

ITALIAN WON THE MARATHON

Dorando Finished the Big Distance Event.

THERE WERE 56 STARTERS

The Fast Canadian Then Set a Hot Pace in the 36-mile Run from Windsor Windsor Castle to the Stadium in London.

London, July 24.—The great Marathon race was started from the east terrace of Windsor castle this afternoon, the Crown Prince of Sweden giving the word that sent 56 runners on their 36-mile grind. The English, the American and the South African runners were well bunched at the start, but within a few minutes Longboat, the Canadian, who was declared eligible at the last minute, forged to the front and set a fast pace.

There are seven Americans in the race, Sidney H. Hatch, winner of the Chicago Marathon and T. P. Morrissey of Boston, N. Y., winner of this year's Boston race, were believed to be the only Americans who stood a chance for first place.

England had 12 in the race, Canada 11, America 7, Holland 5, Sweden 4, Austria 3, South Africa 2, Greece 2, Denmark 2, Germany, Finland, Russia, Belgium, Austria, Bohemia and Italy 1 each, total 56.

King Edward and members of the royal family were out early to watch the proceedings. The weather is fair but unusually warm. The course is in fine condition, a large force of men having guarded it all night. It was watered to lay the dust.

Dorando of Italy finished first; Hayes of America was second; Hefferon of South Africa, third; Forshaw of America, fourth; Welton of America, fifth. The time was two hours, 54 minutes and 36 seconds.

America protested Dorando's victory on the ground that he was assisted at the finish. A mile from the start the runners were well strung out, the three Canadians leading. They lost the lead at Uxbridge, nine miles out. Hefferon and Dorando were third and fourth then. At Harrow, 18 miles out, Hefferon was nearly a mile ahead of his nearest competitor and seemed a sure winner; but on the home stretch the Italian and Americans came strong and rapidly closed the gap.

Longboat dropped out at the 20th mile discouraged by Hefferon's big lead. Spalberg of Sweden won the final in the high diving. Gilbert of Yale vaulted 12 feet in winning his section in the pole vault, and he looks a sure medal man. A. B. Shaw of Dartmouth and W. M. Rand of Harvard won their heats in the 110-metre hurdle.

An Unfortunate Incident. The disorganizing series of disputes which have arisen since the opening of the games, not only between the Americans and the officials of the Amateur Athletic association, but between the athletes of other nations and the same officials, culminated yesterday afternoon in an occurrence which threatened to wreck the Olympic gatherings.

The trouble was over the final heat of the 400-metre flat race, for which J. C. Carpenter, Cornell university; J. B. Taylor, Irish-American A. C.; W. C. Robbins, Cambridge, Mass., and Lieutenant Wrenham Haswell, United Kingdom, qualified. With the exception of Taylor, the men got off quickly on the firing of the pistol, and Robbins sprinted in front, taking the pole from Carpenter, who was just behind, with Haswell trailing along beside him.

It looked like anybody's race as they approached the last turn, the three leaders being punched. Their sprint for the final 100 yards had just begun when a number of officials rushed onto the track, the tape across the finish was torn down, and the race was declared void.

It was hard for a time to understand what had occurred, but the official pronouncement was that Carpenter had fouled Haswell at the turn. Everybody close to this spot had noticed that the three men had swerved toward the outside of the track as they came around the bend at a terrific pace, but there were no signs of a deliberate foul visible to those in the press stands.

MUTINIED TO-DAY. Entire Turkish Garrison Went Out Against Nation. Vienna, July 24.—The entire Turkish garrison at Uskub, 100 miles northwest of Salonica, mutinied to-day, according to a message received here. A force of loyalists is marching against the town to put down the rebellion. Five hundred soldiers are involved in the mutiny and nearly all the civilian population.

PARLIAMENT AUTHORIZED. Turkey May Be Granted a Constitution as Premised. Constantinople, July 24.—The Sultan issued a decree to-day authorizing the election of a parliament soon. The act is believed to be the forerunner of the granting of a constitution to the people, which the Sultan promised two days ago.

OF BARRE GRANITE.

Nathaniel Foote Monument in Wethersfield, Conn.

Wethersfield, Conn., July 24.—The monument to Nathaniel Foote, one of the early settlers of the town of Wethersfield, which arrived from Barre, Vt., last week, has been put in its permanent place at the south end of the Broad-street green and will be kept covered with cloth until the exercises of unveiling and dedication on September 17. The monument is furnished by the Foote family association of America, and is erected as a memorial to the founder of the family in this country. At the reunion of the association in June of last year the project of erecting a suitable memorial to Nathaniel Foote was set in motion, and the money was raised by subscription from among the members of the family. The selectmen of Wethersfield set apart for the monument a plot of ground on the Broad-street green which was once included the "home lot" of Nathaniel Foote, and on this plot the memorial has been erected. The monument is of granite, rough hewn, and is 7 1/2 feet in height by about four feet square on the base.

It is not certain that Mr. Foote was the first settler of Wethersfield, but it is probably true that he was one of the first 10 men known as "adventurers" who first settled there, and that he was the largest holder of so-called "adventurers' lands." In the original layout of the town in 1640 he received a home lot of 10 acres on the south end of the Broad street, east side, and gradually became the owner of other pieces of land, partly in the Great Meadow, east of the home lot, and amounting in all to over 400 acres. In 1641-2-4 he represented the town in the respect and confidence by his fellow-townsmen. In May, 1647, when the little army under Capt. John Mason was being provisioned for the memorable Pequot campaign, it was "ordered" that there shall be 1 hog p'vided at Wythersfield for the design in hand, which is conceived to be Nathaniel Foote's. Nathaniel Foote died in 1644, and his widow, about 1646, married Thomas Welles, magistrate, and afterward governor of the colony, whom she also survived, dying in 1683 at the age of 83 years.

EIGHT ARMY CADETS, HAVE BEEN SENT HOME

They Are Charged With Hazing Members of the Fourth Class, The Incident Not Being Given Out.

West Point, N. Y., July 24.—Eight cadets in the United States military Academy here yesterday were sent to their homes as a result of hazing members of the fourth class. They are William T. Russell, appointed at large and Harry G. Weyer of Illinois, members of the first class; Byron Q. Jones, New York; George W. Chase, New York; William W. Prude, Alabama; Isaac Spaulding of Oklahoma; William L. Nollie, Virginia, and James A. Gillespie, Pennsylvania members of the third class.

The cadets who have been placed under suspension will have their cases passed upon by the secretary of war and have been ordered to await the secretary's action at their homes. Precedent in such cases sets the penalty as dismissal.

Just what the incident was which has caused the suspension cannot be learned here. The academy authorities refuse to give out any information regarding it. The incident was given publicity by one of the accused cadets after leaving West Point.

EDITORS ON OUTING. Yesterday Afternoon They Visited Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

Rutland, July 24.—The two day's outing of the Vermont Press association and ladies as guests of Gov. Proctor, began yesterday afternoon when a party of 50 gathered at Pittsford to inspect the Vermont tuberculosis sanitarium, the late Senator Proctor's gift to the State. Automobiles met the newspaper men at Pittsford depot and took them to the sanitarium. Gov. Proctor, Redfield Proctor, Hon. F. C. Partridge, E. R. Morse and other leaders of the Vermont Marble company acted as guides. A musical program was given and refreshments served.

After visiting the Walker memorial library the party came to Rutland in a special car on the regular evening train. They made headquarters at the Bardwell where a banquet was served at eight o'clock, covers being laid for 50. Because of the stress in preparing tomorrow's program, Gov. and Mrs. Proctor were not present at the banquet.

Editor Howard L. Hindley, of the Rutland Herald, was toastmaster. In calling the party to order he suggested a toast to the host, Governor Proctor. Mayor Henry O. Carpenter welcomed the visitors to the city and Harry C. Whitehill of Waterbury, secretary of the Vermont Press association, responded. There were vocal solos by Mrs. Corrie Glyn Cooklin of Rutland and Editor Ephraim H. Crane of Brattleboro, C. L. French of Brattleboro, dean of Vermont newspaper men, spoke on the sanitarium as a mark of progress in the State.

Lawyer Patrick M. Meldon of Rutland pointed out the opportunity of newspapermen to teach love of country in the young. He said the editors' congregation was mawkish and his text invited. Mrs. Fred M. Whitney of Northfield, Editor Frank L. Greene of St. Albans, and Mrs. Emma Grout Nutt of Montpelier were among the other speakers.

THREW TROOPS INTO A PANIC

Six Men Killed in Electrical Storm Near Gettysburg

WILD SCENES ENACTED

Just on Eve of Breaking Up Pennsylvania National Guard When Many Visitors Were Present—Major Wiley Got Severe Shock.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 24.—On the eve of their departure for their homes, at least six men of the Pennsylvania National Guard were struck dead in one of the most severe electric storms ever experienced on this historic battlefield, about ten o'clock last night. The identities of the six men were not ascertained.

Private Barbe, 18th regiment. Private Morrison, 10th regiment. Private Garver, 18th regiment. Three additional bodies have not been identified.

The body of Garver was severed in twain as though by a sword. When the storm came up, Governor Stuart was entertaining a few friends in his tent. The storm broke with such suddenness and fury that the occupants of the tent were entangled in the canvas and ropes, but all escaped serious injury.

There were nearly 50 men in the regimental guard tent of the 10th regiment when the storm broke, and not one is believed to have escaped injury.

The men of the second brigade, whose tents were pitched in the lowlands, were forced to swim to safety. Their tents floated about the camp and not a tent of the brigade remained intact.

When the storm swept down upon the camp there were hundreds of visitors present. Scores of men and women sought shelter in the Y. M. C. A. tent. This immense sheet of canvas was tossed like a balloon in a gale of wind, but strangely enough, not one person is said to have been injured.

The greatest excitement prevailed and many troops who were injured could be located only by their cries for assistance, all the lights in the camp having been extinguished by the terrific wind.

Major C. O. Wiley, surgeon of the Second brigade, was severely but not fatally shocked. Major Wiley is a prominent physician of Pittsburg, and was an alienist for the defense in the Shaw trial.

BEAT THEIR BOSS. Who Had Ordered Them Out of His Lumber Camp.

White River Junction, July 24.—Frank Ladeau and Edward Obhrin, lumbermen in the employ of F. G. Foster at West Hartford, after an absence from camp long enough to permit a visit to Windsor, returned "loaded" with a goodly supply of liquor here. Upon being ordered out of the camp by Foster they created a row which resulted in Foster's being seriously injured about the nose and eyes. Ladeau and Obhrin were assisted in the assault by Dick LaPage, a friend who had just been engaged to work by Foster. The three got Foster down and seemed likely to finish him when the timely arrival of two or three of the mill crew saved the men from a probable charge of murder. Before Justice Darrah yesterday afternoon they were fined $50 and costs or the alternate sentence to the House of Correction.

LURED BY WOMAN TO SPOT WHERE MURDERED

Anna Black Confesses to Part in Murder of Rutland Italian—Six Other Suspects Have Been Arrested.

STRUCK UNKNOWN STREAM

Wall Sparing Tunnel and Stream Gave Way, Letting in Rush of Water, Which Filled the Excavation and Drowned the Men.

Berne, Switzerland, July 24.—Twenty-five Italian workmen were drowned to-day when the men, drilling inside the Loetschberg tunnel in the Berne Alps, pierced a wall separating them from an unknown subterranean stream. The wall gave way and a torrent of water and mud filled the tunnel. All the workmen were drowned. Fortunately the accident happened at an early hour, when comparatively few men were at work. Water now chokes the tunnel within 100 yards of the entrance.

It is believed that the murderers used the girl as a tool. The men under arrest have been in this country only a short time.

An autopsy on the body of Santoro was held yesterday by Dr. B. H. Stone and Dr. L. P. Sprague of Burlington. It disclosed simply the fact that the man was killed by bullets.

PREACHED ON SUNDAY DIED NEXT THURSDAY

Rev. Charles H. Brown, Baptist Minister at Bellow Falls a Victim of Blood Poisoning.

Bellow Falls, July 24.—Rev. Charles H. Brown, pastor of the Baptist church at Saxtons River, Vt., died yesterday morning of blood poisoning after an illness of three days. The poison originated in a small boil, which appeared on the back of the neck last Saturday. On Sunday Mr. Brown preached as usual.

Rev. Charles Hovey Brown was born in Boston in 1858 and graduated from the Massachusetts institute of technology in the class of '80. After graduation he spent three years in Mexico as a civil engineer and two years in Ohio. While in the latter state he decided to prepare for the ministry, and accordingly graduated from the New ton theological seminary in 1890. Entering the pastorate of the Willington Conn. Baptist church he remained 10 years. In 1898 he married Mrs. Ida Bronson of Willington, and two years later took charge of the Baptist church of Newport, Vt., remaining there until August 1906, when he came to the Baptist church at Saxtons River, Vt.

Mr. Brown was a writer of some note, his best work being the drama of "Moses," a lyric poem published about two years ago. He was a frequent contributor to the Watchman and the Springfield Republican. He is well and favorably known to Baptists throughout New England. He was an efficient member of the local school board.

Mr. Brown leaves a wife, an aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert C. Brown, aged respectively 94 and 82 years, a brother, Gilbert C. Brown, Jr. of Boston, and a sister, Mrs. L. D. Goulding of Conway, N. H.

The funeral will be in the Baptist parsonage Saturday at 11 a. m. Burial will be in Willington, Conn., Sunday.

TWO SUSPECTS CLAIM ALIBI

And Boston Police Are Inclined to Believe Them.

MAKE FURTHER SEARCH

However, Giuseppe DiViccio and Hugh McDougal Were Held for Further Examination—Dead Man's Identity in Doubt.

Boston, July 24.—The police now believe that two of the three bandits who either killed or wounded nineteen people in the last two days are still at large, although two suspects who were arrested for the crime are being held. The arrests are Giuseppe DiViccio, who was taken at the South station Wednesday night, and Hugh McDougal, who was arrested in Forest Hills cemetery after the shooting Wednesday night.

Parties came forward late yesterday, claiming that DiViccio is a resident of Somerville, and claiming to have a full alibi for the man. When McDougal was searched, an ordinary revolver was found on him, two shots of which had been fired. The desperadoes are said to have been equipped with automatic guns. This serves to substantiate McDougal's story that he was a member of the searching party.

Both the men were arraigned in the Jamaica Plain court yesterday and held for further examination. DiViccio on the charge of murder and without bail, and McDougal on the charge of assault with intent to kill an officer; bail, $5,000.

The police gave evidence of their uncertainty yesterday by continuing the search with officers through Arnold Arberetum and Mount Benedict cemetery in West Roxbury, although they had little to work upon except the statement that a strange man had been seen crossing the fields in the direction of the Arberetum. Just before 6 o'clock last night the details were called back to the stations and the search was called off, as it had furnished no clues.

As the man who was killed in Forest Hills cemetery is believed to have at least once changed his clothing during the progress of his raid by stealing from houses in Jamaica Plain, there is little reason to believe that the name of "Edmund Gutman" found in his hat is the man's right name, and no one has been found who can recognize him. He is believed to be an Italian, however.

FIRE IN WOOD-YARD. Called Out teh Chemical Engine at 2:05 This Afternoon.

The chemical engine of the fire department was called out at 2:05 this afternoon for a fire in the wood-yard of Arthur S. Martin off Berlin street. The street department, which is working near by, had a hose attached when the chemical arrived, and with the use of some chemical soon had the flames out. There was no damage.
