A half-grown chicken avoided paying a fare on the electric car that arrived at Barre at 12:40 this afternoon. When the car made its usual stop at the junction of North Main and Washington streets, a white chicken ran from under the car. It was probably caught in attempting to cross the track, and took its free ride on the running gear of the car.

A large crowd visited the Comique last evening and enjoyed the show thoroughly, for the warm weather out-of-doors had no effect upon the atmosphere inside. A cool breeze was continually passing through the theatre. "The Gemma" and "Can't Read English" are exceedingly funny, while "Law of Honor" was a thrilling story of English society life. Many of the ladies were obliged to admit that "Just Like a Woman," while being very funny, was a truly told story.

R. B. Goff, the proprietor of the merry-go-round which has been the cause of no little trouble to the city council because of complaints by the property-owners adjoining the Tilden lot, renewed his license at the city clerk's office this forenoon. According to the instructions from the city council, the clerk issued the license for three days and notified Mr. Goff of the conditions imposed by the council that he must keep the people from congregating on the lawn of F. S. Braley and A. D. Morse.

ON A MAN-OF-WAR.

Hints to Landlubbers Who Want to Do the Proper Thing.

As you pass over the ship's side and step aboard, if you are a man touch your hat in salute to the flag. The officer of the deck, who represents the majesty of the nation while he is on watch, will return this salute.

Don't say "downstairs" or "upstairs." There are no stairs on board ship—only ladders. Say "below" or "on deck."

Looking forward—that is, toward the bow—the right hand is "starboard," the left hand "port." Everything on board ship is starboard or port, except with reference to a gun, where "right" and "left" are used as on shore, the gun being movable.

Keep clear of the starboard side of the quarter deck. The quarter deck is the after—or rear—end of the upper deck. Its starboard side is sacred territory, to be used by the admiral, the captain, the officer of the deck, other officers and men when there on duty and official visitors.

Never peep into the officers' private quarters. They are no more to be entered into than any private citizen's bedroom. They can be entered only upon invitation.

Keep your hands off the bright brass work, the polished guns and the clean paint work. Remember that jack tar has to be put in hard labor every day keeping these clean. Do not increase his work.

Do not expectorate on the decks. This warning is unnecessary to gentlemen, who do not expectorate in public anywhere.

Never dream of tipping a man who shows you about the ship. He is sufficiently rewarded by the entertainment he gives you. Men-of-war's men are not servants, and their men are a tip. The navy has pride.

Never take a lady up or down an "undressed" ladder. It is immodest for the lady. "Dressed" ladders have flags or canvas spread beneath them. "Undressed" ladders have no such screens.

Upon leaving the ship salute the flag as you come aboard.—San Francisco News Letter.

A Sufficient Reason. Brooke—Gunsen always calls a spade a spade. Lynn—That's because he lacks synonyms.—Bohemian Magazine.

Your own words and actions are the only things you will be called to account for.—A Kempis.

His Corporations. Weary Walker—Wot do youse 'tink uv me corporations, Tatters? Tired Tatters—Wot corporations? Weary Walker—Me shoes. I call them corporations because dey ain't got no noies.—Pathfinder.

Hope Still. "I can safely say that no man ever attempted to bribe me, gentlemen." Voice In the Crowd—Den't be downhearted, old chap; your luck may change.—London Telegraph.

WOMAN WAIVED.

Philomene Pasha Bound Over to United States Court.

Burlington, July 23.—The hearing of the case of Mrs. Philomene Pasha or Philomene Lamoin, charged with harboring an alien woman for immoral purposes was taken up yesterday before United States Commissioner Harry B. Shaw at the latter's office. Mrs. Lamoin's counsel, R. E. Brown, announced that she would waive examination. The respondent was then bound over to the next term of the United States courts. Her bail was fixed at the same amount as in the first proceeding—$10,000.

PORTLAND FIRM ASSIGNS.

Liaibilities of Bailey & Noyes, Book-sellers, About $115,000, with Assets of $86,000.

Portland, Me., July 23.—The assignment to Elias Thomas of Bailey & Noyes, booksellers and stationers, and one of the oldest firms in this city, was announced yesterday. The liabilities are stated to be $115,000 and the assets about $86,000. Inability to make collections the past year was responsible largely for the failure. The firm has been doing business for fifty years, thirty-one of which Frederick W. Bailey has been sole proprietor.

Special Sale on Household Ammonia

Everbody knows that Parson's Household Ammonia is the best high-grade Ammonia on the market. It is 18 degree test and therefore requires only about one third as much to do the same work as the lower test ammonia. Real Household Ammonia is cloudy in appearance and will not injure the skin, colors or fabrics. The regular price for the small size is 10c, but we have made arrangements with the manufacturers for an advertising deal to get their Ammonia more thoroughly introduced and shall sell the first 20 cases at two 10c bottles for 10c.
