Here's an illustration of the famous Ralston last—the last which has given Ralston Shoes a national reputation for irreproachable style combined with perfect comfort. As you probably know, all other lasts are flat across the bottom—not so with Ralston Lasts—in which are represented every mound and every depression of the bottoms of your feet. It is only by combining "sole fit" with "upper fit" that a perfect fitting shoe can be made. That's why Ralstons need no breaking in.

If you want real foot comfort try a pair of RALSTON SHOES.

Paint Mixing and Grinding

The more thoroughly paint is mixed and the finer it is ground, the more economical it for the consumer.

Hand-mixed lead and oil and the ordinary prepared paint, with which the market today is flooded, receive the crudest mixing and grinding. Microscopic tests in B. P. S. "Sealed Evidence" show the great difference between the mixing and grinding of hand-mixed paint and B. P. S. Paint. The former is coarse and gritty—the latter is fine and even.

Hand-mixed and so called "cheap" paint, when spread upon a building, produces an uneven coating, thin in some places and thick in others, containing many unground lead crystals. The action of rain, sleet and snow soon wears the oil, or binder, from the top of these lead crystals, permitting the lead to fall out, thus leaving fine openings through which the moisture passes under the paint, soon destroying it. These little openings also catch and hold the soot and dust washing down the side of the house, quickly making the paint look dingy and dirty.

B. P. S. Paint, on account of its pure materials, perfect formula, and absolute accuracy and thoroughness of mixing and grinding in specially constructed machinery, when applied on a building is a perfectly smooth, even coating, glossy, yet tough and elastic, upon which the weather and dirt have little effect.

Owing to the impure materials frequently used, and to the lack of thorough mixing and grinding, hand-mixed and other prepared paint, figured by covering and spreading capacity and durability, is much more expensive to the consumer than B. P. S. Paint.
