

THAW CASE NEAR END

Tales About White Told to Help Thaw

MRS. THAW ON THE STAND

Thaw Attorney Trying to Prove Harry's Ideas About Dead Architect Were Facts, and Not Delusions.

White Plains, Aug. 6.—Attorney Charles McCluskey kept hammering at Stanford White's record today to prove Thaw's ideas were fact and not delusions. Roger O'Mara, former chief of police of Pittsburg, was the first witness. He confirmed the Thaw story of a girl, now a leading actress, who was attacked by White in one of his dens after he sent her to the hospital to be treated. Jerome tried to get O'Mara to admit he had induced the woman to refuse to testify of Thaw's acts. O'Mara denied also that he had ever heard of Thaw whipping girls. District Attorney Jerome couldn't shake his belief in the truth of the girl's story of White. Mr. Moroschauer recalled Mrs. Thaw and asked why O'Mara was interested in the case. She said she was a friend of Harry's father. She produced a chart of the Thaw family showing 303 members, only two of whom were mentally unsound and they epileptics. She declared that eratical incidents of Thaw were the work of a combination of friends of White and that the testimony had been garbled to prove Harry mad. It is expected the taking of testimony will end today. The attorneys will come up on Saturday and Justice Mills hopes to render a decision some time next week.

Mrs. Thaw was constantly breaking down and declared District Attorney Jerome had tortured her and her son. Justice Mills allowed her the widest latitude and she roundly denounced Jerome as a persecutor. Between her sobs she described the shrieking maniacs in the corridors of the asylum. "They pace about blaspheming and cursing," she cried. "It's terrible, they never cease cursing, some crying out vile things." An affidavit, reviewing the Thaw family history, was read and Mrs. Thaw then left the stand.

CANNON HITS BACK AT INSURGENTS

Three Congressmen Lose Chairmanship of Their Committees in New Appointments.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Speaker Cannon announced the appointment of committees for the 61st Congress late yesterday. The "insurgents" against the House rules are disciplined and in a number of instances ranking members have not been given the chairmanship of their committees. Representative Fowler (N. J.); Gardner (Mass.); and Cooper (Wis.), three of the "rules insurgents," who held chairmanships in the last session of Congress, have lost their committees. Representative Vreeland (N. Y.) succeeds Mr. Fowler as head of the committee on banking and currency, and Representative Rodenberg (Ill.) succeeds Mr. Gardner as chairman of the committee on industrial arts and exhibitions. Mr. Cooper was replaced by Representative Olmsted (Pa.). These members participated in the fight on the rules at the beginning of the present session and thus incurred the speaker's displeasure. In the committee appointments Congressman Foster of Vermont is made ranking member on the committee on foreign affairs and remains chairman of the committee of expenditures in the department of commerce and labor and a member of the committee on reform in the civil service. Congressman Plumley was assigned to the committee on agriculture, committee on war claims and committee on railways and canals.

VERY FEW INCREASES MADE.

Says President Taft of The New Tariff Law.

Washington, Aug. 6.—President Taft last night gave out a statement embodying his views of the new tariff act, which he designates officially as the "Payne bill," in accordance with the custom of giving first recognition to the framer of the measure in the House of Representatives. The president declares that while the bill is not perfect in any means, nor does he believe it to be the result of a sincere effort of the part of the Republican party to make a downward revision and to comply with the promises of the platform as they have been generally understood and as I interpreted them in the campaign before election. "The bill is not a complete tariff bill or a complete compliance with the promises made strictly interpreted," it is nevertheless a sincere effort on the part of the party to make a downward revision and to comply with the promises of the platform.

GEERS THROWN OVER FENCE.

Had Narrow Escape in the Races Yesterday.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 6.—Ed. F. Geers was driving Annabelle Lee, and led to the half, soon after which the mare trotted to the outside and straightened her, but a line snapped and Annabelle Lee swerved, then plunged through a gap in the fence. The sulky was demolished and Geers struck on the turf, which saved him, perhaps, from fatal injuries. No bones were broken but one ankle was badly sprained. The racing class attracted 8,000 people to the park and the track was faster than at any other time during the meeting. Star Patchen, a 3 to 1 favorite had no difficulty in winning the big event.
