A hearing was held in the county clerk's office at Montpelier yesterday for taxing the costs in the case of the Granite Savings Bank vs. James B. Campbell. In the last term of county court the plaintiff was given a decree of foreclosure upon the property and the hearing yesterday was to ascertain what the interest, taxes, costs and other expenses would amount to. The total was $2,611.11. This gives the bank possession of the property, but there is also second mortgage and attachments upon the property. The parties holding these may according to law redeem the property by settling all accounts, and it is expected that this will be done. The attachments are held by Frank A. Walker, Walker & Gallison, while Katherine Sterling holds the second mortgage. Mr. Campbell purchased the property from the Bond estate for $2,000.
