The play "Valley Farm" given by twelve of our young people Tuesday and Wednesday evening of this week. A good many came up from Montpelier the first night and the second all nearby towns were well represented, also from Waterbury and Williamstown, 348 tickets being sold Wednesday night. All members of the cast did so well that all who saw them were more than pleased and would like to see the play again. Bob Somerville, the Barre wrestler, has accepted the challenge of Young Gotch and will wrestle him a mixed match on next Friday evening, March 26, at the Barre opera house. The conditions of the match, according to Gotch's challenge, are as follows: one fall to be Greco-Roman, one fall catch-as-catch-can, and the winner of the quickest fall to have his choice for the third bout, provided a third bout is necessary. Young Gotch showed himself in his former match here to be one of the toughest men at his weight that we have seen, and it is said that at the Greco-Roman style of wrestling he has yet to meet defeat. Somerville, when questioned regarding his ability as a Greco-Roman wrestler, says very little as usual, as he says he believes in showing people rather than telling them what he can do. This bout should be of the whirlwind variety—as each man will work his hardest to win a fall in the shortest possible time.
