MARSHFIELD

Mrs. A. T. Davis and children are visiting friends in Bethel and Rochester for a few days.

Little Miss Carry Spencer started for Bethel last Thursday to visit her aunt, but on account of scarlet fever there, returned to her home.

The warnings for town meeting are already up with two extra articles therein. One to see if the town will establish a high school. This is surely a much needed addition to our already well formed system of grades and should receive the vote of every public spirited man. Also to see if the town bear its share of the expense of abolishing the so-called "Aunt Patty" crossing on the M. and W. R. R. This crossing on the M. & W. R. R. This in a very dangerous place, many narrow escapes from accident here have been reported, and as the highway is now much travelled there is great need that all caution possible be taken to protect the travelling public.

CONFIRMED PROOF

Residents of Barre Cannot Doubt That Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of had backs—from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Barre, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Barre kidney sufferers.

Norman York, 29 Branch street, Barre, Vt., says: "I was subject for six years to attacks of kidney trouble. I had pains in my back and was led to believe my kidneys were out of order by the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. If I stooped or lifted it was with the greatest difficulty that I could regain an erect position. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at E. A. Drown's drug store, and their effect was wonderful. The pain in my back soon ceased and the kidney secretions became more regular."

The above statement was given on November 10th, 1905, and was confirmed by Mrs. York on October 1st, 1908. She said: "Mr. York still thinks well of Doan's Kidney Pills, and has always recommended this remedy when he has had the opportunity."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Mummy and the Humming Bird" at Barre Opera House Tonight.

"The Mummy and the Humming Bird" is a play of the hour and although now in its sixth season is playing to capacity houses everywhere. This attraction will come to the opera house tonight.

The scene of the play is laid in England; the time is the present. Lord Lumley is known as the "Mummy," a man who is so greatly engrossed in scientific research that he fails to give his wife the love and companionship which she desires. When her wrongs seem greater than ever, an Italian nobleman who is also an author and known as "The Humming Bird" and who is incidentally a scoundrel, appears on the scene and makes love to the wife during the absence of her husband. The husband's frantic efforts to save her from this man and the tracking of him by the husband of a woman whom he had previously wronged, form the main incidents of the story.

Mr. Henry H. Pemberton will appear as Lord Lumley in this successful comedy-drama. Nothing has been spared which will make this attraction the best that will appear in this city this season.

"Rory of the Hills" Saturday.

Bernard Daly, a grateful young Irish comedian with a marvelous tenor voice, will be seen at the opera house on next Saturday afternoon and evening as Rory O'Connell, in the great romantic Irish drama, "Rory of the Hills."

Undoubtedly this is one of the most successful Irish plays ever written. This fact is easily accounted for as the play is pure and clean, the love interest is intense, the villain receives his just deserts, the plot is well defined, the incidental music and songs are delicious and the scenic production is meritorious. Mr. Daly has been selected by the experienced theatrical manager, A. R. Boer, for the stellar role and the reception accorded the young actor every time he appears, proves that the veteran manager was not mistaken in the quality of the artist to whom he entrusted the part of the heroic Rory. Mr. Daly sings himself into the heart of the auditors with one of the most remarkable voices ever heard upon the stage—when he sings "Killarney," and other sweet ballads introduced, he arouses his audiences to a state of enthusiasm which has rarely been equalled. His ready Irish wit, his merry twinkling eyes, his graceful movements make him the personification of the dashing Irish hero. This production will be the event in our theatrical season.

A GENERAL PLEA

For No Vote, Woman's Suffrage and Total Abstinence.

Editor, Barre Times: Someone has described a successful life thus:

It is one whose motive is love, its plan service, its purpose benevolence, its illustration, Jesus, who went about doing good.

The month of February is notable in the nation's history. This is the month when we celebrate the birth of great men and women. Abraham Lincoln, Susan B. Anthony, the heavenly birthday of Frances Willard, and George Washington.

What has made these men and women great in the nation's history? First and foremost, each and all have had a faith in God that could not be shaken by circumstances. They might properly be styled prophets of God; Lincoln's articles of faith were few and simple.

He cared more for being right with God than for being popular with men.

He recognized God, as the source of all authority, in fact the only authority. As a natural consequence, he had positive convictions on all moral questions.

As election time draws near, is it not worth while to ponder the convictions of those whom the nation honors, regarding moral issues?

"After reconstruction," said Lincoln, "the next great question will be the overthrow of the liquor traffic."

"If prohibition of slavery is a good thing for the black man, the prohibition of the liquor traffic is equally good and constitutional, for the white man. There must be no attempts to regulate the cancer (liquor traffic); it must be eradicated, for until this is done, all classes must continue exposed to become victims of strong drink. Under the license system, the saloons multiply drunkards; the most effectual remedy would be the passage of a law altogether abolishing the liquor traffic."

Query, was Lincoln a temperance crusader?

In one generation, it is said, people stone the prophets, while in the next they build for them monuments.

What more fitting celebration of this great centennial year of Lincoln's birth, than that men everywhere, unite to remove what Lincoln was pleased to term this "cancer" in society, "eating out its vitals and threatening destruction to our beloved land."

Lincoln's great sense of justice and equality to all, led him to thus express himself upon woman's suffrage:

"I go for all sharing the privileges of government, who assist in bearing its burdens, by no means excluding the women."

Lincoln considered his mother, as patriotic as his father, and an equally good citizen, and when a little boy of but nine years of age, he promised her he would never swear, drink or lie—a promise which he faithfully kept.

Lincoln never hesitated to sign a temperance pledge.

Susan B. Anthony gave her life to advance the cause of temperance and of equal rights for a woman.

She was sure if a woman did the same kind of work, and did it equally well, or better, she should be entitled to receive the same pay as a man.

She believed a woman should have as much right legally to her own child, or children, as the husband and father. She began a work for humanity that will never settle, until it is settled right.

I need hardly mention the work of Frances Willard along all temperance lines, as the history of her life is familiar to all. The nation has honored her by placing her statue in the capitol next to George Washington, the only woman thus honored in the hall of fame.

The great man whom we are pleased to term "the Father of his country," never gave a child to this nation, but he was great in many respects, and we not only do well to honor his name, but to emulate his virtues.

As a boy it was said, "Every thing he did he did well."

He was a dutiful son, a model husband, an honored statesman, and a man of prayer. His qualities worthy of imitation were: frankness, fearlessness, rigid punctuality, a calm, moral courage, and he was a gentleman.

He it was who said, "Keep good company or none"; and declared, "Profanity is a vice so mean and low—without any temptation—that every man of sense and character despises and detests it."

The story of his life will never end, so long as men and women honor nobility of character. His last words were, "This well."

It is such men and women, having positive convictions or right and wrong, and who live them, that lead the hosts of God, on to certain victory, at on time, are people so much need as when the voice of God, seems not to be the voice of the people.

The time for heroes and heroines to act is never past. Some great questions are forever settled, many are not. All may help, if they will. Will you? Vote "no" on election day and vote only for men of character, and of worth to fill the offices in the gift of the people of your town or city. Agitate right things and your reward is certain.

Annette Watson Parmelee.

SMALL FIRE IN RUTLAND.

A Call Fireman Got Scorched By a Tongue of Flame.

Rutland, Feb. 25.—Hose 1 of the fire department was called out about 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning to put out a fire in the attic of the rear part of Michael Crowe's house at 299 West street. Somebody tried to send in an alarm from box 19 on the corner of West and Forest streets, but circuit 1 was out of order and the firemen were summoned by telephone. They strung one line of hose and put out the blaze in about 10 minutes. The roof was burned through in several places, and the wood work in the room in the attic was burned. There was little furniture in the room. Two hundred dollars will cover the loss.

Call Fireman John O'Brien was burned on the right side of his face and right hand when a back draft blew a tongue of flame in his face as he entered the room with the hose. He worked until the fire was out, when he went to a physician and had his burns dressed.

The Eagle Dam.

The dam of the Rio Grande, opposite Eagle, N. M., is to be one of the largest in the world, and it is intended to end the ancient war between old Mexico, New Mexico and Texas, says Roy Crandall in the Van Norden Magazine. It will form a lake forty-five miles in length, 200 feet deep, with a capacity great enough to flood 2,000,000 acres to the uniform depth of one foot. The dam which is destined to work this wonder will be a mountain of concrete, the estimates now being figured calling for 410,000 cubic feet of that material. The vast retaining bank will be 265 feet high, 190 feet thick at the base, 20 feet thick on top, while the length of the crest will be 1,150 feet. It will cost $3,000,000.
