MONTPELIER

Funeral of the Late Henry W. Drew, Who Died Suddenly Tuesday.

The funeral services of Henry W. Drew were held yesterday afternoon at his late home and were largely attended. Rev. Stanley F. Bloomfield of Bethany church officiated. The pall bearers were G. T. Harvey of Bellows Falls, Fred Gibbs, Messrs. Clark and Wright of Boston. The bearers, who were all, except Mr. Holsington, employed in express company offices when Mr. Drew was in charge of the branch here, were G. H. Goodwin, Carl Walbridge, Herman Burley, Clarence Dudley, W. H. Holsington and E. E. Vandow.

The Montpelier seminary band is practicing regularly and trying to earn money to purchase music and uniforms.

Charles Parker and S. S. Ballard of this city attended the meeting of the Fat Men's club in Wells River last night. Rev. S. F. Bloomfield was presented yesterday with a handsome fur-lined coat as a Christmas gift, by the men of Bethany church.

The Montpelier Real Estate company has just sold the new house on its plot to Henry D. Holmes of the American Fidelity company and will build one or two more houses next spring.

A widow's pension of $25 a month has been granted to Mrs. Carrie Hovey, widow of Major H. W. Hovey, U. S. A., retired, of Northfield, through the offices of T. J. Desvitt of this city.

Harold Spaulding has entirely recovered from his light attack of scarlet fever, and it is expected that the quarantine will be removed to-day from the part of the building in which he has been confined at the seminary.

F. M. Morton of Highgate, representing several large lumber concerns of Canada, was here yesterday to obtain men to work in the woods as cutters. As lumber business is dull in Waterbury, he hired seven men there.

The shop of E. J. Ennis in opera house block has been purchased by H. F. Menard and E. M. Menard, the former having been employed in Springfield, Mass. They will take possession December 27 and will run the shop in connection with the one on Barre street, under the name of Menard Brothers' barber shop. Mr. Ennis will work in the same shop as formerly.

The committee appointed to revise the by-laws and see to other matters connected with the management of the Peabody fund, recently given to the seminary, will make its report before a meeting of the trustees Tuesday. The committee is made up of Hon. J. A. DeBoer, Rev. W. B. Smithers, Dr. E. A. Bishop, Henry Holt and Judge E. M. Harvey.

At a meeting of the merchants' committee of the board of trade, held last evening, it was voted to set apart Thursday of each week as "merchant's day," with special inducements by the merchants and the first such day will come Thursday of next week. Several thousand copies of The Journal will be distributed among the surrounding towns the previous Tuesday, and it is expected that the whole community will be greatly benefited by the increase of suburban trade.

The Presbyterian fair closed last night with a large attendance, the vestry being filled with an appreciative audience. The program consisted of a reading by Mrs. Stephenson, a solo by Mrs. John Morrison, and repetition of the dramatic farce, "Outwitting the Colonel," which was again received with delight on the part of the audience. The ladies were much gratified with the financial results of their labors and feel deeply grateful to all the friends who supported them so loyally in making their efforts successful.

The greatest social event of the year at Goddard will take place on New Year's night, when the Tufts College Glee and Banjo clubs will give one of their unique concerts in seminary hall. This has been one of the best college clubs in the country for a number of years, and the press reports this year indicate that it is up to its usual standard. The concert will be given at 7:30 and will be followed by a reception, with dancing until 12 o'clock. Reserved seats for the concert are 50 cents, and all who attend the concert are invited to remain and enjoy the dancing. It is especially hoped that members of the University club and boys and girls home from college will be present to meet the Tufts boys.
