"The Actor's Child," at the Bijou theatre today, is a very fascinating picture, because it shows the inner workings of a large modern theatre stage. It shows plainly how an actor "makes up," and the picture drama which runs through it is interesting to witness. Not for a long time has the Bijou been able to present a more instructive film than "Through an Orange Grove," which pictures the process of picking, handling and shipping the fruit. A rattling good song that "The Lucky Yankee Boys in Blue," there's something to it that makes one sit right up and take notice. Altogether, it is a good Saturday show.

A TRIP TO CALIFORNIA.

Taken By Barre People By Use of The Imagination.

The lecture on California given at the Methodist church last evening by Rev. J. E. Badger was well received and his word pictures of scenes in the Golden state were extremely graphic.

To enhance the pleasure of the lecture he used a stereopticon with which views of different parts of the state were thrown onto a screen.

The speaker began with a short historical sketch of the state from the time of the first settlement by the Spanish in 1536. They were followed by the Jesuit Fathers who founded missionaries in the state in 1769 and until the war with Mexico did the United States take possession of what is now the state of California.

Mr. Badger gave his lecture in the form of an imaginary tour of the country showing the various scenes mentioned as he spoke of them.

He first took the travellers over the trail followed by the gold seekers of '49 coming to the central part of the state over the Sierra Nevada mountains. Stops were made in the mining and fruit regions and then the imaginary party continued on up the Sacramento valley where they camped for some time in the Kalamath forest preserved where fish and game were abundant. Returning they came down the valley and saw the sights of San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley.

Leaving "Prisco" the party continued toward the southern part of the state through the Santa Clara valley and imaginary visits were made to fruit and orchard farms and scenes were shown along the coast and in the oil regions. Other points of interest depicted were the Yosemite valley, the giant redwoods and the cities of Los Angeles and Pasadena.

Mr. Badger favored the audience with solos which were much appreciated.

AUTOMOBILE INITIALS MIXED.

Some people at first get the initials E. M. F. badly mixed and others want to know what they stand for. E. M. F. are the initials of Everett-Metzger-Flanders Co. makers of the E. M. F. automobiles. There never was so much interest shown in this vicinity in an announcement about automobiles as there has been since the announcement of the E. M. F. cars. This is very natural, as the E. M.
