WOULD SEE MRS. TAFT.

Stranger at Beverly Had Message—Barred By Secret Service Men.
Beverly, Mass., July 8.—A well-dressed man, giving his name as Correy and claiming a residence in Brighton, called at the grounds of the summer capitol at Beverly Point, Beverly Cove, yesterday afternoon. He asked permission of one of the secret service men at the entrance to hand a letter to Mrs. William H. Taft.
He stated that his mother was a near relative of the President and that he wanted to deliver the letter to Mrs. Taft. His request was not granted, the secret service man stating that he would deliver the letter to Mrs. Taft if he wished to have her receive it.
The visitor handed the message over to the secret service man, who started to deliver the same. The man threw himself on the grass and commenced to kick his feet in the air, stating that "this is what I call life."
The letter proved to be of no account and was returned to the visitor, who left the grounds without making further trouble.

A FLOWER AND A WISH.

The Romantic Marriage of De Lesseps of Suez Canal Fame.
Sir Henry Brackenbury tells in Blackwood's Magazine the story of the romantic marriage of M. de Lesseps. A Frenchman living in Reunion was compelled by the illness of his wife to take her to France. He sailed with his wife and two young daughters, but the wife died on the voyage. Some time afterward the Frenchman called on M. de Lesseps, told him of his misfortune and of his sufferings on the long sea voyage and expressed the wish to dedicate the remainder of his life to the furtherance of the construction of the Suez canal. De Lesseps gave him an appointment at Ismailia, and employment was found in one of the workshops there for his daughter.
One day De Lesseps' attention was attracted by these two girls, with whom he entered into conversation. He came again next day and gave to each of them a flower, saying that they should frame a wish the last thing at night and that if in the morning they found that the flowers had opened the wish would be granted.
On the following morning he went to their house and found one of the girls smiling, the other in tears. He asked the cause of the latter's sadness.
"My flower has not opened," she replied.
"Tell me your wish, so that if possible it may be granted," responded M. de Lesseps.
"Ah, to you least of all men I can tell it!" was her answer. The great engineer married her.

Chinese Dramatic Crudities.

Here is a sample of one of the naive bits of Chinese stage craft. Hom Ling, leading tragedian, playing the part of the younger son, renders a solo which means that the widow and orphans are going to the temple to celebrate funeral rites. The property man sits on the stage a little box for an altar and throws over the widow's head a white veil, symbol of mourning. Then Hom Ling, as the younger son, waves his hands and kicks his foot like a man punting a football. This signifies that the rest of the family is out of his sphere of action. The scene has officially changed from a house to a temple. So, while the rest of the family kneels before the altar, Hom Ling strolls over and chats with one of the musicians who happens to be resting.—Everybody's Magazine.

A Celticism.

"He said this skirt of mine was a perfect symphony."
"Maybe, but it's not well conducted."
"What do you mean?"
"It drags."—Cleveland Leader.
The Real Want.
"What we want is a square deal."
"Oh, we'll compromise on that in a pinch. What we really want is a shade the best of it."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SAILED OVER BURLINGTON.

Aeronaut Steered His Balloon to Wender of a Big Crowd.
Burlington, July 8.—At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Nasar's dirigible balloon made its first successful flight in this city, before a crowd which extended from College street to Maple street on Winoski avenue.
The engine was soon started and he was off into the air, shooting to the north. He soon changed his direction and was circling to the south, with the eyes of several thousand people fixed intently on him. He swooped toward the ground, duffed his hat to the crowd and was soon again in the heights. The ship went south as far as the Ferris show ground where Mr. Nasar had previously announced he would land, and sure enough he did and there was soon a crowd to greet him there, for automobiles and vehicles of all kinds plunged down Shelburne Road hot on the trail of the balloon.
The ship landed safe and sound in the middle of the show ground and after repairing a few braces Mr. Nasar was ready to be off again. Again he was out in the air but the engine stopped. On account of the height of the fences around the show ground the dirigible had to go up at an angle of about 45 degrees and the result was that the gasoline could not flow fast enough. Assistants were ready to catch the balloon when it descended just north of the show grounds and when the engine was again adjusted the balloon was off again for the final flight of the day. On account of the lack of gas the ship was forced to rise at such an angle that the chain saw from the sprocket and the machine made a clean descent in front of the home of Mrs. Heratio Hielok. The air ship was taken back to the aerodrome because of the lack of oxygen in the balloon.

WHAT'LL GIVE?
NEW PLAN
New and Novel
Unique and Interesting

Silent Auction Sale

The first sale known in the history of Barre, in which the people absolutely make the price.

There is a Reason!

The close of a season's business finds us with an unsorted lot of sizes, possibly with but one item of each kind. These goods are not necessarily out of style, but they are lonesome lots (worth none the less to you if they happen to be your size). But in order to sell them we must find the man they will fit, which would be a long tedious process in the ordinary run of business. So we are left at the close of each season with an accumulation of "dead stock".

Our New Plan, or Silent Auction, requires no expensive advertising and we avoid much of the expense of the ordinary clearing sale. We make no extravagant statements of value, as we only ask the people to appraise the goods and take them at their own price. We will allow you to examine or "try on" any article on sale, you will probably find your size among the 50 articles included in the sale. It costs nothing to bid—bid as often as you wish.
Positively no by-bidding or unfair discrimination allowed during the sale.

The goods to be sold are displayed in the window with a card attached, bearing a number (1 to 50) and stating the size and original price. Inside is a locked box where you deposit a bidding card with whatever amount you wish to offer on any article, signing your name and address, written plainly. Once a day this box is opened and the best bids posted and marked on the goods displayed. Tuesday noon, July 13th, the final count is made and every article is knocked down to the highest bidder.

Our first sale will commence Friday noon, July 9th, and close Tuesday noon, July 13th. This sale will include Men's, Youth's and Children's Suits, Rain Coats, Outing Trousers, Straw Hats, Caps, Underwear, Trunks, Suit Cases, Shirts, Fancy Hose, etc., etc. 50 articles of reliable merchandise.
