Crowd of High Tariff Members Find White House Chilly

PRESIDENT SPEAKS MIND

Anti-Free Raw Material Delegation Find Him in Fighting Trim—Two Revolts Are Now Threatened.

Washington, July 17.—President Taft has begun to put on his fighting clothes in the tariff controversy. His smile is wearing off, his conciliatory policy is being gradually pushed aside, and there are distinct signs that the Big Stick is being furnished up.

The result of the conference at the White House yesterday and of the insistence of the President that a number of raw materials should be free and that there should be a revision downward, is that two revolts are now threatened.

It cannot be said there is a present likelihood that the President will veto the bill, but there is no question that he is becoming more and more disposed to fight the farther he gets into the tariff controversy.

At the White House meeting yesterday Mr. Taft spoke his mind plainly. The crowd of House members was gathered together on the ground that it would be well to make a concerted protest against free raw materials.

CURTISS IN RECORD FLIGHT.

All But Wrights Oudsoes in United States.

New York, July 17.—Glen H. Curtiss, the aviator, made a flight of thirty-one minutes' duration in his aeroplane at Hempstead Plains, L. I., yesterday. He alighted without mishap, saying that he could have remained in the air for an indefinite period.

After the flight Curtiss said that he did not time himself, leaving that task to the watchers below. "But I do know," declared the aviator, "that I made the longest flight that has been accomplished in America this year."

Today Curtiss will attempt to win the cup offered by the Scientific American for the longest flight of the current year. He won the cup last year at Hammondport, N. Y.

FEDERAL INSURANCE REVISION.

Former Ohio Official Tells Canadians of Its Benefits.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, July 17.—An unusually interesting session of the International Association of Accident Underwriters was held here Thursday.

Arthur L. Voreys, formerly state superintendent of insurance for Ohio and active in the Taft campaign of last fall suggested through his address a federal insurance department, "competent, and having exclusive power to regulate all companies transacting business outside their own states and governed by laws enacted by the congress of the United States."

Mr. Voreys said that a federal department of insurance capable of keeping a close inspection on the financial conditions and business operations of all insurance companies unquestionably would give more assurance to the people respecting the stability and character of all companies than they now have under separate departments.

VERMONT HAY CROP LIGHT.

Not Expected to Amount to Two-Thirds of Last Year's Yield.

Rutland, July 17.—The Vermont hay crop this year will be light, and is not expected to amount to two-thirds of last year's yield. One of the principal reasons given by farmers for this condition is that the soil had not fully recovered from the drought of last fall, which more than offset the wet spring.

300 DEAD AND HURT IN QUAKE.

Heavy Damage in Southern Greece—Shocks Are Felt in Spain and Cal.

London, July 17.—Special despatches received here from Athens say that 300 persons were killed or injured by the earthquake that occurred Thursday in the province of Elis, in southern Greece. The damage to property also was very great. Hot water is flowing today from many of the springs in the stricken district, while the water in the brooks and rivers has turned a reddish color.

The province of Elis has a population of about 225,000 people, and its extent is approximately 2,000 square miles. It is the chief current producing region of the mainland of Greece. The district capital is Pyrgos and the seaport Patras. The district is mountainous in the south and east.

MOUNTAIN OF BORAX.

A Deposit of Great Value in Heart of Death Valley.

With the exception of the Grand canyon there is probably no more famous locality in the west than Death valley, known as the "vale below the sea," and although there are a number of Mount Blancs in the Great American desert, the Mount Blanco of Death valley is the greatest of its name.

It rises like an enormous white breast against the terra cotta ridge of Funeral range, close to Furnace Creek canyon, a great rent that cleaves the east rampart of Death valley. Around it is rolling waste of bald yellow hills, none of which is a mere knoll, and it towers a good 1,000 feet above them.

The lowland of Death valley, sinking for 2,500 feet westward, is probably no one ledge or series of ledges anywhere in the world contains the immense amount of borate quartz shown in the surface of this mountain of colemanite. It is a body of ore measuring 1,000 feet in width and 5,000 feet in length, pitching into the mountain range at a thirty-three degree angle. It is a borax quarry whose limitations cannot be even roughly conjectured, but it must exceed by thousands of tons any known borate deposit—Detroit News.

VERSAILLES.

The Old Royal Palace is Now an Art Gallery and Museum.

Versailles is about twelve miles from Paris, but all the intervening country is built up, and it seems almost as if a distant part of the city.

Here was one of the great royal palaces most frequented by the kings and especially by Louis XIV. and all those who came after him. Its gardens and forests are beautiful, and the old palace is now kept as an art gallery and museum and filled with pictures and statues, much of the old furniture formerly used by the royal occupants remaining as when they used it.

The last owner of the property, the Duc d'Aumale, willed this fine estate to France, so that its palace, with its magnificent art treasures, and the great forest are now for the enjoyment of all—Paris Letter to Denver Post.

Troubles Due to Legacy.

We have never known any good to come of a legacy. Henry got $500 in the mail one day, and his troubles began on the spot. He bought a horse. The horse kicked one of the children and ran away, breaking up an eighty dollar buggy. Henry sold the animal for half what he had paid for it and bought him an amber stemmed pipe and a gasoline stove with the remains of his fortune.

Chicken Homiletic.

A country minister in the course of his dining out on the circuit came to a house where a roast chicken was served for dinner. He had previously encountered a series of rib cored beef dinners, and the chicken looked good to him.

"Well," he facetiously remarked, "here's where that chicken enters the ministry."

TWO NEW ISLANDS FOUND.

Two Mountains Are Lost in The Bering Sea.

Washington, July 17.—Lost: Two high mountain peaks. Found: Two brand new islands. Such was the report to the Treasury Department yesterday by the government exploration party just returned from the Bering Sea.

In that stretch of water, with its swiftly moving current, is the island of Bogoslof, where constantly changing conformation has more than once attracted widespread attention. A report received by Captain Commandant Ross of the revenue cutter Service, says that a party from the revenue cutter Perry land on Bogoslof on June 10, last, made a cursory examination of the island and found that a number of astonishing changes had taken place since last year.

The story of this remarkable Alaskan island was given in a special article in the Transcript the first of the present year (Jan. 25). It arose from the set in 1795, evidence of which comes from the neighboring island, Unalaska. It was a steaming volcano and later became extinct. Near it in 1826 there was a small-like island, Ship Rock. In 1832 New Bogoslof came up from the sea, and a low beach connected the two islands and extended beyond the new island about two miles in length over all the new island steamed. Dull in 1895 found over water of seventy fathoms between what had been developed into two islands. Ship Rock was gone. In 1906 the Albatross found a new steaming cone between the two old peaks, which was named Metcalf Cone, or, in some press despatches, Perry Peak.

VOTERS MAY EXEMPT PLANT

Northfield Special Town Meeting on July 22

TO GET SENTIMENT ON CASE

Phillips & Slack, Granite Manufacturers, Propose to Build a Very Large Addition to Their Present Quarters.

Northfield, July 17.—A plan which Phillips & Slack granite manufacturers, of Northfield are considering for the enlargement of their plant, has been taken up by the business men and farmers and a special town meeting will be held July 22 to see if the voters will continue to exempt the plant from taxation for ten years.

It is proposed to extend the cutting plant. To the present shed of 144x34 feet, the proposition is to extend it west 233x50 feet to the river with an additional building 58x38 feet on the north side of this addition, for a boiler and saw room.

On the east end of the present building the proposition is to make an extension of the shed 42 feet, and east of that a two-story office building 20x34 feet, the lower floor to be used for office purposes and the upper floor for a drafting room.

This would give the total structure 430 feet in length, as against the present building of 144 feet. The building would be divided into light and heavy finishing rooms, surfacing, polishing, and cutting rooms, with two modern traveling derricks which would cover the entire length of the building.

The plant is now exempt. The present payroll of $25,000 a year would be likely to be doubled within the next year.

INDICATION FOR TSETSE FLY.

Sleeping Sickness is Carried by Trypanosomum.

New York, July 17.—The Tsetse fly, the insect that jumped from scientific obscurity to public notice on the eve of Theodore Roosevelt's departure for Africa, has received a certificate of character at the Rockefeller institute. Dr. S. J. Meltzer, one of the affiliated specialists, announces that the dreaded sleeping sickness is carried by the tsetse fly only incidentally, that it, from one already infected to a fresh subject. His bite is not venomous, says the physician, but the real offender is the only disease germ known to have the power of locomotion—the trypanosomum. The microscopic organism has been exclusively used recently by the Rockefeller institute in inoculations of the tsetse. The institute is at work with a new serum for the cure of the sleeping sickness of which it has high hopes. But no announcement of its nature will be made before next winter.

BEGGAR HAD $14,140.

Is Arrested After Being Evicted, and Police Find Money in His Clothes.

Philadelphia, July 17.—When he was searched at the police station, where he was arraigned on the charge of being a professional beggar and creating a disturbance in the street, cash and bank accounts amounting to $14,140 were found secreted in the clothes of Bernard Moser. The man is 76 years old. He was sentenced to three months in the house of correction, but later Magistrate Scott sent for Theodore Reeves, an agent of the bureau of charities, who took the man to the Philadelphia hospital to be examined.

Moser was arrested after he had been evicted from a house where he had rented a little room. Policeman Barnes was attracted by the large crowd and found Moser pleading with the landlord to take him back rather than leave him without a home, as he had no money.

Barnes inquired who the man was and learned from the crowd that he was a professional beggar, well known in the neighborhood. Moser pleaded with Barnes to take him to a place of refuge.

Barnes took the man to the police station, where the charges were entered against him and he spent the night in a cell.

Magistrate Scott was amazed when he ordered a policeman to search Moser after hearing money rattling in his coat, when $54.90 and six bank books were taken from the lining.
