FINAL GUILD BULLETIN. Question Now of Gaining Strength, Not of Fighting Disease. Boston, April 27.—The following statement was given out Saturday night by Frank L. Duggan, secretary to Gov. Curtis Guild: "The rapid progress made by the Guild during the past week makes it possible to issue what may be regarded as a final bulletin on its condition. When the governor was first taken ill, he treated his illness lightly, supposing it an attack of the grippe, and a lameness which developed in his ankle was regarded as a recurrence of pain in an old sprain. The physician, however, when called saw that the governor really had acute rheumatic fever, caused by overwork. The governor's own strength, vitality and determination to live have been of great assistance to the physician in treating this case. During the past week he has forsaken a liquid diet for solid food. He now sits up in a chair for a considerable part of each day. Future developments are a question of returning strength rather than of repelling disease. The governor has already seen the lieutenant-governor, the attorney-general and his private secretary, and Dr. Winslow said yesterday: 'I can say quite confidently that the governor is improving rapidly. I see no reason why he cannot take up his duties as the State House in a few weeks and then lead an active political life.'"

WHOLE TOWN THREATENED. Fires in Seven Buildings at Rumney, N. H., Fought Out By Citizens. Plymouth, N. H., April 25.—The village of Rumney in the vicinity of Rumney depot came very near being destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The "straw place," so-called, owned by George C. Craig, and occupied by Ira O. Heath and Bert Reed, caught fire from some unknown cause and in less than an hour the premises consisting of house, l and barn with most of their contents were totally destroyed. Sparks from this fire set fire to six other houses nearby, including the general store owned by George C. Craig. The townspeople turned out to aid in suppressing the fire and with the help of a hand tub, the only protection the town has from fire, and the fire brigade these houses were saved. The loss by fire is $1,500 on the premises destroyed and $200 loss on furniture with a partial insurance.

Dr. Winslow Saturday night stated that he could not positively predict whether the governor would be able to attend the conference of governors with the president in Washington the middle of May, but said that he thought it doubtful if Gov. Guild could undertake such a journey so soon.

Released from Jail. R. W. Taft Effects Settlement With Divorced Wife. Burlington, April 25.—An adjustment of the affairs of R. W. Taft and his divorced wife, Mrs. Winona B. Taft, was reached yesterday, privately, and ratified by Franklin county court and Mr. Taft was released from Chittenden county jail shortly after noon, when the settlement was received from the clerk of Franklin county court, certifying that he had been purged of contempt. The settlement is practically according to the terms offered by Mr. Taft some months ago and recently. The slender and belted suits brought by Mr. Taft against C. C. and F. G. Gillette are not to be discontinued and his right to petition for a new trial is not in any way limited. Mrs. Taft receives the house at 92 Grant street, this city, in full settlement for all money, past and present.

ABOUT THE STATE. Aside from a flock of wild geese which flew north last week, birds seen at St. Johnsbury included golden crowned kinglet, hermit thrush, Savannah sparrow and white-throated sparrow. According to Thomas Gentry, caretaker of the Rutland County club grounds, hounds are running deer every day on Pine Hill. He frequently sees the animal in the open near the clubhouse with dogs close behind.

R. W. Bishop, patent attorney, of Washington, D. C., reports the issue of the following patents to residents of Vermont: Foot-warmer, Mary E. Walden; hair-trap, J. E. Thiel; wire of Fair Haven, assignor of one-half to William Thielville of Upper Troy, N. Y.

Harrison Thayer, son of editor L. P. Thayer of Essex Junction, is in Washington, D. C., filling the position of assistant doorkeeper at the House of Representatives, having succeeded in that place Charles Black of Burlington, who has been promoted to the messengership of Senator John W. Stewart's committee.

Edward Manley of Tyson recently shot a three-legged buck deer, one leg undoubtedly having been shot off by some sportsman during the deer season, as the wounded knee joint had healed up near the knee joint. Mr. Manley was ordered to kill the deer and ship it to Ludlow to Game Warden Wilcox, who disposed of it at a local market for poultry food.

The joint debate between the freshmen of Norwich university, Northfield, and Middlebury college will take place in the opera house at Middlebury the evening of May 15. The subject will be, "Resolved, that United States senators should be chosen by direct vote of the people." The Middlebury contestants will be John M. Avery of Middlebury, Woodbury P. Harris of Vergennes and Edwin B. Sunderland of West Cornwall.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Barrett are on their way to Portuguese East Africa, where Mr. Barrett has charge of the establishment of an agricultural experiment station. Mr. and Mrs. Barrett are both graduates of the university of Vermont, Burlington, and it was at this institution that they first met. Mr. Barrett receives from the Portuguese government $10,000 for two years' work and also his expenses. Mrs. Barrett is a granddaughter of Merrill A. Owen of Bethel.

The following is the closing paragraph from the report of the result of his recent inspection of the battalion and band, made by Major Les T. Tibbitts of St. Albans, commanding the third battalion of the First Regiment, Vermont National Guard, to Adjutant-General W. H. Gilmore: "For the band I have nothing but commendation. Its property and equipment is in excellent condition, and its ability from a musical standpoint cannot be questioned, and in my opinion is not exceeded by any other organization in our state or this section of the country."

A calf owned by Henry W. Dutton of Royalton died under very peculiar circumstances a few days ago. The calf was about two months old and had been kept in the barn behind the cows, and Mr. Dutton is firm in the belief that no dog had ever had an access to get at it. About an hour after leaving the calf in apparently good health, Mr. Dutton heard a bleating in the barn and upon investigation found the animal had broken its strap and was free in the barn. It was acting in a crazy manner, running around, butting its head against the walls, and trying to climb the side of the building. The calf was driven to the barnyard, where it soon after died. The symptoms were like those of the rabies.
