Another Ocean Record Broken.
New York, July 21.—The swift Cunard liner Lusitania has broken another record. A cable message was received here last night stating that the giant steamer had arrived in Queenstown at 11:33 o'clock. This would make her time for the eastward journey from New York five days and thirty-seven minutes, or two hours and forty-four minutes better than the record. The Lusitania held the record over this course, having made it on June 2, last, when she arrived in Queenstown in five days three hours and twenty-one minutes.

Henry W. Grady, son of Georgia's lamented statesman and journalist, Henry W. Grady, has entered politics.
Major H. O. Bisset of the United States marine corps has been placed on the retired list. Major Bisset was appointed from Maryland in February, 1899.
M. L. Turner of Oklahoma City will withdraw from the race as candidate for the United States senate, leaving a clear field for T. P. Gore, the blind orator.
Daniel S. Collier was awarded a special prize after the annual horse parade in New York. He has been driving his own team for fifty-four years and during his entire career has never struck a horse with a whip.
Melville W. Fuller, '53, chief justice of the United States supreme court, has been re-elected president of the Harvard Law association. Among the vice presidents are Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, '96, Washington; Charles J. Borah, '03, Delaware; and David T. Watson, '98, Pennsylvania.
Charles Field, who is believed to be the oldest judge in the United States now presiding, recently celebrated his ninety-third birthday by holding a session of the district court at his home in Athol, Mass. While in good health, the judge is feeble and too weak to journey to the courtroom. Judge Field in 1860 was chosen presidential elector and, with J. G. Whittier and others, cast his vote for Lincoln and Hamlin.

Improvements at Morgan Horse Farm.
A large force of men and teams has begun preparing the ground on the Morgan horse farm, which will be made into a lawn. A crushed stone road, circling the grounds, will be constructed, 1,200 feet in length and 16 feet in width. Another large gang of men is fencing in pastures to be used for the horses. J. E. Feeley & Co. of Boston have the contract for sinking an eight-inch well and work has begun. The water from this well is calculated to supply the whole premises and will be handled by the pneumatic system. W. F. Hammond says that the improvements are to be put in this season and will help to make the place one of the best of its kind in the country.

College and School.
L. Clark Seeley, who has been president of Smith college at Northampton, Mass., since it was founded in 1873, has resigned.

Electric Sparks.
Electricity has only been in use as a motive power for about twenty-five years.
The progress in telephoning without wires is indicated by the fact that conversation has been carried on across Denmark from Lyngby to another wireless telephone station at Esbjerg, 170 miles distant.
A French system for the employment of alternating instead of continuous currents, which it is claimed would permit the use of twelve instruments on a single wire and thus allow a reduction of tolls to be made, was presented recently at the International telegraph conference in Lisbon.

Even in Bedlam.
The manager of the insane asylum frowned.
"What is that woman in cell 77 howling and shrieking about?" he asked impatiently.
"She objects to her straitjacket, sir," the keeper answered.
"What's taken off, eh? Well she can't!"
"No, it isn't that, sir," the keeper interrupted. "She wants it changed for one with the fashionable sleeves that have just come in."

Mammals.
About 2,500 different kinds of animals are known on earth—that is, warm blooded, milk giving creatures, like our common domestic animals. To avoid confusion with other creatures one ought to call them mammals, meaning milk giving animals.

ABOUT THE STATE
Mr. and Mrs. John Sherry of St. Johnsbury Centre, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary Saturday, July 11, with a picnic. Their children and grandchildren were present.
Ernest L. Franklin, a well known traveling salesman, who, until a few years ago, had lived in Rutland, dropped dead Saturday morning at his summer cottage at Lake George. Mr. Franklin was in the employ of the Nannell Pump company of Buffalo, N. Y. He was 44 years old.
A horse and wagon belonging to Jay Shaw of Jericho was stolen from the shed adjoining E. L. Keith's hardware store in Essex Junction Saturday evening. Mr. Shaw and Mr. Chesmore pitched the team in the shed about nine o'clock and took an electric car to Winooski. When they returned shortly before 11 o'clock the team was gone. The animal is a chestnut mare with a white star on its forehead, weighing about 900 pounds, and about twenty years old. The heavy rain made it impossible to get any clue as to which direction was taken.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR MAYOR.
Portland Executive Grazed by Falling Plate Glass.
Portland, Me., July 21.—Mayor Leighton had a very narrow escape from being killed yesterday afternoon. With his son and Miss Adams, daughter of S. B. Adams, he went in his automobile to the building now being fitted up for Market street as a temporary city building, and inspected the progress of the work.
Just as he left the building a heavy plate glass fell from the upper story outward, and struck the automobile, breaking the fender and injuring the top. The glass grazed Mayor Leighton in its descent. No one in the automobile was hurt.

Lace Made From Hair.
The most curious lace is called point tresse. It is very rare and was made of human hair. French collectors say that it exists in the present day only in their cabinets. It was confined to the early part of the sixteenth century. Margaret, countess of Lennox, the mother of the wretched Darnley, sent from the tower, where she was imprisoned when her son, Lord Charles Lennox, married the daughter of Boss of Hardwick, a bit of this kind of lace to Mary, queen of Scots. This is a very strong proof of her belief in the queen's innocence of the guilt that had been imputed to her. The little square of point tresse was worked by the old countess' own hands from her own gray hair. It was, in fact, hair mixed with fine flax.—London Express.

Five Granite Work.
Good Progress Being Made by the Ellis Granite Co.
The large job that the E. R. Ellis Granite company of Northfield is cutting is practically finished. One part of the job was the cutting of four large eagles 7 feet 2 inches in height. These eagles are called rough work, but to the inexperienced eye they look like a fine job. They are now boxed in a completed condition ready for shipment to Washington, D. C., where they will be placed on the corners of the fine station, costing millions of dollars, which is in the course of building at the present time. The job of the Ellis company will take a year and a half to be completed. Besides the four eagles, there is a large monument 17 feet 6 inches in height representing the "Goddess of the Harvest." This will be a fine piece of work. The work is uncompleted, but enough has been done for one to get a good idea of it. On the left arm the goddess is represented as carrying a bunch of grain. A scythe is held in the left hand. At the bottom of the statue on the right is carved a goat's head. This work is being done by a cutter named Bernesoni. Six of these figures are to be made. This statue is to be placed on top of the station. Another cutter is cutting a statue representing the "God of Science."

Knave He Was Dead.
Some time after the occupation of Manila by the American forces one of the army officers was shown through the old Spanish prison in that city. He noticed a small opening through a brick wall. Upon asking its use he was told that prisoners were placed in a cell behind it and walled up alive.
"You see, sonner," said the guide, "as long as the prisoner lived his food was handed in on a plate, and he handed the empty plate back, but when he touched it, the jailer knew he was dead and didn't give him any more."

Not Listening.
She was a very little girl, but not so small that she did not recognize swearing as something very wrong or that if other people used bad language it was her place to close her ears to it. She was on the street with her mother, and as they passed a group of men talking in loud tones the passerby heard the small girl exclaim in shocked tones, "Oh, isn't that awful!" And then, as if suddenly remembering, "But I'm not listening!"—New York Times.

Unterrified.
The traveler was hurrying along the unfamiliar trail that led in the general direction of his destination, when suddenly a large abyss yawned before him.
He was not in the least perturbed. He was a lecturer, between travels, and was accustomed to have things yawn before him.—Chicago News.

"POISON SQUAD" RESULTS
Don't Use Benzoic Acid And Benzoate Soda Is Report.
Washington, D. C., July 21.—As result of the investigation conducted by Dr. H. W. Wiley with his "Poison Squad" the bureau of chemistry today issued a bulletin declaring "that in the interests of health benzoic acid and benzoate soda should be excluded from food products." The squad was given a dose from one to two grams per day all day long, and most suffered from a reduction of blood corpuscles. Nausea was of frequent occurrence.

He names the lowest figure of $100,000 at which they may be sold. The parts of the property leased to Norcross Brothers, who have the contract for furnishing the pink granite for the Pennsylvania, New York & Long Island terminal in New York City, are to continue as at present until the contract is completed. The Franklin Trust company holds a first mortgage on the property to the amount of $340,303. A receiver has charge of the affairs of the quarry company.
