The Famous Cadillac Desk Table

The Desk-Table occupies the space of but one article, and the cost does not exceed that of the high-grade table of ordinary construction. The ordinary desk occupies valuable wall and floor space.

Can you imagine anything more provoking than to sit down prepared to write a letter and find it necessary to remove from your library table books, photographs, magazines, drop light and other articles in order to provide a clear writing surface?

Can you imagine anything more convenient than a combination of desk and table, such as the Cadillac; when it is only necessary to extend the Desk without disturbing a single article on the table top?

The Desk-Table is doing away with the individual table and writing desk.

The finishes of these Cadillacs are golden oak, weathered oak and mahogany. They are shown in our windows today; take a look.

Try Denatured Alcohol

Many have not learned the superiority of denatured over wood alcohol and are still using the latter. Denatured alcohol is pure grain alcohol to which ingredients have been added making it unfit for drinking purposes, but which do not effect any of its essential properties. Denatured alcohol produces more heat than wood alcohol and is better for Chafing Dishes, Alcohol Stoves, etc.

Washington to Have the Greatest Tower Ever Erected.

The navy department at Washington has devised a system by means of which it will be possible to transmit messages by wireless telegraphy halfway across the globe without relaying.

It is its intention to build at Washington the greatest tower ever erected for the transmission of messages by wireless. This is to be 400 feet high and capable of sending messages by day or night, in summer weather and in the worst of storms, for a distance of 3,000 miles.

Those who bid on the tower are free to make it out of paper or steel, as they choose, but of whatever material is used it must be guaranteed to flash messages those 3,000 miles at all times without interruption over a test period of a full year. There have been many experiments along this line, and its success demonstrated. The Germans have built a long distance wireless tower at Nauen, just outside of Berlin. Another is being built at Milan. The celebrated Eiffel tower in Paris is being put to this use.

The navy department is very particular about its equipment, and while there are three towers on the Atlantic coast which are able at times to send messages 2,000 miles to Colon, still they are not satisfactory in all kinds of weather. It is a peculiar fact that bright sunlight interferes with the transmission of messages, as may a storm, and these are conditions that must be completely overcome in the new wireless tower.

It is planned as soon as the first great wireless tower at Washington has shown itself able to handle long distance messages to abandon all the small stations along the Atlantic coast, and the tower at Washington will be duplicated at Colon, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands and wherever similar erections may be found necessary.

While wireless messages do not travel well over land at present—and scientists are very much in the dark as to why they don't—it is known that the radius may be increased by higher towers, more powerful electrical machines and perfect, rapid spark breakers. Results are the object of the navy department, and it is willing to ask the "whys" and "wherefores" afterward.

An effort was recently made to utilize the Washington monument for long distance wireless messages, but President Roosevelt did not approve of the plan, and the high tower which is to be built at the Washington navy yard is the outcome.

It will not be long, therefore, before the department will be able to communicate with any of the ships of either the Atlantic or Pacific fleet and hold speech with them just as though they were only a few miles apart instead of thousands.—Harper's.

A Putting Tip From St. Andrews.

A man on his first visit to St. Andrews was much impressed by the high standard of efficiency which he saw displayed on the greens by those with whom he played. He studied the actions of these heroes to see if he could discover any common feature in their methods. At last he saw light. He observed that they all hold the left hand more under the club when putting than they did when driving.

From this he deduced a rule of conduct—"see the finger nails of the left hand when addressed to the ball." For the rest of his stay, and it may be for some time afterward, his own putting improved considerably.—London Post.

RIBBONS

Some time ago we made the statement that Ladies would find in our store this coming season a far better line of all kinds of Dry Goods than ever before. This new line of Ribbons is one of the lines referred to. There are other lines that we will mention later. Just now the following will interest you, as it puts you in touch with one of the largest lines in Vermont.

RIBBONS

Sixteen years ago when we first started business in Barre we made a special effort to get ribbon business and to get it in a way with the quality and kind that would hold the customers. How we have succeeded you may answer.

We are now buying Ribbons as cheap as jobbers and to do it have to use many grades in full boxes of a color. This gives you a 25c Ribbon for 19c and a 55c Ribbon at 25c. (You can prove this statement by comparing.)

This week we have put on sale several styles in the latest fancy Ribbons for millinery purposes or sashes.

In these new Ribbons come a Persian Ribbon for ties, belts, sashes and millinery, at 25c per yard.

RIBBONS

Here is where we talk big. Today we have all widths and all colors in a beautiful soft finished fine grade of Messaline Ribbon.

We question if anywhere in Vermont there is as many colors or widths of any one kind of Ribbon as we have today in this new line of Messaline Ribbon, and to give you an idea of the price will say that No. 12 sell at only 12c per yard.

These new Messaline Ribbons come in all the new colors, such as Wistaria, Mahogany, Copper, Brown, Pastel Ciel, Amethyst, Green Blue, Smoke, Cadet, Old Rose, Laurel Green, Taupe, Leman Blue and all staple shades.

Dressmakers and those bothered to match dress goods or silks will find this assortment to be very handy.

SILKS

The change in styles of garments has made a big demand for all kinds of soft materials. This includes Cotton Goods, Wool Goods and is particularly so in Silks, so that Messaline Silks in all colors and widths are so good that manufacturers can present but half their orders.

We have nearly all colors of Messaline Silks in a very heavy grade at 85c per yard. When these are sold we will have to get other grades, as we cannot duplicate those.

We have a wide Black Messaline of special quality that sells at $1.25 per yard.

We have nearly all colors of a Directoire Silk at 29c per yard, for ball dresses that look and wear better than Jap Silk at about double the price.

Our Silk and Ribbon values will interest all Ladies and Misses. See our wide Ribbon for the hair at 19c, examine the quality.
