David J. Foster will have his day in Burlington April 28, next—that is, provided someone doesn't kick over the program.

The net earnings of the Rutland railroad showed a fair increase last year. Not all railroads went to the dogs during the depression.

A quarter century wait for the return of her husband, who said he was going to visit a neighbor, ought to be sufficient grounds for a divorce. And it was in Chittenden county court this week.

The name of Billings in Vermont is connected with beneficent deeds. And now Mrs. Frederick Billings of Woodstock has given $5,000 toward rebuilding the Kurn Hattin house for boys at Westminster.

In spite of Congressman Littlefield's statement that it's too expensive a life in Congress, there are seven men who have already publicly stated that they are willing to stand the strain for a time. And it is said that there may be one or two more candidates before the animating convention which comes in the month of May, subject to the call of Governor Cobb. Some men always were self-sacrificing.

CUTTING OUT THE "SWAG"

The distribution of $300,000 among the three receivers and their three counsel in the Knickerbocker Trust company affairs may prove to be the straw that broke the back of that law which permits such remarkable liberality. The New York press is getting aroused to what is considered an injustice. The New York Globe does not doubt that Justice Clark was within the law and precedent in making the distribution of so much money, but declares that it is a sorry spectacle. The Globe does not mince matters at all, when it says: "The term 'swag' suggests itself at once to the mind, but the law has so deodorized, trimmed, and perfumed it that we own it must be described for the time being by the more respectable term 'compensation'." The receivers, according to this formula, have been "paid" not given a division of the spoils. If the receivership had resulted in the common—almost customary—liquidation and winding up, how much greater fortunes would have been made by this simple act of transferring them from the pockets of Mr. A and Mr. B to the pockets of Mr. Y and Mr. Z? Receivers of what? Of another man's loss and their own colossal gain!

A bill is before the New York assembly with a purpose to prevent the placing of state banks in the hands of receivers when they get into difficulty, but proposes to turn them over to the state superintendent of banks and his deputies. In view of recent developments it ought to pass.

DRUGGISTS' LICENSES.

Several no-license communities in Vermont—Montpelier and Hardwick, for instance—may be supplied with licenses of the fifth class since applications have been made by regularly established druggists. There is no good reason for the selectmen or the city council to refuse this sort of a privilege, provided it is applied for by the right parties. The same applies to Barre City, where next May goes under the no-license regime. There should be some place in this city the coming year where liquor for medicinal purposes can be procured. The law provides that this sort of a license shall be entrusted to only a retail druggist who is a registered pharmacist, thus tending to prevent the springing up of mushroom drug stores for the very purpose of selling liquor. The druggist who cares to apply for a license is required to furnish a bond for $1,000, signed by three sureties. The signers of this bond become responsible for the amount they subscribed in case of a third conviction of illegal selling by the druggist. Sales of liquor are not permitted unless the purchaser presents a written, not printed, application from a legally qualified physician. The fifth class license is hedged about with a considerable number of limitations. One or two licenses, rightly conducted, ought to find place in communities of the size of Barre, Montpelier and Hardwick. Perhaps little thought has been given to this matter in Barre because of the fact that the regime of license is still in operation and the probable conditions for the next year have not been considered. Still, there ought to be some move for granting a fifth class license.

Republican State Committee for State Convention in Burlington.

The Republican state committee of Vermont today issued a call for a Republican state convention to be held at Burlington Wednesday, April 29, at 1:30 p. m. for the purpose of electing four delegates at large and four alternates to attend the Republican national convention in Chicago on Tuesday, June 10, which will nominate candidates for president and vice-president.

The committee issues the following instructions: "Cities and towns will be represented in said convention by delegates, elected on the basis of one delegate for each city and town, and one additional delegate for each one hundred votes and each fraction of one hundred votes exceeding fifty, cast for the Republican candidate for governor at the state election in 1904."

"Delegates must be chosen at primary meetings called by the Republican committee of each city and town, and should provide themselves with proper credentials, duly attested by the secretary of the respective primary meetings at which they are elected, and present the same to the Republican state committee (which is constituted the committee on credentials), at its headquarters at the Van Ness house, immediately on their arrival at Burlington. A duplicate copy of the credentials should be mailed to the secretary of this committee at Newport, Vermont, immediately after the primary meeting, to aid in expediting the work of making up the roll of the convention.

"The primary meetings should be held in each city and town, Saturday, April 18th, A. D. 1908.

"The courtesy of reduction in fare will be extended by the several railroad companies in the state. Definite information will be given in relation thereto, upon the blank credentials set to each town committee."

SHOWED INCREASE.

Rutland Railroads Report For The Year 1907 is Published. Rutland, March 28.—The annual report of the board of directors of the Rutland railroad company for the year ending December 31, 1907, has been made public. It contains a detailed statement of the rolling stock, other resources and general finances of the road but the part which will be of most interest to the public is the summary of the financial operations affecting the income.

The earnings from operating the 468.31 miles during 1907 amounted to $3,059,087.15. This is an increase of $25,837.66 over 1906. The expenses of operation for the year were 71.05 per cent. of the whole expense or $2,173,979.33, an increase of $225,779.40 over the previous year. There was spent for new construction during 1907 $1,508,500 and for new equipment $1,311,778. This makes the net earnings for the 12 months $850,739.05, which is an increase of $19,673.48 over 1906. The road had other income in the way of dividends on stocks and interest aggregating $49,141.16, making the gross income $899,950.21. The balance sheet shows $924,199.03 to the credit of the road December 31 last. The surplus for the year was $7,367.74. Charles Blackett, who shot a 300 pound black bear in Sherburne, sold the handsome skin and head to E. V. Frasee and the latter has it on exhibition in Woodstock.

CURRENT COMMENT. AN OUTSIDE VIEW. Of the Granite Tie-up in Barre—What Barre Granite is Losing. The granite quarry owners at Barre who have shut down their pumps and allowed their quarries to fill with water apparently see no prospect of an early settlement of the granite workers' strike. Barre has of late years had the cream of the monumental trade in this country, but if this strike is of long duration, she will lose ground that it will take several years to regain. A certain number of granite monuments are sold every year, and if Barre granite cannot be obtained, they will be built of some other stone. If we remember aright, it was during a strike at Quincy, Mass., that Barre granite first came to the front. It would be strange if the Quincy strike should be settled first this time and things should be reversed. Quincy granite has always been considered better than the Barre stone for polished work, but until quite recently it cost the retailer from ten to fifteen per cent. more. Lately, however, the Quincy manufacturers have been duplicating, and in some cases beating, Barre parties. This, combined with a slight advantage in freight rates, has already helped Quincy to a great extent. The Scotch and Swedish red granites have also become very popular in this country for polished work. The monuments are finished in and about Aberdeen, Scotland, and in spite of the tariff, they cost little more in America than monuments made of Barre or Quincy stock. An excellent red granite is being quarried and made into monuments in Missouri and the Wisconsin and Oklahoma reds are well known to the trade. For axed or "all cut" work, Barre granite equals the stones named above, but it has many rivals in this field also. The Westerly, R. I., granite is the best in the world for axed or carved work, but it is very expensive. Millford, N. H., produces a granite which closely resembles the Westerly, but costs less in the rough than Barre. It is often sold for Westerly by unscrupulous dealers. The Barre stone is undoubtedly excellent, sound and uniform, and it can be obtained in almost unlimited quantities, but it may be well for Barre not to let the trade find out too much about other granites. The strike has already dealt Barre a blow from which she will not recover this year.—Rutland News. Base Ball Scores. At Columbia, S. C.—Buffalo (Eastern) 5; Columbia (South Atlantic) 3.
