

BACK TO MATTEAWAN

Justice Mills Decides Thaw is Insane

AND STILL HAS PARANOIA

When He Murdered Stanford White and the Justice Holds He Has Not Yet Recovered—Bases Decision on Specialists' Testimony.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Harry K. Thaw will be sent back to Matteawan to be held as insane through the decision filed by Justice Mills this morning. The decision was a voluminous document, reviewing all the testimony taken in the three weeks' trial which ended Saturday, and then announces the judge's conclusions as follows: first, the insanity of which Thaw was afflicted when on June 25, 1906, he killed Stanford White, was chronic delusional insanity, or paranoia; second, that Thaw has not yet recovered.

In this connection, Justice Mills says: "Although Thaw was himself evidently far from a moral man and engaged in practices of a perverted nature, as testified to by the Merrill woman, who appears credible, he gave absolute precedence to the tales told him about Stanford White." Justice Mills says this is plainly a delusion not based on facts, as Thaw's attorneys tried to show. Justice Mills' second conclusion is based entirely on the testimony of the alienists that paranoia is incurable. Justice Mills says regarding Thaw's treatment at Matteawan: "The court by no means is satisfied with the treatment accorded Thaw at Matteawan since his return there in October last. No one could help being moved by the distress of the mother when she narrated that treatment. It must be understood that Thaw was not at Matteawan as a criminal to undergo punishment. The jury, the supreme authority, has by its verdict declared him innocent of any crime in the matter."

It is believed Thaw will immediately recommence his fight for freedom, the plan being an effort to secure some justice who will hear a writ of habeas corpus before a jury. His attorneys believe a jury trial is sure to free Thaw.

Thaw Sullen.

Thaw is sullen in jail here. He seemed stunned by the news. He refused to talk but asked that his attorney, Mr. Morschauer, be sent for immediately. In the country hotel a few blocks away from the jail, his sister, the countess of Yarmouth, and Joseph, his brother, received the news. The mother retired, denying herself to all callers.

APPEARED TO THREE ON NIGHT OF DEATH

Lieutenant Sutton's Spirit Visited His Two Sisters and an Aunt, Who Were Miles Apart.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 12.—That the entire family of Lieutenant Sutton, whose fate is being investigated by the naval board of inquiry at Annapolis, Md., believe firmly in the occult is proven by a statement made to-day by Daisy Sutton, a sister, that on the night of Oct. 13, 1907, when Sutton died, she, her sister, Mrs. Parker, and Mrs. Margaret Ainsworth, an aunt saw the spirit in a dream of the lieutenant. The three women, who were separated by hundreds of miles, says that Lieutenant Sutton's spirit appeared and said: "Some son of a gun sneaked up behind me and struck me in the back of the head. I did not know I had been shot until I woke up in eternity. I certainly did not shoot myself."

Mrs. Sutton, the mother, on the witness stand at Annapolis, swore that she, too, had such a dream and that her son begged her to fight to prove he did not commit suicide.

C. F. Willard Does a New Trick With Aeroplane.

New York, Aug. 12.—C. F. Willard, a member of the Aeronautic society, who has been flying well of late, made two short flights over Hempstead Plain, L. I., last evening. He made repairs on the road, something never done by an aeronaut before, it is said.

After a brief flight he discovered that one of the guy wires which hold the lateral planes true had shaken loose. He shut off his motor, alighted, borrowed a wrench from a passing automobile and set off again.

BUSINESS IS PARALYZED.

Only Two Stores Escaped The Fire in Monticello.

Monticello, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The business community of Monticello which was swept by such a disastrous fire early yesterday, is paralyzed. The ruins are still smoking and only two stores remain standing. The loss as conservatively estimated will reach $800,000 with only $250,000 covered by insurance.

As only three residences were destroyed, however, there are no homeless, there is no physical suffering, and it has not been necessary to place a guard about the burned district as there has been no attempt at looting. No one was injured.

Summer guests who were driven from the hotels destroyed found shelter quickly in boarding houses. Aside from the interruption of telegraph and telephone service, the fire was mainly a blow to the business men of the town.

Three hotels filled with summer guests, mainly from New York City, were destroyed. They were the Rockwell house, the largest hotel in Sullivan county; the Palatine hotel and the Bolson house. All the guests escaped with most of their personal effects. The Monticello house was not burned. The Union National bank, and both newspaper offices were destroyed.

Monticello ordinarily is a village of less than 2,000 residents but during summer months thousands of city dwellers flock to the mountain region, the population swelling to nearly 5,000. The hotels and boarding houses were filled to overflowing last night when the fire broke out in the electric light station in the rear of the Palatine hotel in Main street.

FIERCE FIGHT PROGRESSING.

Moors Have Attacked Spanish Garrison at Penon De La Gomer.

Madrid, Aug. 12.—Advices from Penon De La Gomer, at Morocco, say the Moors are meeting a fierce attack against the Spanish garrison there. The fighting began yesterday. At midnight the Spanish artillery opened fire to drive the enemy but the Moors dug new trenches under the cover of darkness and this morning re-opened with a heavy fire and their bullets are falling in the streets of the town. Some of the projectiles are so large that it is thought the Moors possess night artillery. Civilians of Penon De La Gomer are aiding the soldiers in defense of the place. There are no Spanish casualties yet. Penon De La Gomer is a fortified Spanish town in the coast of Morocco eight miles from Ceuta and is used as a penal station.

HARRASSED BY THE MOORS.

Alhucera, Morocco, Aug. 12.—The unending of stores here for Spanish troops from the cruiser Extre Madura has been most difficult as the Moors have been harassing the men in charge of the work with a raking fire. The stores were finally disembarked, however, under the protection of fire from the guns of the cruisers, the forts and artillery on shore.

$30,000 HIDDEN IN SHANTY.

Discovery Made by Police Who Went to Arrest Old German Hermit.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—Gold, silver and paper money to the value of $30,000 were found in old trunk bags, stockings and even the rafters of a hotel was discovered last night in the shanty of Peter Leibach, an aged German hermit. The discovery of the hidden wealth was made by the police, who went to Leibach's shanty yesterday to arrest him. Leibach had used profane language to several girls who threw waste paper on his lot Tuesday.

A search of the house occupied by Leibach disclosed coils stuck in the crevices of the two rooms. One trunk was loaded with so many coins of small and large denominations that officers could not carry it. Two smaller leather trunks and an old wash boiler were also filled with silver and gold coins. Bank books were found also, showing large deposits.

Police men were placed on guard at the house last night to care for the treasure.

LOOKS MORE LIKE STRIKE.

Union Leaders and Chicago Steel Railway Men Can't Agree.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 12.—The street car strike in Chicago became darker yesterday than it has been any time since the union men voted to strike. The failure of the conference between the union leaders and the officers of the street railway companies to result in any tangible offer that the union officials thought they could take to their men has led to a growing dissatisfaction among the employees.

The union officers last night demanded something besides promises and declared that unless they got it soon they would not be responsible for what might occur.

An early settlement is predicted by Wallace F. Fisher, the city representative in the conference, but that a strike seems almost inevitable is the assertion of M. B. Hevily, city traction expert.

AUTUNG-MUKDEN RAILROAD.

Construction Proceeding Rapidly and Without Friction.

Peking, Aug. 12.—Telegraphic reports received here from Manchuria are to the effect that the work of reconstructing the Autung-Mukden railroad by Japan from Autung to the north is proceeding rapidly and without friction. The legations do not regard the difficulty between China and Japan as serious, and some of them supported Japan in her contention that the line be made standard gauge.

St. Johnsbury, Aug. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. John J. Rhodes observe to-day the silver anniversary of their marriage, which took place here on Aug. 12, 1884. They were married by Rev. G. W. Jenkins, at that time pastor of the Universalist church, and have lived here ever since, 25 years of the time in the house where they now reside. Mr. Rhodes was born in Regate, Oct. 18, 1857, the son of George and Helen Rhodes, and came to St. Johnsbury in 1883. Since that time he has been employed at the scale factory, where he is at present a pattern-maker. He has two sisters, Mrs. Annie Paine of Palmer, Mass., and Mrs. Emily Forkey of Wells River. Mrs. Rhodes, formerly Miss Emma J. Miller, was born at West Barre, February 28, 1865, the daughter of Jackson P. and Caroline Miller, and came to this place in 1884. She has three brothers, Morris J. Miller of Brookline, Mass., Robert J. Miller of Groton, a member of the well known Miller-Ayer Lumber Co. of that place, and Frank E. Miller of Ripton, N. Y. Her father is also living, and though 77, Jack, as he is familiarly known in West Barre, is one of the youngest feeling and youngest appearing men in that village. He belongs to the grange and takes an active interest in all the affairs of that order. He never misses a dance or an entertainment, nor does he forego the pleasures incident to such events, but enters into the festivities with the animation of a boy. The anniversary of life in a country village is broken by his frequent trips to New York and Boston and no number of his advanced age are apparent. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes have one daughter, Miss Della. Both are active members of the North Congregational church and Mr. Rhodes belongs to the New England Order of Protection. Aside from the church their whole interest centers in the home and a host of friends will sympathize with them on having passed the twenty-fifth milestone in their happy married life.

There were several seekers at the altar during the day's services.

A great day is looked forward to on Sunday, which is the closing day of the series, and on that day it has always been the custom for people from near and far to drive to the camp to spend the day.

WELL PLEASSED WITH DAY.

Clerks and Friends Return From Highgate Tired But Happy.

Four hundred tired but happy excursionists returned at 8:30 o'clock last evening from the clerks' excursion to Highgate Springs where they spent the day very enjoyably. The Central Vermont furnished a good train of ten cars which left here at 7:30 and arrived at Highgate at 11 o'clock, one half hour late owing to the engine playing out at Waterbury. This engine was replaced by a big compound and made good time the rest of the way. On arriving at the park the Barre Citizens band played several selections while the people were eating their lunches and at 1:30 the band gave an hour's concert after which Gilbertson's orchestra of six pieces played for dancing in the pavilion until 4:30 o'clock. A ball game was played during the afternoon between the married and single clerks which resulted in the benedictis getting white-washed to the tune of 8 to 0. A. L. Pierre did the box work for the benedictis and Ous Saules twirled for the single men. The train left the park at five and arrived in Barre 30 minutes late, part of which time was due to a fifteen minute wait at St. Albans while the band played a couple of selections outside the station at the request of the Central Vermont officials who expressed their desire to hear the band. No better day for the excursion could have been had and the trip was a success in every way.

The clerks' committee which had charge of the arrangements for the excursion together with S. N. Parker, business manager of the band, was composed of H. E. Brooks, Arthur L. Pierre and Edward Chesser. Local 241, E. C. L. P. A., and the Barre Citizens band wish to express their thanks to the public for their generous patronage of the excursion.
