

BROUGHT COLOR TO HER CHEEKS

Then Strength Returned and This Bloodless Woman Became Well.

There are many men, women and even children suffering from anemia, which means "too little blood." The disease is well named, for the patient actually has a deficiency of blood which affects every part of the body. There is a lack of energy, a characteristic pallor, a sense of suffocating after the least exertion, generally described as a shortness of breath. The disease comes on gradually and is often well advanced before it is recognized.

Too often medical treatment is unsatisfactory and the disease progresses until it becomes hopeless. A long-standing case, which resisted treatment until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were tried, is described by Mrs. Clinton E. Hale, of No. 104 Bristol avenue, Lockport, N. Y., in the following statement: "When I was about fourteen years of age I began to fail rapidly in health. Although I had always been a frail child, I now had to quit school. I was weak and tired all of the time. In walking fast or going up stairs it seemed that I couldn't walk fast enough to keep up with the heart beats. I had palpitation of the heart and occasional dizzy spells. I became awfully thin and pale. I had no appetite and suffered with indigestion. I didn't have any life or ambition and was sensitive and irritable. I finally became so weak that I could hardly walk.

The doctors seemed to disagree about my case and their medicine did not help me. My parents were alarmed at my condition and upon the advice of our minister's wife, had me try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the time I had taken two boxes of the pills I could notice an improvement in my condition. I could eat better, wasn't so weak and my color came back. I took the pills until entirely cured."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also cured such blood diseases as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fever. Owing to the intimate relation between the blood and nerves, the pills have been found invaluable in nervous diseases.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Orrville Wallbridge is teaching in the Free Baptist church district.

Our village creamery patrons were paid 34 cents per pound for butter fat on the 3d inst.

A. H. Jewett of our creamery has just set up housekeeping in Mrs. Henry F. Erskine's house.

Mrs. James Lamb of Barre City has just been visiting her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. James Rorer.

The school board will be at the town hall at 9 a. m. Saturday next, Nov. 6, to pay the teachers in our public schools.

Solon Patterson has hired Dr. E. B. Watson's pretty little office on North Main street, that the doctor vacated when he opened his office in his own residence.

Theodore Wilfong has moved to the old J. Porter Simons farm that he not long ago bought of Solon Patterson and he has rented his house in the village to an Italian.

Hearing predictions that the granite business may likely be dull in these parts the coming winter, we asked one of our granite dealers his opinion of the matter, and he replied that work enough could be had if manufacturers were ready to do it, the too low prices that dealers want to pay.

Inquiries are being continually made here after the condition of both Mrs. George C. Earle, at the Mary Fletcher hospital, and Mrs. J. K. Lynde at her rooms in Montpelier. At latest accounts Mrs. Earle was able to sit up a little and Mrs. Lynde's case is said to be more hopeful, whereas we are all glad.

It is to be hoped that our citizens will see a two-fold reason for patronizing our entertainment course this season, which is to be offered by the Ladies' Village Improvement society. It is no small amount of work that this society is doing gratuitously, for the good of our public, and it asks patronage only that it may be able the better to serve the public. A new venture about to be entered upon by the society is a reading room to be open and free to all. Who will not lend a hand?

We think the public generally will be interested in a letter recently received here, which we give herewith. It was written by a Vermont bank official in answer to an inquiry substantially as follows, viz., if a person having a deposit in a bank should give his individual check to another person to be paid from this deposit, should die before the check was presented at the bank for payment, what course would a bank pursue in reference to the check? "Dear pounded in your letter of yesterday, I may say that it is a general rule of law that when a man dies, any checks of his which may be outstanding are stopped; the theory being that when death occurs, money in the bank becomes a part of the decedent's estate. This rule, however, is modified by statute in Vermont, so that the bank may pay a check drawn by any person who has sufficient funds on deposit, notwithstanding the death of such drawer between the drawing of a check and presentation for payment, if such presentation is made within thirty days after the death of the maker of such check. As I understand this statute, it simply gives the bank authority to pay if it so desires, but the bank is not compelled to pay. Of course, in any case such as you suppose, the facts concerning it might have a considerable bearing upon it. Generally speaking, a man is expected to use due diligence in presenting checks for payment, and some states have construed "due diligence" to mean that a check must be presented on the day of its issue or the following day, in case the drawer is located in the town where the paying bank is. Otherwise the check must be sent for collection the next day after receiving it; but as I said before, the facts in any case would largely govern the action necessary to be taken."

Forced into Exile.
Wm. Upshure of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat, cures grip, bronchitis, hemorrhages, asthma, croup, whooping cough, and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed by Red Cross Pharmacy.

WEBSTERVILLE.

Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Bussell returned to-day from a two weeks' vacation spent in Massachusetts.

Sunday morning at the Baptist church the pastor will speak upon "The Christian Soldier." And in the evening will begin a series of four Sunday evening sermon lectures, Nov. 7, "A Vital Problem." Nov. 14, "Some Mistakes Our Boys Make." Nov. 21, "Some Mistakes Our Girls Make." Nov. 28, "Some Mistakes Parents Make." Special meals at these lectures. Everybody cordially invited.

SMOKE OR BABIES MUST GO

Alderman Says Former Causes Heavy Death Rate Among Children.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—Either smoke or babies must go. This is the alternative which confronts Chicago, declared Alderman Bernard W. Snow, in a speech at an anti-smoke meeting conducted by the Chicago Woman's club last night. Big deposits of smoke so vitiate the atmosphere that the death rate among infants assumes startling proportions and actual depopulation of the city born is threatened, said the author of the proposed ordinance looking to the electrification of railway terminals.

EAST MONTPELIER.

Edith Batschelder is ill with measles. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stoddard went Wednesday to Greensboro to visit for about a week.

Mrs. Earl Bartlett and daughter, Mary, went last week to Plainfield, to spend the winter.

Marion Wright has just returned to her home from a visit among relatives in Monroe and North Haverhill, N. H.

Mrs. Fred Townsend is now suffering with sciatic rheumatism, which has put her back from recovery from her long illness.

The painters have just finished painting the house of A. S. Foster and are now at work painting the house of H. M. Farnham.

Misses Lilla and Jessie Symonds, nieces of Mrs. Sibley, and Miss Howard of Boston are spending several weeks at the home of Clark Sibley.

Two men have been at work several days, and finished Tuesday, painting the whole sides of M. E. Howard's barns towards the railroad track for advertising.

H. M. Farnham and wife went to Marshfield Tuesday in their auto and were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Austin Foster and daughter, Miss Julia Foster.

The home of Lewis Mayo is quarantined for scarlet fever, all three of the children being ill with it and Mrs. Mayo is thought to be coming down with it. Dr. Stickeny of Barre attends them and says the cases are very mild.

Town Clerk Clark Sibley recently returned from a month's visit in the West, going as far as Gothenburg, Nebraska, to visit his son, Carl. He reports a pleasant trip all around with very good weather. He has issued 109 hunters' licenses to "boys," whose ages range from 11 to 84 years of age.

There were a busy few minutes at the station last Saturday night on arrival of the mail train, when Murray Clark, Elwin Slayton and M. W. Dix arrived from a week's camping in Groton and each had shot a deer, which were unloaded and carried home. Mr. Clark and Mr. Dix each shot a buck, while Mr. Slayton got a doe.

The social and musicale at J. R. Young's last Friday evening was a success in spite of the rough weather. Mrs. K. L. Cleaves of Montpelier was present and her fine work as pianist was a pleasure to all who heard it. There were many other musical numbers on the long program which was enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

The grange had a very large attendance at the regular meeting Wednesday evening. The third and fourth degrees were worked with four new members, and a bountiful harvest supper was then served, to which all did full justice. There was a pretty display in the hall of apples and vegetables, corn, jelly and squash, which were brought by a few of the grangers and added much to the pleasures of the evening.

Friction Bearings or Ball Bearings—Which?

The ordinary friction bearing will wear loose. Each revolution or vibration grinds out a small portion of the bearing surface. After a while it wobbles—adjustment permanently ruined.

The New Model

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter

is fitted with Ball Bearings throughout. Every vital wearing part—type-bar joints, carriage, and type-bar segment—has the kind of bearings that thousands of operations cause to run even smoother than at first.
