Downward Course.

Fast Being Realized by Barre People.
A little backache at first.
Dially increasing till the back is lame and weak.
Urinary disorders quickly follow;
Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.
This is the downward course of kidney ills.
Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Barre citizen.
Alvin F. Smith, 19 West street, Barre, Vt., says: "I have never relapsed into the serious condition in which I was before taking Doan's Kidney Pills in 1887. At that time I had terrible pains across my back and it was almost impossible for me to stoop. When I chanced to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at E. A. Drown's drug store and found prompt relief from their use. During the past several years, I have had slight attacks of the trouble, but at such times I have always taken Doan's Kidney Pills and have found prompt relief."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MONTPELIER

Child Run Over by Team When Horse Was Frightened by Automobile.
A peculiar accident occurred yesterday afternoon when a team coming down East State street became frightened at a passing automobile and ran over a little eight-year-old girl, Pearl Cushing, stepdaughter of Henry Stammers. Both wheels passed over her body. The team and automobile passed on, and it is not known to whom either belonged. The woman, who was going by at the time, carried the little girl to her mother and left, without disclosing her identity. It was at first feared that the girl was seriously injured, but the doctor stated that no bones were broken and that there were no serious internal injuries.
Mrs. A. W. Spaulding, who was injured by falling down stairs a short time ago, is now able to be out again.
John H. Senter, Jr., who has been sick for about a week with appendicitis, was taken to Heaton hospital yesterday for an operation.
A number of the friends of E. J. Woodbury assisted him in the celebration of his 70th birthday anniversary, which occurred Tuesday.
Herbert Wheelock had an attack of acute indigestion Tuesday evening, fainting on the street as he was returning from the play. He was taken to the sick ward of the seminary.
Rev. E. W. Cummings of Gonic, N. H., and Mrs. L. W. Peace of Canter Stratford, N. H., are with their father, who is seriously ill. He fell November 11 and broke a hip, since which time Myron Maxham has been caring for him.
A change has been made in the plans for the water department quarters in the new city hall. The water superintendent's vault was to have been in the basement, but it has been decided to use this vault as a temporary look-up, in case of necessity, and the water superintendent's will adjoin his office on the floor above.
The following clipping from Wednesday's Rutland Herald will be of interest to acquaintances in this city of Lady Luce Langdon Nicholas: "Upon learning that the insurance companies had refused to advance enough money to bury Mrs. W. M. Sneed, the Orange, N. J. woman, who was found dead in a bath tub, and of whose murder her aunt, Miss Virginia Wurdlaw, is accused, Countess Eleanor Nicholas, who is now in this city, has offered her family lot in New York city as a burial place for Mrs. Sneed's body. Countess Nicholas' offer was contained in a letter sent to the editor of the New York evening newspaper and states that she would also send a check to defray the expenses of Mrs. Sneed's funeral, but cannot do so, owing to the fact that she herself is in subject poverty."

Rich Men's Gifts Are Poor
beside this: "I want to go on record as saying that I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest gifts that God has made to woman," writes Mrs. O. Rhinevaunt of West Center, N. Y. "I can never forget what it has done for me." This glorious medicine gives a woman buoyant spirits, vigor of body and jubilant health. It quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells; soon builds up the weak, ailing and sickly. Try it. 50c at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Large Audience Pleased with Acting in "The Third Degree."
Whatever the opinion concerning the piece itself, there could be no doubt of the popular approval of the actors who presented Charles Klein's "The Third Degree" at the Barre opera house before a large audience last night. From Marion Kerby, who played the leading role, to Eleanor Lyons, who made her entrance and exit as a servant, the cast could scarcely have been improved upon.
Miss Kerby took the part of the self-sacrificing, devoted wife of an alleged murderer with a naturalness which made the audience easily imagine itself looking upon a scene of real life. She won unstinted approbation. George Sumner, as "Richard Brewster," the noted lawyer, who assisted the young wife in exonerating the accused man, was an able second to her acting, while Gladden James in the part of the accused was very strong in the grinding tragedy of being put through the "third degree" examination in the second scene of the first act.
The prosecutor of the third degree examination, Jack Ellis, in the role of "Capt. Clinton" of the New York police, was perfectly adapted to the part, while Irene Disher played the part of the shrinking wife of the accused man's father most acceptably. The others rounded out a cast which gave one of the most finished productions ever presented here.
The piece itself was somewhat unusual, because of its anticlimax, starting strongly and proceeding with diminishing force, and ending in a sudden slump of sustained interest, as if the author had hunted feverishly around for a fitting denouement of what was a powerful drama, and finding only a makeshift, which left the actors more or less impotent before their audience. It is easy to see, however, wherein the play could have such a strong hold on New York, because of its setting.
"St. Elmo" at the Opera House Saturday Afternoon and Evening.
From the pages of Augusta J. Ryan's famous novel of the South, "St. Elmo," Neil Twomey has evolved a drama which will have a local hearing at the opera house on next Saturday, matinee and night. Since it was first offered to the public a half a century ago, the book has been among the most popular of the works of native authors, and two generations have testified to its excellence. To the dramatist it has always presented a particularly difficult task, for the crowded incidents of the written page do not lend themselves readily to transposition to the stage. Lengthy descriptions and exhausted philosophical discussions possible to the author of a book, may not be resorted to by the writer for the theatre and the countless incidents which may with profit be brought to the attention of the reader are not available for the delectation of the auditor. Mr. Twomey's task therefore was a difficult one, and if the assertion of the management of "St. Elmo" is to be credited to the effect that Mr. Twomey's labor has brought forth a drama that will appeal to the most captious critic, he has achieved a notable result. The play has been staged under personal direction of the author and has the advantage of fitting scenic embellishment. The interpreting company, it is further promised, is made up of carefully selected players upon whom no effort of preparation has been spared.

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

The Great DANDERINE Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results.

It enlivens and invigorates the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, resulting in a continuous and increasing growth of the hair.

Letters of praise are continually coming in from nearly all parts of the country stating that Danderine has removed the growth of hair in cases that were considered absolutely hopeless.
A lady from Brooklyn writes: "After several trials my hair stopped falling, and I now have a lovely head of hair, very heavy and over one and a quarter inches long."

Danderine stimulates the scalp, makes it healthy and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp invigorator known. It is a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a small bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land; 3 sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00

Free To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and five in silver or stamps to pay postage.
