ST. LOUIS HIT BY A CYCLONE

Wires All Down in Western Metropolis

WIND ALSO AT ALTON

Steamer With 300 Aboard Struck While Going Through Draw.—Wagons and Horses Picked Up. No One Hurt.

St. Louis, July 12.—A cyclonic wind struck St. Louis and suburbs at noon yesterday. Telegraph and telephone wires were blown down. In St. Louis county trees were uprooted.

The wind struck the steamer Alton as it passed with three hundred passengers from St. Louis through the draw of the bridge at Alton, Ill., twenty-five miles north of here. The steamer was swung around until part of the wheel house was torn off against a pier of the bridge. The boat was jammed there.

The wind here picked up wagons and threw the horses and drivers to the ground. Because of trolley wires being torn down, electric cars in some parts of the city were stopped for an hour.

FROM BRINK OF GRAVE.

Worcester Man Walks Out of Hospital.

Worcester, July 12.—Joseph Bemillard of 16 Orange street, aged 40, baker, who was prostrated by the hot wave of June 26, and who was taken to the hospital, where it was officially reported that he died within a short time after his admission, was discharged from the hospital yesterday and walked home.

The case was one of the most remarkable ever brought to the attention of the hospital physicians.

Bemillard gave all the signs of disintegration from heat prostration, and his apparently dead body was placed on a truck to be taken to the morgue. Instead of taking him to the morgue the doctor in charge wheeled him into the electrical apparatus room, where the physician tried tests on him with electrical current. He was revived, and great care was taken to nurse the spark of life, until Bemillard walked out yesterday, literally from the brink of the grave.

There is no question that he would be a dead man if the body had been placed in the cold of the morgue.

LOS ANGELES' GOLDEN STREAM.

New Water Supply Passes Through Rich Bed.

Randburg, Cal., July 12.—The water supply of Los Angeles from the filtered snows of Owens Valley country will wind through strata of gold. Part of the aqueduct is found to be heavy with auriferous veins, and in a number of cases pockets of gold have been taken away. Some parts of the construction works laborers actually fight for, because of the chance of striking a pocket.

From one stretch of the excavation less than twelve feet long samples of high grade ore were taken which in some instances show assays of $900. The aqueduct will literally cross a bed of placer gold and also go through lode. All sorts of stories are to be heard along the aqueduct regarding gold finds, one being as to the luck of Patrick McCallum, a Los Angeles laborer, who cleaned up $1,200.

TAFT BREAKS INTO TARIFF

Determined Move for Revision Downward

PERSONAL APPEAL TO MEN

On Conference Committee—He Measures Strength With that of Aldrich—If Diplomacy Fails Draastic Action is Expected.

Washington, July 12.—That President Taft regards the tariff situation as of critical importance and to be handled better by diplomacy than by blows has been made plain to all his callers since his return to the White House last Friday.

The president is systematically conferring with the members of the Conference Committee and discussing rates with them and not general principles. Senator Aldrich was almost his first caller Friday. Saturday evening at 9:30 o'clock Chairman Payne of Ways and Means called at the White House, and the President took him upon an automobile ride. Representative Fordney of Michigan, another conferee, was his guest at breakfast yesterday morning.

SAYS HER SON WAS MURDERED

Lieut. Sutton's Mother Feels Positive—Explains He Could Not Have Committed Suicide.

West Point, July 12.—Mrs. James N. Sutton of Portland, Ore., who has spent many months in an effort to have the government reopen the investigation into the death of her son, Lieut. James Sutton, marine corps, which occurred at the naval academy, Oct. 12, 1907, is positive in her belief that her son was murdered. She says: "It was a physical impossibility for my son to have committed suicide. That he was foully murdered can be proved in a half-dozen ways."

"As a matter of fact, my son was unarmed the night he was shot. The evening before his death he was dressed for a 'hon.' He wore a uniform which had no hip pockets. He could not have concealed a weapon on his person. He did not go to the 'hon.' however, but instead spent the evening with Miss Stewart."

Mrs. Sutton complains that her representatives to the Roosevelt administration were received with scant courtesy.

MOORE & OWENS

122 North Main St., - Barre, Vt.

It was too late, Owens thought that he might have asked him to telephone the police for assistance for the single plain clothes man who was trying to capture the gang below. But he was under excitement and not able to think clearly.

An hour passed and Mr. Owens was still a prisoner. Then he heard footsteps below as of several men passing out of the place.

"Hello?" called a voice.

"Well?" asked Mr. Owens.

"We got 'em."

"Did you? That's good."

"We're taking 'em off to the station now. You'll be wanted in the morning to appear against 'em."

"All right. I'll be there. Say, would you mind looking around down there for a key and tossing it up to me?"

"Of course I will."

The light in a dark lantern was uncovered and moved about under the window. After a few minutes' search the key was found and tossed up to Mr. Owens.

"Good night," said the man. "Don't forget to be at the station tomorrow at 10. You'd better go right downstairs and lock up."

"Are you sure," called Mrs. Owens, "that you've got all the burglars?"

"Well, there might be some of 'em hidden somewhere
