

For Commencement Week!

You have probably left for the last minutes the selecting of a lot of little articles which you are just as particular about as any part of your wardrobe. Our accessories were never so complete nor so varied as this season.

FANS. An assortment of the most dainty little affairs we have ever shown. Prices Range from 10c to $4.00

SCARFS. An article of wearing apparel which has come to be almost a necessity for evening wear. Some entirely new things have just been received—among them the ones made of Italian Silk is the newest. Prices Range from 50c to $4.00

NECKWEAR. Coat Sets have been in great demand. We have just received a good assortment for this week's selling. Prices Range from 25c to $3.00

BELTS. Here we have about every color and style one could wish for—Elastic, Web, Girdle and Ribbon Belts. Prices Range from 25c to $1.50

HOSIERY. The greatest color season in years in Hosiery. Lavender, Pink, Slate, Taupe, Red, Green, and Blue. Beautiful weights in Black Lisle at 25c, 39c, 50c and 75c, and Black Silk at $1 to $1.50 per pair.

NEW VEILS. Nearly every day we have our express package of Veils. The new Automobile Veil, "with the button," has proven to be very practical. Prices Range from 50c to $2.50

Choice designs in candlesticks, nut and fern dishes, book racks, desk fittings, watch fobs, cuff links, belt, veil, scarf and hat pins. Special Goddard and Spaulding designs.

Prof. Dod and his trick dogs will be at the Comique this evening. These dogs are well trained and do some pleasing tricks. We also run two good pictures. Our feature is "Confidence," a real good biograph, and the song, owing to the extra expense of the vaudeville, it is necessary to raise the price of admission to 10 cents. Matinee Wednesday for children, 5 cents.

At the Theatorium to-day only they are running one of the greatest pictures ever produced. One must see the picture to realize what chance of life these true horsemen have taken to make this picture, "Italian Cavalry," exciting and interesting. Nothing has ever been seen like this before. Another powerful and excellent picture is the "Drunkard's Reformation," an unusually interesting biograph, splendidly acted. Don't miss seeing these pictures.

The experience of Jesse Miller of Granville, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, among the Southern negroes and Southern whites are told in the following dispatch: "Atlanta, June 6.—Jesse Miller, who claims to be from Barre, Vt., came to Georgia about six weeks ago and began working in the rural districts, where he told the negroes he represented a northern society which wanted to better the conditions of the negroes and the way to do it was to form labor unions and strike on the planters. He formed several lodges and collected a fee of $10 from each member. Last Friday Miller reached Spartan, Hancock county. When the planters learned what he was doing they handled him roughly and drove him from town. He went to Milledgeville, Baldwin county, and was put on a train and accompanied out of the state."
