

JOHNSON ON TARIFF BILL If Republican Party Doesn't Keep Faith

MIDDLE WEST IS LOST

G. O. P. Promised an Honest Downward Revision—Tillers of Soil Hoping for Something They Will Not Get.

Washington, May 17.—Gov. Johnson gave this estimate of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill to The World Saturday just before starting for his home in Minnesota.

"The Republican party promised the people a thorough, honest and downward revision of the tariff. There is no doubt of that. The people expect that party to redeem that pledge. If the party does not keep faith with the people the Middle West is lost to the Republicans four years hence.

"The National Administration cannot escape responsibility for the action of Congress on the tariff. Early in the proceedings President Taft took a hand. He helped to organize the Lower House of Congress and he is responsible for the leadership in that body.

"Out in my country the people—the masses of the people—have no faith in the leadership of Mr. Cannon and Senator Aldrich. They have heard so much of this combination and its control of Congress that they regard this control as being in the interest of the interests. The people believe the interests control Congress.

"I don't know how the senators and leading Republican papers are going to defend this tariff. They have only spokenly fought it. They should fight it and our people want them to fight it. How they can take up the cudgels of defense for it will be a rare sight if they can find the method.

"Our people—not alone Minnesotans, but the tillers of the soil and the workmen of the entire Middle West, are hoping against hope, expecting to get something they know they won't get. But they will get an accounting from the party they trusted.

"The Republican party cannot place the blame for the Aldrich bill on a few Republicans and a few Democrats. It's up to the party, no matter how small, and such a senator voted and spoke. The party which passes the Aldrich bill will get all of the praise and criticism that bill merits.

"I have heard since I came to Washington that Senator Aldrich is not alarmed about the Middle West. In fact, I am told that he has said the Republicans can elect a president without the Middle West—that the East and West will carry the election. I recommend Senator Aldrich as a co-sponsor, but not as a campaign manager.

Does Not Criticize the Bill. I am not intimately acquainted with the provisions of the bill and do not assume to criticize any measure pending before Congress. The fundamentals of the bill are known to me, and I am certain that the bill as it now stands is not the revision of the tariff the people expected.

A few years ago I remember that Democrats were accused at that time because they declared for a tariff revision. This is exactly what the Republican party is standing for today. There is no other pretense made except that a revision of the tariff is now needed to help the revenues. Of course, the pledges to the people before the election for a revision of the tariff are now being considered now. The whole effort of the Payne bill is to raise more revenue to support the government.

Middle Western farmers and producers do not depend on tariff duties for their prosperity. The tariff does not bring good times or bad times to the Middle West with the calling of the roll in the Senate. Down East the tariff, no doubt, has a big effect on the people, but out our way we are not disturbed because some cities condemn the debate over the tariff bill. We can wait for a good bill. We want a bill passed as rapidly as possible, but we want a bill passed with the call of the roll in the Senate. No spur in the interest of business demands will suit us if it means that we must take any bill agreed upon by the leaders. We do not want a bad bill just because it will take a few more to write and consider a good bill.

Take lumber, for instance. We in Minnesota have seen our forests stripped bare. We are even now trying to devise some method by which we can build up our timber lands again. We can see no reason for the duty on lumber except that the men who own the big timber lands want that duty continued. The man who wants a forest in New England. That is what we ask of Congress and that is what our representatives demand.

If our voices are unheard, the leaders of the party responsible will have to reckon with a dissatisfied element in the next election. In Minnesota and other states—Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Wisconsin, the Dakotas and others—Republicans as well as Democrats want the tariff rates reduced. The papers are demanding it.

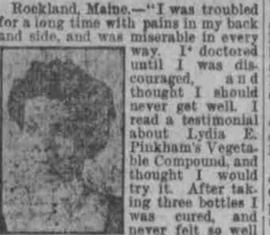

Take the steel and iron schedule, for instance. The farmer buys nails for fencing. He pays some unknown factor in his purchase as a tribute to some interest, and he knows it. For thirty years these people have been studying this condition, which means to them everything going out and nothing coming in. In the protection they enjoy for farm products, in my opinion, is no protection. I don't think the duties on products of the farm have anything to do with the prices the farmer gets for his crops. We do not know, though, that the tariff has a whole lot to do with everything the farmer has to buy.

G. A. R. Makes Taft an Associate Member.

Washington, May 17.—President Taft is now an associate member of the Grand Army of the Republic. A large party of veterans from posts in New York City and St. Veray, N. Y., visited the White House for the purpose of initiating the president.

YOUR BACKACHE WILL YIELD

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rockland, Maine.—"I was troubled for a long time with pains in my back and side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged, and thought I should never get well. I read a testimonial about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and thought I would try it. After taking three bottles I was cured, and never felt so well in all my life. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all my friends."—Mrs. WILL YOUNG, 6 Columbia Avenue, Rockland, Me.

Backache is a symptom of female weakness or derangement. If you have backache, don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has restored health to thousands of women.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge.

BOSTON'S TERMINAL HOPES.

Report That Canadian Northern Railroad Will Build From Montreal.

Boston, May 17.—Reports are in circulation here that the construction of a new railroad system between Montreal and Boston is contemplated. Sir William Mackenzie of Mackenzie & Mann, builders and owners of the Canadian Northern system of railroads in Canada, is quoted as saying:

"I have received many inquiries from Boston as to a rumor that the Canadian Northern planned an extension of its system from Montreal to Boston, making that port the eastern terminus of our proposed transcontinental road. While such a scheme has many attractions, we have no present plans for its fulfillment, though nobody should forecast the future too confidently."

It has been rumored in Boston that the Mackenzie & Mann in treats have had engineers in Boston looking over the field with a view to building 300 miles of road between Montreal and Boston at a cost of $150,000,000 in order to give that system an eastern outlet, as the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk control other winter ports. Preliminary could be secured in East Boston.

CODY'S MILE FLIGHT FRETTS THE BRITISH

Army's Only Aeroplanist Was Being Scoffed at as an "Incompetent American."

London, May 17.—That Samuel F. Cody should accomplish a flight of one mile with his aeroplane at Aldershot just when the English press is holding him up to ridicule as an incompetent, pretentious American, makes his critics resentful. They are obliged to record the feat, but do it most grudgingly, giving him the least possible credit consistent with the fact that the best previous English flight was 150 yards.

Capt. Cody has not Wilbur Wright's ability to say no. After the record flight had been made, he was persuaded against his judgment to take the aeroplanes out again in the afternoon, the Prince and Princess of Wales having arrived and expressed a wish to see it in action.

As the motor was not working properly Capt. Cody could make only a few short flights, finally bumping the ground heavily and breaking two stays.

There is no aeroplane in the balloon department of the British army, except Capt. Cody. His colleagues in the department have confined their experiments to dirigibles.

LAWSON AS A SUCCESSFUL MAN.

The Great Stock Operator Defines His Own Financial Success.

It do not plume myself unnecessarily when I say that I know the stock game in each and every one of its essentials and its ordinaries to the minutest details. For forty years I have played it actively and successfully. Of course, there may be a difference of opinion as to "successfully." As I use it, I mean I have been successful because I had graduated from my apprenticeship in the finance game before the veteran Keene had even appeared in Wall street. Because for years I have bought and sold more stocks and handled more deals than any other half score operators. Because at the present time, at the end of forty years, my accounts are in twenty-eight representative New York and seventeen representative Boston stock exchange houses. Because I have testified in the different courts on all phases of stocks and finance as an expert. Because I have written more on finance and stocks than all other writers combined. Because while doing this I have so preserved my solvency and physical and mental manhood that I may look all men in the eye and say, "I have asked no favors—I battle for the down and I don't give a— for the up." And because while this is admitted by all, the up are compelled to seek my services when they get tangled in their own game. That is what I mean by "successful."—Thomas W. Lawson, in the May Everybody's.

Pretty and Practicable Tea Tray.

Take a piece of satin of any shade harmonious with the color scheme of the table or room; place a small lace doily in the center, and frame this in an oval gilt frame. [These frames can be found in any of the department stores, sometimes with inexpensive pictures in them, for twenty-five cents.] A piece of white linen with either the doily or an embroidered initial in the center framed in a white-enamel frame also makes a handsome tray. The glass is easily wiped off and the linen remains as spotless as before it was used. A piece of felt may be glued on the bottom of the tray, to prevent scratching or marring the table in any way.—Woman's Home Companion for May.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS

And you will generally find that they know of more good, intelligent people, those of good sense and discernment in your vicinity who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's World-famed Family Medicines than by all other proprietary medicines. They have been making these cures right along for over forty years and altogether likely you will easily find people all about you who will be only too glad to say a good word for them. These old reliable curatives are not exploited or urged upon the afflicted by extravagant and false promises but have a record of real, genuine cures to sustain them.

Among women Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is truly a favorite by reason of its remarkable cures which, for over forty years by far exceed those which can be credited to any medicine extant. By a little inquiry you will no doubt find some of these cured and grateful cases in your immediate neighborhood, for they are to be met with practically EVERYWHERE. They are Dr. Pierce's best advertisements. Seek their advice if you are a poor despondent over-burdened broken down, weak, or pain-wracked woman, suffering from some derangement or weakness incident to your sex.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser in plain English, by R. V. Pierce, M. D., (new fully revised up-to-date edition) gives all particulars which women need to know about their peculiar functions and how to correct ordinary derangements and weaknesses. Cloth-bound volume of 1000 pages, 31 one-cent stamps, or in paper covers for 21 cents, post-paid. Why not send for it NOW? The New Edition is almost a household necessity. METHODS OF TAXATION IN VERMONT REPORTED

By Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations, Which Was Made Public Today.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The report of Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, on the system of taxing manufacturing, mercantile, transportation and transmission corporations in New England, issued today, gives the following report on Vermont: "All of the expenses of the state government in Vermont, approximately a million and a half dollars a year, are met by the special taxation of corporations and by other special taxes collected by the state. The corporations are paying approximately 56 per cent. of the total state expenses.

The chief feature of corporate taxation in Vermont is the policy of providing in detail for imposition of corporations to the taxation by the state and permitting the corporation to elect to be taxed under either provision. The two systems have different bases, one being property and the other receipts. The purpose of his alternative is to avoid raising a constitutional question as to the taxation by the state of receipts from interstate business. The tax on receipts is more attractive by making it lower, and a large number of corporations elect to pay on this basis, and are thus precluded from raising the constitutional question.

Another feature of the Vermont system worthy of special note is the tax based upon net value of capital stock and applied to all corporations in the state, domestic and foreign, irrespective of whether all the capital stock is employed in Vermont. This provision extends also to all unincorporated asso-

Richard Bombard Admits Committing a Theft There.

Springfield, Mass., May 17.—Further developments appeared Saturday in the case of Richard Bombard, the youth who is at the Meray hospital with injuries sustained Thursday by jumping through the window of Policeman T. J. Hallahan's house after he had entered for the apparent purpose of robbery. Wood was escorted by the police in this city from the police in Bellows Falls, Vt., that they thought that Bombard was in that city a few days before he got into trouble here. The Bellows Falls police said that a man that answered the description of Bombard entered a house there and stole a purse containing about $15. When this burglary was charged to the youth at the hospital by Capt. Boyle of the local detective bureau Saturday morning Bombard admitted that he committed the theft.

WORK ON PANAMA CANAL PLEASES MR. DICKINSON

War Secretary Sails For Home After Having Inspected Every Foot of the Route.

Colon, May 17.—"I am very much pleased with the organization here and with the way the work is progressing," said United States Secretary of War Dickinson to The World correspondent Saturday, as he was about to sail for home. Mr. Dickinson arrived here two weeks ago last Wednesday on an official tour of inspection of the Canal Zone. Since then he has been over every inch of the canal on foot, has examined the operation of all departments, has met every executive head and has been in touch with all classes of the working forces. He sailed for Washington direct on the United States steamer Mayflower.

MEININGITIS SERUM SEEMINGLY EFFECTIVE

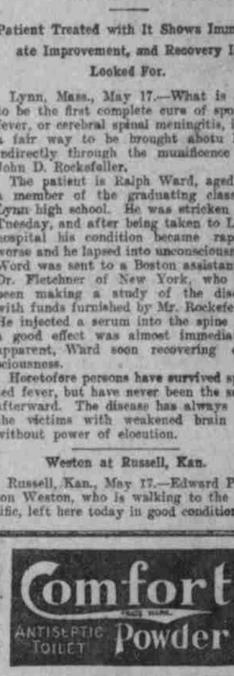

Patient Treated with It Shows Immediate Improvement, and Recovery is Looked For.

Lynn, Mass., May 17.—What is said to be the first complete cure of spotted fever, or cerebral spinal meningitis, is in a fair way to be brought about here indirectly through the munificence of John D. Rockefeller. The patient is Ralph Ward, aged 17, a member of the graduating class of Lynn high school. He was stricken last Tuesday, and after being taken to Lynn hospital his condition became rapidly worse and he lapsed into unconsciousness. Word was sent to a Boston assistant of Dr. Fletcher of New York, who has been making a study of the disease with funds furnished by Mr. Rockefeller. He injected a serum into the spine and a good effect was almost immediately apparent. Word soon recovering consciousness. Heretofore persons have survived spotted fever, but have never been the same afterward. The disease has always left the victims with weakened brain or without power of elocution.

COMFORT ANTISEPTIC TOILET POWDER

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

To the People of Barre and Vicinity.

SIX YEARS AGO four Bankers and three Druggists conceived the idea of securing from some of the most eminent specialists of the United States several formulas or prescriptions which, when compounded, would give the best remedies known to Medical Science for the relief and cure of certain troubles. Their primary object was, and is, the same as that of every other business enterprise, namely, to make money. They believed however, and six years of success has proven the correctness of their belief, that the surest way to realize their object was to pick out certain troubles that were not absolutely incurable, compound a remedy for each specific trouble and guarantee to the sufferers that their money would be returned in the event that they received no benefit after taking the preparation recommended for their respective ailment. To be able to offer such a guarantee as this required that all the merit possible be put into these formulas. There was only one sure way of securing this merit, and that way was to get each prescription from a specialist who treated certain troubles only, and then compound the remedies from the purest and highest grade of ingredients manufactured. This is just what these Bankers and Druggists, under the incorporated name of The Rydale Remedy Co., have done, and below you will find a description of each preparation and also the names of the Dealers at whose stores you will find the Rydale Remedies.

REMEMBER: These Remedies Are Not For Incurable Diseases; but that all Dealers are Authorized to Refund Your Money if You Receive No Benefit after taking any of them according to directions for troubles for which they are recommended.

Grid of six medicine advertisements: Rydale's Stomach Tablets, Rydale's Liver Tablets, Rydale's TONIC, Rydale's Cough Elixir, Elliott's Emulsified Oil Liniment, Barney's Compound.

EVERY ONE OF THE ABOVE REMEDIES CONFORM TO THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE PURE FOOD AND DRUG LAW And are Manufactured and Labeled Under Serial Number 2119 Issued to the Manufacturers by the Dept. of Chemistry of the United States.

If you are sick and do not know what your trouble is go to a good doctor at once. If, however, you know your trouble to be one for which the above remedies are recommended, give the remedy a trial. You will get the best that medicine can produce, and your money back in case you receive no benefit from it's use.
