken with a view to promoting harmony between the bricklayers and masons and the Journeymen Stonecutters' association. A plan to create a reserve fund large enough to meet any and all contingencies was adopted. Reports from the various sections of the country show that a large proportion of the unions have secured the eight hour day and that the wages have increased very materially. The increase in membership during the last two years has been phenomenally large, upward of 200 new unions with an aggregate membership of 20,000 being added to the original roll.

NOT A FREEHOLDER.

Slows Having Hard Luck in Electing a First Trustee. Stowe, March 18.—A special village meeting is called for March 19 for the election of a first trustee. At the annual meeting, March 4, it was found that the first trustee elected was not a freeholder, and he was similarly disqualified. The charter provides that the trustees must be holders of real estate.

Had Practiced.

Cardinal Richelieu once listened to an earnest sermon by a shoemaker. The man was simple and uneducated and apparently not at all dismayed by the presence of the cardinal. "How could you preach to me with so much confidence?" Richelieu asked him in evident surprise. "Monsieur," replied the shoemaker, "I learned my sermon by reciting it to a field of cabbage heads in the midst of which was one red one, and this practice enabled me to preach to you."

FRENCH LABOR NEWS.

Graphically Depicted in a Letter from Carl Berger, Vienna, Austria.

In earlier times very rare attempts were made in France to organize workmen in trade unions. The principal hindrance was the very low standard of the workmen; but, also national and political disputes of the workers themselves have hindered the quick development of the labor movement.

According to the latest official returns, there were in France in 1907 3,222 trade unions having together 326,512 members. The trades most largely represented were the transport, warehousing and commercial employment group, with 260,869 members; the metal trades, 103,833; the textile trade, 78,854. The membership in the mining and building trades numbered 61,194 and 66,678 respectively. The number of federations of trade unions was 157, to which were affiliated 3,675 unions with a membership of 752,962.

The progress in membership of unions in the last five years in France is shown by the following figures. On the whole it was rather slow.

Table with 2 columns: Unions Membership. Rows: 1902 (3,679), 1903 (4,173), 1904 (4,227), 1905 (4,625), 1906 (5,322).

It must be remembered that the figures above are not absolutely correct, because many organizations included in the table are not labor organizations proper.

A more earnest effort at thorough organization of the different branches should be made, as in many cases the unions are not recognized by the employers during strikes, many firms settling difficulties directly with their workmen.

During the year 1906 a great number of strikes occurred, a large proportion of which fortunately terminated in favor of the workmen. The reports show that there were 1,634 strikes and lock-outs, involving 19,657 establishments and 438,496 working people. The loss of working time amounted to 9,438,094 days. More than one-half of all strikes were caused by demands for increases of wages; 278 of the strikes ended with a complete victory for the workers; 530 were partly successful, and 817 were without success for the workmen.

The figures show that about 60 per cent of the strikes were lost. The cause of this result is not only the relatively weak organizations, but generally adverse conditions contributed to it.

The necessity for conciliation in France is clearly shown by the numerous strikes, but the conviction that conciliation has done much to the advantage of employers and employees, is not so prevailing among the population in that country as it should be.

In France a law is in force providing a practicable medium to settle differences among the employers and employees, but in a considerable percentage of cases the offer of mediation is refused, mostly on the part of the employers.

Where conciliation committees are formed by consent of both sides, however, a successful settlement is reached in a large portion of cases.

The French workmen are in need of powerful trade unions for the improvement of their labor conditions. Therefore, a campaign of an educational nature must be started among unorganized working people to gain them for the labor movement, so that also in France something more than hitherto accomplished may be reached.—Granite Cutters' Journal.

The boys will be stationed on the stairways. The large outer doors have been altered so that they now swing both ways.

Marked improvement in spelling is noted in the high school at Brattleboro as the result of lessons instituted by Principal E. B. Smith. At the beginning of the term 50 words from a newspaper were given 126 students and only six spelled all correctly. Later 34 spelled a similar list correctly. The report has spread to the grades.

Dr. L. P. Sprague, milk inspector at the state laboratory of hygiene in Burlington, has been appointed as collaborating chemist in the bureau of chemistry United States department of agriculture. His work will be on food and laboratory there by government inspectors.

Officers of the Bennington free library feel that the increased appropriation of $500 voted by the town is well justified by the large increase in the number of books drawn the past year. It amounted to 12,760, an increase of 2,563 over the largest number in any previous year. As many as 100 books have been taken out in a single day. The library now has 6,531 volumes.

The Winsoski library trustees have been busy the past week cataloging the books and preparing to open the library to the public. The rooms in the new Tobey & Lockwood block are centrally located, well ventilated, lighted and heated, and make very pleasant quarters for the books.

DRUNK, STOLE COAT.

Charlie O'Day Had His Troubles in Burlington Court.

Burlington, March 18.—Charlie O'Day, who distinguished himself Sunday night by getting drunk and stealing a fur coat from William Sargent of Huntington, who was sleeping in a room at the residence of Deatur Francis, was taken into city court yesterday. To the charge of being drunk, he pleaded guilty. Having qualified as an "habitual," he was obliged to disclose, whereupon he told what appeared to the court to be a cock and bull story. He said he fell in with two strangers Sunday evening and they (the strangers) bought various half pints of whiskey, of which he took enough to get very drunk. They were together a long time, but O'Day did not get their names. The only way he could identify them was they were dressed in black. The court sent O'Day back to think some more.

O'Day was then arraigned on the charge of stealing Sargent's coat. To this he pleaded guilty and the court sentenced him to serve not less than 30 or more than 40 days at the house of correction. O'Day told the coat after he stole it to Jack Powers, who has returned it to its owner.

L. P. Levesque was arraigned yesterday on the charge of violating the liquor law. He pleaded guilty and was fined $350 and costs, which he paid. Part of the state's evidence in the case was based upon a recent successful search by Sheriff Allen at the Revere House on Battery street, which is run by Levesque. The sheriff secured a big jug of whiskey, which was found beside a case of bottles.

HIGH PRICES FOR SUGAR.

A Little Syrup Made in Stowe—Waiting For Warmer Weather.

Stowe, March 18.—Maple sugar makers are ready to tap their orchards as soon as the cold weather modifies. A little syrup has been made, one lot of ten gallons having been secured from 300 trees, which sold for $1.25 a gallon. Some farmers think a good run was lost by not tapping last week. One local sugar maker has contracted a larger amount than it is probable he can produce at 15 cents a pound. Prices are likely to be high this year.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpelide Is in Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigorators may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate dandruff and stop falling hair? No, they do not, but Herpelide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpelide stands the "test of use." It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.
