W. T. Dewey went to Burlington today to represent the Sons of the American Revolution at the funeral of Daniel W. Robinson. Mr. Dewey is president of the society. Those from Burlington who represented it were Judges C. H. Darling, Hon. William VanPatten and Harry S. Howard.

Montpelier was very fortunate during the past year in the small number of fires in its midst. Only six were of sufficient magnitude to require the presence of fire fighters, the largest being the one at the Kane house on Barre street, July 23, which started in the night and was thought to be of incendiary origin. There were a few still alarms.

The Knights of Pythias held their regular meeting last night and elected the following officers: C. C. Harry Johnson, V. C. C. Lavoie, president; Andrew Probst, M. W. James, C. Cullen, M. A. Carpenter, M. F. Lee, D. Santer, M. E. Arthur, R. R. S. E. Knapp, trustee for three years, Frank R. Dawley. The third degree was worked on one candidate, after which a banquet was served.

Rev. Fred Daniels left Tuesday for Waitsfield, making the trip by team.

A. D. Hancock returned Tuesday from Claremont, N. H., who is spent Christmas with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Goss went last week to Wilder to spend the holidays at the home of Mrs. Goss' parents.

Mrs. George A. Tracy left Monday for Plattsburg, N. Y., being called there by the alarming illness of her sister, who is ill with pneumonia.

John W. Sprague, who last Saturday received a "knockout blow" by a fall upon the ice, has fully recovered from the injury and was able to return to school Wednesday.

The proposed trade of houses between Elmer E. Wallace and Mrs. Caroline Sanford has materialized, and the principals have been busy this week, each moving to their new home.

Mrs. Newell Bisby sustained a slight shock recently, but seems at this time to have nearly recovered from the effects of it and is able to be about the house and do her work as usual.

Charles H. Baraw commenced last week to harvest his winter's crop of ice. He is cutting the same on the bobbin shop pond and is securing an especially nice clear article, which is over a foot thick.

The probate court has recently appointed Henry and Frank Gates administrators of the estate of their father, the late Marshall O. Gates and Ernest A. Corwin and Almon B. Bicknell have been appointed commissioners on the estate.

Fred A. Ordway is having an icehouse built for the use of O. Fay Allen, who rents the old Tarbell block, in which he conducts his grocery store and restaurant. The new building is to be built in the rear of the block, between it and the barn.

Hon. and Mrs. Hale K. Darling left Monday afternoon for Corinth, to attend on Tuesday the funeral of the late Rev. Amos John M. Knight, who was instantly killed in Somerville, Mass., last Friday. After attending the funeral, Mr. Darling returned to his work in Brattleboro.

Edward C. Holmes, a former resident, who at the June term of Orange county court, 1907, was sentenced to the state prison at Windsor for a term of not more than four years nor less than three years, was on the 24th of December granted a conditional pardon by Governor George H. Prouty.

The annual meeting of the Orange County Creamery company will be held at the town clerk's office Thursday, January 6, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of changing and voting upon the report of its officers, electing officers for the ensuing year and to transact other proper business.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve a dinner in the Grange hall Tuesday, telephone day. With the Orange County hotel open "full blast," the ladies of the Methodist church and O. Fay Allen's restaurant to serve the public, it would seem that no one need go hungry, nor be obliged to wait for the other fellow to be served first.

Charles Clark of Bradford was, on the 8th day of December, convicted in Warren L. Craft's court of being an habitual drunkard and was sentenced to the reform school for a term of four years and was lodged in the county jail to await the raising of the quarantine at the reform school. Last week, the sentence was suspended and young Clark, who is but 14 years old, was placed in the custody of the county probation officer, who has secured a place for him in the family of Arthur J. Hanson of Tunbridge, where he went Christmas day.

EAST BARRE.

Death of Mrs. Lucia B. Durrell and Her Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucia B. Durrell was held from her late home Thursday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Towles of Washington officiating. The services were in charge of M. J. Whitcomb of East Barre. Mrs. Durrell leaves one sister, Mrs. William Wilson of Washington, and three nephews, Irving W. Bates of East Barre, Dr. Robert B. Wilson of Red Bank, N. J., and Stanley C. Wilson of Chelsea. There were present from away Hale C. Durrell and daughter, Mrs. W. H. Jones of Tunbridge, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Wilson of Chelsea; John and Miss Lucie Calef, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nye, Mr. and Mrs. George Huntington of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Bates of Barre City and many of the old neighbors and friends.

Mrs. Durrell was born here December 10, 1837. She began teaching in the district schools of her own town at the early age of fifteen and taught several terms successfully. On March 15, 1858, she was married to Charles F. Durrell of Tunbridge. They soon came here and located on a farm adjoining her father's and where she has always lived. Mr. Durrell passed away May 23, 1885, after quite a brief illness, following a stroke of paralysis, which had made him rather feeble for ten years, and during which time she had faithfully cared for him. Since then she had lived alone, except for Miss Ellen Bagley, who very kindly waited upon her until her sister could be with her, as she was the most of the time during the past few weeks, as was also Mrs. Bates.

Mr. Durrell of Tunbridge, the brother-in-law of Mrs. Durrell, is the last one of the family name now living in Vermont. Her parents, Alfred and Lucy Browning, passed away quite a few years ago. In her younger days, she always attended the Universalist church at Barre, and of which faith she remained a firm believer. Always very careful to remember the poor in any way she could, and to fully repay any kindness or favor done her she will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends at home, and even more so, if possible, by the many friends and relatives far away, who were accustomed to receive so many pleasant and cheerful letters from her, as she had a very large correspondence. The interment was in the Wilson cemetery, where her parents and husband were buried.

GRANITEVILLE.

Dance Friday evening at 7:30 in Miles' hall, Grantville. Admission, 50 cents per couple.

Millard and Dora Douglass are passing a week in Boston.

John Chase of Boston passed the holiday season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Chase.

A daughter, Olga Gertrude, was born at the sanatorium Monday night to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Osha.

Chief Judge J. W. Rowell was in Montpelier the first of the week arranging supreme court cases.

Mrs. P. E. Goss was gone to the home of her daughter Mrs. F. A. Holbrook, in New York for the winter.

Mrs. Hale Flint has been in Milton for a few days with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Herrick.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Emery have returned after an absence of five weeks in Mount Holly and Brownsville.

Mrs. Inez Moore and her two children are guests at the home of Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Marcott.

Leon Alexander has returned, after a few days' vacation, to his work for the Vermont Machine company in Bellows Falls.

Mrs. Bessie Lewis is passing her vacation from teaching in the Concord, Mass., schools here with her mother, Mrs. Fannie Lewis.

Mrs. Eugene Wardner and her daughter, Mrs. Delbert Hart, went to Plymouth, N. H., Wednesday, to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Udall.

Misses Lucille and Marjorie Wheeler and Miss Althea Beal of Molina, Ill., were recent visitors of Misses Gail and Genevieve Lamson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dulbois and infant son were in Montpelier for a few days the first of the week, the guests of Mrs. Dulbois' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gilborne.

Miss Genevieve Lamson, who is taking a course of study at the Bay Path institute in Springfield, is passing the vacation season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lamson.

L. H. Rumrill has been suffering severely for several days from an ailment in his nostril, which is now relieved, and Mrs. Rumrill, who has been ill with bronchitis, is now improving.

Miss Catherine Metzger of Boston arrived here Friday to remain over Christmas with friends, but returned on Sunday night to her duties as stenographer in the office of C. G. Dulbois, comptroller of the American Telegraph & Telephone company.

Mrs. James McCall and her nephew, Arthur Hernandez, of the Stone school in Boston and Stuart Levison of Columbia university came to Elm cottage last Friday, and C. N. McCall and Miss Gertrude Hernandez arrived from New York Thursday.

Fred Chadwick passed the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Chadwick, and will probably extend his vacation for a week. C. E. Kenworthy of Waterbury, Conn., was also a visitor in the same home, leaving for his city on Sunday night.

Miss Mary Pratt of Montpelier is here taking care of Mrs. O. S. Chamberlain, who is ill with a severe bronchial cold. Miss Rita Chamberlain, a teacher in the Montpelier schools and who is here during her vacation, fell on the sidewalk a few days ago and bruised her right side so badly that she can hardly walk.

HANCOCK

Misses Emma and Mabel Buttles are in Bristol for a short time.

Mrs. Ed Gleason has been entertaining her brother from Holyoke, Mass., a few days.

Abbie Eaton is having a short vacation from her duties in the post office at Rochester.

Miss Celia Bowen, who is teaching in Middlesex, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Norton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Rhodes of Randolph have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Ross Goodyear.

Several from this place attended the Christmas gathering at the home of W. Fifield Friday evening.

Chester Pierce has begun work in his mill in Churchville, with Mr. Dutton as engineer and his son as assistant, both of whom will board with W. W. Norton.

There was a large gathering at the Christmas exercises Saturday evening. There were recitations, songs and dialogues by the children and also music by the choir. The church was prettily decorated and the tree held many presents to please old and young. Santa Claus arrived to help distribute the gifts and added much to the pleasure of the children.

ROCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Spencer Had 25th Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Spencer were pleasantly reminded at Christmas time of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage by being presented several handsome pieces of silverware and linen and ten silver dollars by friends in the vicinity and out of town. Letters of congratulation were received and a poem, suitable to the occasion, was composed and read by Mrs. A. D. Martin of Hancock.

There was a dance at the home of Albert Curtis Friday evening.

James Eubar is busy cutting and drawing logs to the mill in Hancock.

Mrs. A. D. Martin and Miss Emily Harlow were guests at Sunnybank farm December 26.

Lumbermen in this vicinity say they never know the snow to be so deep in the woods so early in the season.

The Christmas exercises at the home of Almon Nye were well attended. The tree was laden with gifts for old and young, and the school children were especially remembered by gifts from their teachers.
