

FOUGHT HARD FOR HIS LIFE

Peter Murphy Lacerated Swimming Companion's Arm IN HIS FRANTIC EFFORTS

A Bellows Falls Young Man Tried to Swim Across the Connecticut River, When He Was Seized With Cramp.

Bellows Falls, June 10.—Peter Murphy, age 19, a Vermont Farm Machine company employe, was drowned last evening. He and a companion were attempting to swim across the river at a point about 500 yards below the rapids, when Murphy was taken with cramp and went down.

AWAITING A WORD FROM WASHINGTON

To Complete the Republican National Ticket—Considerable Agitation Over Labor Matters.

Chicago, June 15.—"They are the most nervous lot of sure thing men I ever saw," said an ally leader today, apropos of the Taft managers. Notwithstanding that they claim more than seven hundred votes, as assured on the first ballot, the Taftites are riding as careful a race as if they expected a neck and neck finish. Everywhere it is conceded that the vice-presidential question will probably be settled by minute of long distance conversation with Washington. All efforts to lay the ghost of the third term proposition have up to this evening failed.

Next in interest today is the fight over the anti-injunction plank. Speaker Cannon is conferring in a bunch of "stalwarts" upon which is the task of preventing the insertion of any such section in the platform. It is reported that Gompers will go personally before the platform committee if necessary.

The situation arising from dissatisfaction of colored voters is becoming more pronounced. The executive council of the American Federation of Labor today completed a draft of the planks desired in the Republican platform. It will be presented to the committee on resolutions as soon as the members shall have been selected to-morrow.

Paul Morton appeared on the scene today and reinforced Cannon in his fight against the anti-injunction fight. He also set about working up sentiment against any movement that would commit the party to further attacks on railroad interests.

The Massachusetts delegation today adopted a resolution endorsing Governor Guild for the vice-presidency.

BACK TO WORK.

Governor Guild Has Been Away for Three Months.

Boston, June 15.—Governor Guild returned to his chair in the executive chamber today after three months' illness and convalescence.

BOSTON POLICEMAN KILLED HIMSELF

Albert E. Knight Was About to Start From Belfast, Me., to Resume His Work.

Belfast, Me., June 15.—Four hours before the time for the departure of the train that was to take him back to Boston at the close of two weeks' vacation, Albert E. Knight, age 35, a member of the Boston police force, committed suicide today by shooting himself through the head at the home of his parents. He had been in ill health for the past year.

IN HIS BEST CLOTHES.

Bristol, N. H., Man Went Out and Shot Himself.

Bristol, N. H., June 15.—The body of Alfred H. Heath was found about noon yesterday by Frank S. Kirk and a Murphy boy on the Otis Sarnon farm on the east slope of Bristol peak in thick bushes with a bullet through his head.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning the fire alarm was sounded by order of the selectmen, and as the people gathered at Central square, searching parties were organized and sent into the woods on Bristol peak to search for him. Mr. Heath had been moody and taciturn for some days, and Friday morning shaved himself and put on his best clothes, took his shotgun and started towards his pasture on the slope of the peak.

After having traveled about a mile he deposited a letter in the rural delivery mail box of a neighbor, addressed to his wife, saying that there was no use to hunt for him, as he should be beyond his trouble when she got the letter, and that he could not be found.

A large number of men from Bristol and also from New Hampshire had been searching the woods.

Mr. Heath was a prosperous farmer, 45 years old, and had a wife and children. Several years ago he attempted violence to his family and shot himself. The ball, though passing near the heart, did not prove fatal. His father committed suicide four years ago.

FELLED THE JAILER.

Willie Green Had Intended Then to Make Jail Delivery.

Dover, Me., June 15.—His skull fractured by blows from a slugsheet in the hands of a prisoner, Sheriff James M. Knowles of Piscataquis county is in a critical condition at the jail residence here. Sheriff Knowles was making round of the jail Saturday night when one of the prisoners, Willie Green, felled him with a slugsheet as he was passing Green's cell. The action of another prisoner, Harry Lavershire, a trusty, in running to the sheriff's assistance promptly, is believed to have prevented an attempted jail delivery.

Green rained four blows with the slugsheet upon the sheriff's head and only desisted when Lavershire appeared and drew the unconscious form of the official out of range of the prisoner's blows. Green struck the sheriff by reaching through the bars of his cell. According to a confession he is said to have made, his plan was to rife the locks of the sheriff's cell after tussling him, secure his keys and effect escape not only for himself but of other prisoners.

Green said that several other prisoners were in the conspiracy and that he had been delegated to "fix the sheriff." A physician who happened to be in the jail in attendance upon a sick prisoner hastened to the assistance of Sheriff Knowles. The sheriff was found to be suffering from a fracture of the skull. His condition is regarded as dangerous.

Willie Green is 17 years old and was being held for the grand jury on charges of breaking and entering and larceny.

At Least So He Told The Burlington Police.

He has been in the hands of the probation officer but will now go to Burlington. Joseph Millet, Frank O'Connell, Harry Foote, Edward Dunas, Charles Savage and James Sanderson, all of Burlington, were arrested, charged with intoxication. William Pasha was arrested for breach of the peace and Daniel Jensen of Barre was given a lodging for the night. The latter told the police that he had been robbed.

BOLT OF LIGHTNING MAKES GREAT LOSS

Entire Electric Service in St. Albans Out of Order by Burning of a Sub-station Last Night.

St. Albans, June 15.—As the result of the burning of a sub-station of the Vermont Power and Manufacturing company last night, the electric service of the entire city has been suspended, and it is a problem when the service will be resumed. It may be Thursday, or it may not be for a week or ten days. The Messenger company was crippled, and the hand-setting of type has been resorted to. Gas engines are being rigged up and it is hoped to run off today's issues of the newspaper late today.

The sub-station was struck by lightning and destroyed during last evening's shower. Four transformers were damaged and two switch-boards were destroyed. Fifteen telephone lines through the city were rendered useless, but the long-distance phones were not damaged.

BURGLARS GET ONLY $7.33.

Pled From Grocery Store in Brattleboro When Discovered.

Brattleboro, June 15.—Burglars tapped the cash register in Horace S. Goodenough's grocery store on Elliot street early Sunday morning and made an attempt to rob the safe. They were seen and they fled as soon as they were discovered. Peter Devo and John W. Howe, going home, saw two men pointing at the safe in the door in the office at the rear of the store.

The burglars reached through a cut hole and unfastened the basement door. They took $7.55 from the cash register and two boxes of cigars from the show case and placed the latter on the counter as they tackled the safe with tools found in the store. They left the cigars when they fled. There was more than $100 in the safe.

BACKED DOWN HILL.

Auto Got Part Wya Up and Then Started Back Again.

Northfield, June 15.—An automobile driven by two men met with a mishap on the road to East Randolph yesterday, the machine starting down a steep hill backwards. One of the male occupants jumped and the other stuck by the machine and went over a wall, but was not hurt. One of the men was said to be George Mann of Barre.

WAS GETTING HIS MONEY

Was Explanation of Man Arrested in Strange House

AT WEST BARNET, VERMONT

Eugene Guy Shaw Had Overtured Safe in Miss Josephine Brock's House and Broken Off the Combination Knob When Caught.

St. Johnsbury, June 15.—Eugene Guy Shaw is in the county jail here today waiting trial on the charge of malicious injury to personal property, a warrant having been sworn out by State Attorney Hill and the man having been arrested Saturday.

On Friday the house of Miss Josephine Brock in West Barnet was entered while the owner was out and the intruder made a start toward getting into the small safe in the house when he was discovered by some children of the neighbors. He had overturned the safe and had broken off the combination knob when surprised and forced to flee. The fellow was arrested shortly afterwards and when questioned about his actions he said that he was after some of his own property that was in the safe. Miss Brock knows of no papers of his in her safe.

The man is Eugene Guy Shaw of Last Branch, aged 37 years. He was up in justice court in McIndoes earlier in the week on the charge of intoxication and at that time he paid Justice Gilechrist $15 and costs. It is said that he was intoxicated last Friday when he was caught trying to break into Miss Brock's safe.

WERE DOING STUNTS.

Harry Bushman Badly Hurt While Playing Today.

Harry Bushman, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bushman of 38 Keith avenue, met with an accident, which may have caused a serious injury, last before noon today. The little fellow was playing with the son of a neighbor nearby and, boy fashion, the two boys were trying to see which could climb the farther up the post of the piazza.

The Bushman boy had nearly reached the top of the post when he became dizzy and, losing his hold, fell to the ground. His head struck on some hard object and he was badly bruised, and it is feared that he is otherwise injured, as he is unable to raise himself from the pillow without fainting.

CORRY ANNOUNCES HIMSELF.

Wants to Be Montpelier's Choice for State Senator.

Frank M. Corry of Montpelier announced today that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for senator from Washington county. Others who have been mentioned in Montpelier are H. W. Kemp, G. W. Wing, George O. Stratton, E. M. Harvey and James M. Boutwell, but none of these last is generally conceded throughout the county that Montpelier is to have one of the state senators this year, but the indications are that there may be a contest for the choice.

SPALDING WON VICTORY.

Defeated Montpelier High School 7 to 5, Saturday at Montpelier.

Spaulding high school gave a surprise party to Montpelier high school on the Montpelier seminary diamond Saturday afternoon, the score being 7 to 5 in favor of Spaulding. The Montpelier boys went into the game with the expectation of winning but played a loose game in the field and could not hit Fisher after he got settled down.

Buck started the game as if Montpelier was an easy winner, rapping the ball to College street for a circuit of the bases. That seemed to settle Fisher's nerve, and he grew better as the game progressed, backed up by some able fielding by his team-mates. Laird pitched a fairly good game for Montpelier.

MARCHED TO CHURCH.

Knights of Pythias Were Told About Friendship, Charity and Benevolence.

Fully 75 Knights of Pythias attended the memorial service at the first Baptist church last evening when the organization was addressed in an able manner by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Braisted. Mr. Braisted welcomed the members of the order in behalf of the church and said that he was glad that, although not a religious organization, the Knights of Pythias recognized God and believed in temperance.

He said he wished to speak to the members of the organization as men and spoke of the different kinds of men. No man is obliged to live upon a low plane. The dull routine of a common life requires more heroism than to battle the manner in which a man conducts himself tells what kind of a man he is.

In speaking of the principles of the order—friendship, charity and benevolence—the speaker said that friendship was not an absolute term and one that defines many things, and is one of the principal terms of fraternal organizations. The noblest friendship of all is that that seeks the opposite, a person who needs help, that helps that person up to the level of one's self. In speaking of charity Mr. Braisted said that it should not be a matter of sentiment but must have intelligence. We shall need charity of one kind or another sooner or later.

Any human organization at its best needs something more, many have been good but have not reached their best. The perfect combination for the good is Brotherhood and Christhood.

PRaised FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Rev. W. J. M. Beattie Spoke Before Manchester Unity, Odd Fellows.

The 7 o'clock evening service at the Church of the Good Shepherd yesterday was devoted to a memorial service of the Manchester Unity, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and the ladies connected with that order. Sixteen men and ten ladies marched in a body from their hall to the church.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. W. J. M. Beattie, preached an interesting and inspiring sermon from the text "Go Thou and Do Likewise," St. Luke, 10th chapter, 37th verse. Fraternal organizations, the speaker said, are capable of doing great good and the chief object is, and should be, to help to alleviate the suffering of fellowmen. These coming times in the life of every man when, no matter how strong and independent he may be, he needs and must have the help and fellowship of someone.

The fraternal societies, he said, are not a religion, but they are religious orders. The speaker cited the fact that the present King of England was a prominent member of several fraternal organizations, and that other great men in the world's history belong to fraternal orders, because of the good they have done in the world. Some churches might take a lesson from the fraternal societies and follow out some of the teachings thereon.

In closing his sermon, the speaker expressed the hope that fraternal organizations would continue to grow and flourish, but that the basic principle of brotherly love and the administration to the needy should not be forgotten.

GOOD WORK OF ORDER.

Told About By Rev. A. J. Hough Before Odd Fellows.

In accordance with established custom, Hiawatha lodge of Odd Fellows and Bright Star Rebekah lodge held their annual memorial service at Odd Fellows' hall in the Gordon block at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. About a hundred Odd Fellows and Rebekahs were present and all listened with deep appreciation to the memorial address which was delivered by Rev. A. J. Hough of Montpelier, himself an Odd Fellow of many years standing.

Mr. Hough said in part "Very few people outside of the order know the good work that the Odd Fellows are doing. The lodge is today the greatest home missionary society in the world, greater than any church in the benevolent work and gets performed. A member of the lodge is like the man I have for me to live the best lives, and although we are going away we are coming back again in memory as our brothers and sisters are coming back today. We should not lose sight of the faculty of memory, through this, the most comes back.

One man is as good as another, no matter whether he is rich or poor, and I honor the Odd Fellows that they take men according to their character and not according to their purse. We should all strive to do something as we are coming back in memory."

During the services two vocal selections, "The New Born King" and "One Swooningly Thought" were given by William Robertson. Miss Mary Owens acted as pianist.

SPiritualISTS CLOSE

After a Successful Convention Held in This City.

The semi-annual convention of the Vermont State Spiritualist association, which has been in session at Hale's pavilion for the past three days, was well attended at the closing meetings, which were held yesterday. Three sessions were held during the day.

At the morning session, which was held at 10:30, an address was delivered by A. E. Hubbard of Tyson, at the conclusion of which spirit messages were delivered by Mrs. Elsie Chapman, Rev. F. A. Wiggins of Barre addressed the company in the afternoon and at the conclusion of the afternoon and evening sessions.

The hall was filled to its capacity at the evening session, when an interesting address was delivered by Rev. F. A. Wiggins. At the conclusion of the address a séance was held, at which Mrs. Elsie L. Chapman was the medium through which the spirit messages were received.

'08 SENIORS HEAR SERMON

Baccalaureate at Universalist Church Yesterday

BY REV. W. H. DEARBORN

Faculty, Juniors, and Then the Seniors Marched Into Church Auditorium to Listen to Parting Words of Admonition—Many Present.

Bright sunny weather yesterday ushered in the thirty-ninth commencement week of Goddard seminary. The annual baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of 1908 was delivered yesterday morning at the Universalist church by the Rev. W. H. Dearborn, D. D., of Boston. The front seats in the church were reserved for the members of the junior class, the faculty and the graduates, who marched into the church in separate bodies in the above-named order. The congregation filled all of the remaining seats to their capacity.

Four members of the junior class acted as ushers, Henry Harrison, George Wellman, Herbert Dean and John Knight. The front of the altar was prettily decorated with daisies. The musical part of the service, rendered by the regular choir of the church, assisted by Mrs. Sheldon of Montpelier, violinist, was very enjoyable.

The order of the service was as follows: organ prelude, Miss Leary; anthem, "O Lord, Thou Art Great," Buck, quartette and violin; invocation and responsive reading, led by the Rev. C. C. Conner; anthem, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," Schnecker, quartette and violin; scripture reading and prayer, Rev. W. H. Dearborn; response, "Al! These Things," Hanson, quartette; vocal solo, with violin obligato, "O Saviour, Hear Me," Ginn, Mrs. M. D. Lamb; hymn; benediction; postlude, Melody in F, Rubenstein.

Dr. Dearborn gave a thoroughly instructive and interesting sermon, drawing his lesson from the text, Philip. 1st chapter, 13th verse, "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." "Brethren," he said, "should allow himself to be measured wholly by his past. Life is before us all. We are all aspirants for knowledge and results. We are always noticing the changes in the order of nature. With the winter we look forward to the spring and that we have done in the past, but holds more than changes they present. Our interests in this world are never stagnant. We are all like the little child who builds a temple or house with his blocks only to knock it over and build it up again after a momentary glance of satisfaction at its completion. The ambitious man of the century after a little become commonplace and we become interested only in their uses.

"Forgetting the things of the past we are pressing on to the things that are before, never allowing ourselves to be measured by anything that we have done in the past, but holds more than changes they present. Our interests in this world are never stagnant. We are all like the little child who builds a temple or house with his blocks only to knock it over and build it up again after a momentary glance of satisfaction at its completion. The ambitious man of the century after a little become commonplace and we become interested only in their uses.

To the graduates, he said: "You are about to go forth from a school that has been a strength to you and has become dear to you. You will go with both sadness and joy—joy, perhaps, at the idea of the liberty that it brings to you that you may be able to work your way according to your own ideas. I know not in what way your ambitions will be directed, but I want to say to you that it will be well to realize right here now that the chief business of life is right living; living the pure, simple, truthful, honest life. The great teacher of life is always at your call. Remember that you can live with a consciousness that the future holds more than the past. The future is a new day. May God bless it to you."

ALUMNI DAY TO-MORROW.

The class day exercises of '08 are being held this afternoon at the school chapel, and in the evening the recital of the music department will be given at eight o'clock. Alumni day comes to-morrow, with prize speaking in the evening at the opera house. The graduating exercises will be held Wednesday forenoon at the school.

BOTH THROWN OUT.

Runaway Accident in Montpelier Saturday Evening.

A runaway horse caused considerable excitement in Montpelier Saturday night when a horse owned by Mrs. J. C. Warren and driven by Harry Goodell became frightened on Main street and bolted. Mr. Goodell attempted to rein the animal into Haymarket square, but bit the iron hitching-rail with one wheel. The wagon was literally torn to pieces and Mr. Goodell and a fifteen-year-old boy, William Byron, who was riding with him, were thrown out. Both were badly injured and it was at first thought that the boy was seriously injured. Doctors were summoned, and after they both were able to go home.

LORD—OWEN.

Wedding Saturday Night at Home of Bride in South Barre.

A very pretty June wedding was held Saturday evening at the home of Fred S. Owen of South Barre when Grace M. Owen, daughter of Mrs. Ella S. Owen was united in marriage to Fred E. Lord of Orange, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lord, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. A. Poole of this city. The bride was attired in a dainty gown of white batiste. The bridesmaids, Miss Lona Owen and Miss Beulah Boyce, cousins of the bride, were daintily attired in gowns of white. Gordon Owen, brother of the bride, and Amos Lord, brother of the groom, acted as attendants for the groom.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Leon Lord, sister of the bride. The immediate friends and the relatives were present and wished them a happy, honored and prosperous life. Punch and cake was served by the bridesmaids. The wedding presents, which were many and valuable, were presented by Frank Hancock.

The happy couple left on the midnight train for a week's visit in Boston. On their return they will reside in Orange. The bride is a very popular young lady of South Barre and has many intimate friends. The groom is a well-known young man and has been employed as fireman for the past year at the quarry of Boutwell, Milne and Varnum.

COMBINATION OF EVENTS

Brought Two Men Into City Court—They Pleaded Guilty.

A base ball game, a barrel of beer and a room rent bill was a combination of events that took place, one after the other, Saturday afternoon, in which George W. Donnelly and Walter Moran were mixed up in, with the result that both fell into the hands of Deputy Sheriff Slayton and were held into court on the charges of breach of the peace. The story goes that Donnelly and Moran (or Morgan) played ball in a stone shed base ball team for a barrel of beer. After the game and the beer had quickly disappeared from the dusty throats of the players, Morgan and Donnelly remembered that they had had trouble over a room rent bill.

They were seriously engaged in settling the bill with their detty on Burnham's meadow when Sheriff Slayton happened along. He took Moran to the police station and brought him before Judge Scott Saturday evening on the charge of breach of the peace. Moran pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $5, with costs of $5.40. Donnelly was arraigned in court this morning and pleading guilty to the same offense paid $5 with costs of $5.20.

Eli Bertrand, the young man who was engaged in a scrap with Joe Bennett last Friday night on River street when Officer Clark arrested him, was arraigned in the city court Saturday morning on the charge of disturbing the peace. Eli said he was guilty and it cost him $10.20.

Arthur Castle pleaded guilty in court this morning to a first offense of intoxication and paid a fine of $5 with costs of $7.80. He was arrested Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff H. J. Slayton.

TWO RESPONDENTS

Faced Judge in Montpelier City Court Today.

Two respondents were in Montpelier city court today. John McCarthy, a bridge-builder from New York, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Hastings of Middlebury Saturday night. He was assessed $24.00, or 75 days, something over which he was very indignant. Wilbur Wilson of Calais was gathered in by Chief Durkee of the Montpelier police. He was assessed $22.70, but it doesn't appear likely that he will pay, so it means 32 days for him.

A DAY OF JOY

It Was for the Glengie Club at Pretty Caledonia Park.

The members of the Glengie club held their annual picnic at Caledonia park on Saturday afternoon, and a more perfect summer day never greeted a company on an outing. So it is needless to say that no happier gathering was ever held by this club. hilarity, sociability and enjoyment rigned supreme; care was forgotten; the everyday worries were left behind.

Outdoor sports of many kinds were held. A base ball team between teams captained by John Marr and James Mortimer was won by Mortimer's team by the score of 5 to 1. A foot ball game, with James Mortimer and J. K. Erie as captains, was won by Mortimer's men, 3 to 0. Boys, girls and children's races were eagerly contested. Your representative would be pleased to record the feats of hammer throwing and other kindred sports, but the diffidence of the participants precludes such mention.

Angus' orchestra kept the pavilion filled with merry dancers, while out on the spreading maples they sat, lolled, chatted and sung, or beside the well-filled table they refreshed the inner man.

If the members of this club in their youthful days learned to enjoy themselves amidst the haunts of nature on the banks of the winding Ugin in Scotland, they have carried that art to perfection here, and the spirit of never-grow-old.

FAREWELL TO S. H. S. '08.

Was a Delightful Affair on Saturday Evening.

The three lower classes of Spaulding high school gave a farewell reception to the senior class in the high school chapel, Saturday evening. It was largely attended by the pupils and friends of the school. The chapel was beautifully decorated with purple and white, and green and gold, the class colors of the two graduating classes. Marches and a fine program were enjoyed throughout the evening. The music was furnished by the new Harris orchestra.
