RANDOLPH

Mrs. Horace Howard and her son Roy Howard went to Hanover, N. H., to attend the funeral of her nephew, which took place to-day. Miss Angie King, who has been ill for several days and under the care of the nurse, Miss Annie Scott, went to her home in Northfield Monday. Frank and John Williams, sons of Jehiel Williams, who have been at home for a month's vacation, have returned to Worcester, Mass., where they have employment. Miss Mary DuBois will leave here this week to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Hodges of New York, and the family of her brother, Charles DuBois of Winchester, Mass., and other friends. Miss Edith Howard has entered the employ of Bell Brothers in the cloak department of their store to remain till January first, and possibly longer. Miss Della Preston of South Royalton, the regular waitress, is ill at her home.

The Christian Brotherhood meeting was attended in Parish house on Monday evening by 30 members, who listened to "What the Brotherhood Stands For," from H. B. Bell from the business on mercantile standpoint, Dr. Angell from the medical side, and Rev. Fraser Metzger from the religious influence it exerts. Nine new members were admitted, making a total membership of 118. Refreshments and a social hour followed.

GROTON

Sixteen deer were killed in town during the open season. A daughter was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hart. Mrs. George Dow of Wells River visited her cousin, Mrs. S. Anderson, Friday. Mrs. A. S. Clark spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Reid, at Montpelier. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross left yesterday afternoon for a few days' visit in Canada. Mrs. George Tice and two sons of St. Johnsbury visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Morrison, Saturday. E. F. Clark left Saturday afternoon for Harrisburg, Pa., to visit his brother, D. F., who is seriously ill with Bright's disease.

Word received from Mrs. Emma Clark, who went to the home of her son the first of last week, does not give much hope of his recovery.

NORTH MONTPELIER

Frances Ryan is working in St. Albans. Mrs. Louise Chase went to Bradford on Saturday. Mrs. Cash Bennett and son visited her sister, Mrs. Edgar Pray, Sunday. Miss Elva Kimball left Monday for her home to remain over Thanksgiving. Mrs. Alice Jacobs has been visiting relatives and friends in town for a few days. George L. Pray, Mrs. Ephie Pray and son George were in Montpelier on Saturday. Harry Clement left Monday for Hartford and will go from there to Melrose. The Charles Gidneys have moved to Williamstown, where Messrs. Gidney and Spooner will conduct a meat market. Mrs. D. Lawless is caring for old Mrs. Sparrow over in the west part of the town. Mrs. Nellie Wasson is at her home for a while.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Mrs. Van McAllister has been on the sick list this week, but is now better. Mrs. Newell Farnham has been quite ill for a few days, but is now improving. Eight persons from this place attended the circular conference at East Brookfield last week. Quite a number of signatures have been secured to the appeal to the legislature for county option. Gene Reynolds while working in the woods yesterday was struck in the side by a stick of wood, cracking one or more ribs. Guy Martin has rented the house of Geo. Beckett, formerly occupied by Mrs. Eliza Williams, and will make it his residence. A. E. Willcomb came near losing a valuable horse Sunday night. After working over it for some hours he succeeded in saving its life. A party of ten from the I. O. F. lodge attended the district meeting at Plainfield Monday night. They report a good meeting and royal entertainment from the Plainfield lodge. Melvin Burnham was on the street yesterday calling on friends. The first time he has been down town for four weeks. He has discarded his crutches and walks with the aid of a cane. November 28 the famous colored orator, John H. Hector, will give one of his interesting and entertaining lectures here. Tickets for this lecture will be on sale at M. J. Drury's. Anyone not interested in any other organization of person would do the Williamstown Grange favor by giving it the piano coupons obtained with each purchase at the Homer Fitts store. These coupons may be left at or sent to M. J. Drury's store. The annual sale of the ladies of the Universalist society will be held December 11. This will be an excellent opportunity to buy Christmas presents for your friends, as there will be on sale many useful and beautiful things at prices to suit all purses. The union Thanksgiving service for this year will be held at the Congregational church next Sunday evening, Nov. 22, at 7 o'clock. Sermon by Rev. D. H. Strong. The putting of this service on Sunday evening is somewhat of a departure from what has been the usual custom of this place. The executive committee of the Williamstown Sunday school association met last Thursday evening for the purpose of filling vacancies and laying out work. The list of officers now stands as follows: President, Rev. D. H. Strong; vice-president, Rev. Cora M. Eves; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. W. N. Roberts; home department superintendent, Mrs. E. C. Smith. The town is soon to be canvassed in the interests of the home department.

The Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. Lucy Sargent Thursday afternoon at 2.30. Everybody come and bring needles and thread for work. Quite a number from here attended the grand meeting in Washington Friday evening, as a special was held for conferring the first and second degrees, and several candidates were from this place. A very pleasant surprise party was given Miss Ethel Balch, by her schoolmates, at her home last Monday evening. She was presented a purse of money and several gifts. Refreshments were served. Milstone lodge, No. 232, N. E. O. P., will hold a regular meeting on Friday evening. Every member is earnestly requested to be present, as visitors are expected to unite with us in observing the 31st anniversary of the order and a pleasant social time is hoped for.

Most disfiguring skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a cleansing blood tonic. Makes you clear-eyed, clear-brained, clear-skinned. Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

If you haven't the time to exercise regularly, Doan's Regulators will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, beneficial action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. Stop carcols in two minutes; tooth-ache or pain or burn or scald in five minutes; heartburn, one hour; muscle-ache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, non-arch over pain.

EAST BARRE

Harold Seaver from the City was here Sunday, visiting friends. G. H. Hutchins had the misfortune to lose one of his horses Monday night. Grace Wolcott is taking a two weeks' vacation from her work at F. L. Sargent's. Mrs. George Taylor was in the City Tuesday on business and visiting friends. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Woodward are moving into a tenement in the Henry Emery house. Winchosen tribe, I. O. R. M., will hold a regular meeting Thursday evening at the usual hour. Now that the hunting season for deer is closed, we may expect to see some of the animals around us. The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. I. W. Bates Friday afternoon at 2.30. A full attendance is hoped for. The Ladies Aid are preparing for a sale to be held in the future, some time in December, we believe. James, the son of David Watson, is having a trouble of the joints, causing him great difficulty in walking. Mrs. O'Brien has been obliged to go to board with Mrs. G. Cutler on account of the removal of Mrs. Arley to the City. Clayton Tucker has made the addition of a woodshed to the rear of his blacksmith shop, which we judge would be of great benefit. George Dolba succeeded in bringing in a fine deer last Saturday evening, which he shot in the mountains near Groton. We expect he feels paid for his travel. Rippling Stream Robekahs will meet for regular work next Saturday evening and for nomination of officers for the coming year. A full attendance is desired. F. L. Tucker is not feeling quite as well as usual of late, but it is hoped he may be nothing serious; two of the children are also on the sick list but improving. The Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. Lucy Sargent Thursday afternoon at 2.30. Everybody come and bring needles and thread for work. Quite a number from here attended the grand meeting in Washington Friday evening, as a special was held for conferring the first and second degrees, and several candidates were from this place. its proper season. It is better to pick apples a little underripe than to leave them upon the trees to be blown off or to be frozen upon the trees. Handle apples carefully. In the orchards of Oregon each apple is regarded as an individual and is handled as carefully as we might our egg product. As soon as the fruit is taken from the tree, put it immediately in some sheltered place, remove from the hot sun of the day and the frost of the nights. The subject of marketing should be of great importance to the farmer fruit grower. Personally, I believe that there should be a revolution in the methods of marketing all lines of crop productions in New England, and perhaps specially the apple. While the farmer fruit grower who has been making a specialty of the apple in all its phases may succeed in marketing his crops with good results, the average apple producer is at the mercy of the dealer, many times a most unprincipled fellow. A farmer fruit grower who takes no care in producing his fruit had better sell at the earliest opportunity which he may have and take the price that may be offered. Those who are taking more pains with their product may proceed in a more leisurely manner. I believe the best results for any apple-producing section may be attained by a co-operative system of marketing. This is a phase that cannot be outlined in detail by any one off-hand, but the general outline would be for a section to unite on a man to handle their product, to act as a go-between between them and the dealers. This agent should be a man thoroughly familiar with the producing end, likewise in close touch with the market condition as it may pertain to varieties, proper methods of grading and packing the fruit. He must understand not only the home markets, but likewise the foreign markets. He should have the charge of selling the product of a section and reaching all individuals as one individual, making prices for the different lots of fruit, according to the varieties, and grades, instructing and inspecting the packing of the fruit and attending each lot with owner's name or numbers. This is the method when perfected in all its details, that has brought wealth and prosperity to the fruit growers of some of our great western states—the application of sensible, scientific co-operative ideas and methods to the great apple industry.

St. Johnsbury, Nov. 18.—Ricker's market reports wool to be in good demand and wanted. Best beef is a shade higher. Receipts for the week just ending are as follows: Poultry—7,000 pounds, 7@8c. Lamb—600, 3@3 1/2c. Hops—341, 4 1/2@5 1/2c. Cattle—375, 2@2 1/2c. Calves—375, 2@2 1/2c. Milk cows—$28@$45.

IN BOSTON MARKET. Fairly Active and Firm Market for Storage Butter. Boston, Nov. 18.—There is no change in the local butter market from late reports. The receipts of fresh stock are very light, and in the lack of competition from such goods, there is a fairly active and firm market for storage butter. The cheese market continues quiet, but it has a firm tone and slightly higher prices are sought for fine summer and September stock. The scarcity of fresh eggs is unrelieved, and prices retain all the strength lately noted, with indications of a still higher level soon, as interior markets are rising.

VALUE OF ENSILAGE. Silo Must Be Filled Carefully if Best Results Are to Be Obtained. I have long been a believer in the value of the silo, and have two on my place. I think there is no safer investment than a good lot of green corn stored in silo. It is not likely to burn, as is hay, and will keep for years without deteriorating; in fact, the older it becomes the better it is for feeding purposes, for it undergoes ripening process, saying a writer in the Country Gentleman. The time for filling the silo is here, and I wish to give a few words of caution. One is, not to fill the silo with corn that is too green. There is sometimes a great temptation to do this, as the work on the farm may run in such a way that it never make filling more convenient at one time than another. Sometimes the farmer feels that he can take advantage of changes in the weather to do work that would naturally be done at another time. But by all means wait till the corn is at its best for cutting for ensilage. The best time is when the corn kernels are out of the milk stage and are glazed and quite hard. This is my practice, though I find that some farmers put their corn in when the kernels are just a little out of the milk. I like the corn at that stage of ripeness at which it will keep out the air. That is the difficult thing about it when it is a little too ripe at cutting time. It does not pack close and the air gets in and that produces mold. The corn should be cut when the lower leaves are still green, but are beginning to show the effects of the summer's heat. If I have corn that is a little too ripe, and some that is not so much so, I put in the ripest first, so that it will come at the bottom of the silo. The result is that the enormous pressure above it keeps it packed tight and keeps out the air, while if it were on top much air would work into it for some feet in the middle and for a long distance down the sides. In the filling of the silo a man can easily lose quite a lot of money. He must plan his work so that the men that are running the ensilage cutter will not be standing idle, but will be able to keep things moving. This will have to be regulated according to the distance the corn field is from the silo, for there will be more loss time if the determine to go through a hard course of it if it is close by. If the hauling is a slow job, then it is better to put the binder in early and let the hauling get a good start of the ensilage cutter.

MARKETING THE APPLES. They Should Be Packed Carefully and the Market Watched. In the harvesting of the apple crop is where the business part of the apple industry begins. If all operations up to this point have been faithfully performed and then certain common business precautions are neglected the growers will not reap the just rewards of their industry and effort, says an exchange. Prepare for the harvest in the way of providing barrels and packages in which to pack your fruit. Thousands and thousands of dollars have been lost this past season by the neglect of this simple precaution. Provide yourself with ladders, baskets, and last, but not least with pickers. Pick when ripe, each and every variety at
