

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Barre Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty. When they fail to do this, the kidneys are sick. Backache and many kidney ills follow. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

RANDOLPH.

Recent Graduation of Nurses at Randolph Sanatorium.

The ceremony attending the graduation of nurses was recently held in the parlors of the Randolph sanatorium. The exercises consisted of a well-prepared paper by Mrs. J. P. Gifford, remarks by Dr. Gifford and Bailey, Rev. Frasier Metzger and L. B. Johnson.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Howe's Travel Festival at Opera House Tuesday Evening.

Any attraction that inspires its audience with new thoughts, that broadens our knowledge of the world in general and stimulates discussion is well worthy of liberal praise. Such an attraction is Lyman H. Howe's travel festival, to be at the opera house on Tuesday, February 1.

Travel with me Lyman H. Howe same time his exhibition imparts much information which could not be derived from any other source. The new program interests more different kinds of people than any other attraction before the public to-day, because of the great variety of its features. These include scenes of the most vital human interest, ranging from winter sports in St. Moritz, Switzerland, to tropical splendor in Delhi, India; from a spectacular volcanic eruption in Java, to the perils of deep-sea fishing in the North sea; from dangerous logging in the Italian Alps to life in the United States army; from intimate studies of bird life, to the impact of a projectile on armor plate.

Too Much Detail.

A much belated conductor on an east-bound car was asked by a chilly lady passenger to close the ventilators. As he had already been importuned to open them by half a dozen other patrons, he resorted to diplomacy.

"Madam," he replied in a confidential tone, "I'd gladly close the ventilators, but unfortunately a health officer is aboard and he insists that they must be left open. I'd make myself liable to a lot of trouble if I opposed him."

"A health officer?" replied the lady. "Yes'm," replied the conductor. And then, interested by the success of his scheme he impulsively added: "That's the man, three seats ahead—the one with the brown derby."

The lady looked and a change came over her face.

"The one with the brown derby?" she repeated.

"Yes'm. They say he's quite an expert on germs and things. I believe he's a German gentleman."

The lady started at the conductor. "He's nothing of the kind," she snapped. "The man with the brown derby is my husband!"

Whereupon the conductor beat a hasty retreat.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Henry J. Martin, on the old Aero Nichols farm, is getting out lumber for a silo next season.

Mrs. A. N. Fellows' brother, Surgeon Ralph W. Newton, is stationed at Fort Devens, Hull, Mass.

"The Two Collegians" is the farce comedy to be given by our high school at the grange hall on Saturday evening, March 5.

We hear of two of three Grand Army posts in the state in which the membership is as small—if not smaller—than that of our own post.

Andrew Burnham, local editor of the Williamstown Herald, is having quite a severe cold and cough just now and is otherwise in an unfeeling condition of body.

A daughter was recently born to Mrs. Gertrude Goodrich Witham, now of Littleton, a suburb of Denver, Colorado. Mrs. Witham is a daughter of the late Barnet Goodrich.

A Bernasconi, last year an Italian carver at the Granger-Berkett Granite company's shops, sends word of his recent marriage in Italy. He will return a little later with his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wood desire to express their sincerest thanks to the grange and to any and all who in any way contributed to the success of the benefit given them last Tuesday evening.

Sympathy for Bert Bruce in his present illness has led to contributions by his workmen of upwards of $50 in late days. We understand that his illness is favorably reported upon by physicians as yet.

Dr. Whitaker of Barre saw Bert Bruce on Thursday, and Dr. W. B. Mayo of Northfield saw him on Friday, both, we suppose, of course, in consultation with Dr. Hurley, who has the care of the case.

Townsmen J. M. Stone of the Clapton district has lately buried a sister, Miss Minnie E. Stone, who died in Rutland. Her sister, Margaret, lives. Their father was years ago a well-known clergyman hereabouts.

To-day was the day set for surgery in the case of Mrs. John Wilmore at the Boston hospital, and for a second operation in the case of Mrs. Varnoy, living on the old A. Kissam's Marble place, who is at the Mary Fletcher hospital.

The auditors of the town of Williamstown met at the town house on Wednesday, February 2, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of auditing the accounts of the town officers. All persons having accounts against the town should present them to the proper town officers on or before that date, if they wish settlement before the March meeting. Per order of the auditors.

Officers of Williamstown grange for 1910: Master, George T. Colby; overseer, Herman E. Smith; lecturer, Mrs. Fred Poor; steward, Don Staples; assistant steward, Theron G. Williams; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Theron Williams; chaplain, Mrs. George L. Williams; treasurer, Charles A. Briggs; secretary, Mrs. Martha E. Keating; gatekeeper, C. E. Adams; cress, Mrs. Carl W. Seaver; pomona, Mrs. George T. Colby; flora, Mrs. George H. Goodrich.

What Jerry M. Hutchinson doesn't know about fruit-growing in Williamstown may, or may not, be worth knowing. But he has had a large experience and good success. He has great faith in old Vermont for fruit. He has just ordered ten thousand strawberry plants from Massachusetts to put on an acre on the old Joel Bass, Jr. (later Asa S. Simonds') farm. A man can have a "farm" in Massachusetts any day with Hutchinson, when he is at leisure, and fruit-growing is the issue.

The next entertainment in our winter's course will be by Mr. Houston and wife, and the success of the Weeks concert last Monday evening may only sharpen the desire to hear the Houstons. Mr. Houston is called a great improviser and imitator, as well as musician of first quality. He is said to have a rival in his peculiar field of the imitations of musical instruments, such as the concert cello, and even of a band. His wife is a reader of exceptional ability, so said to be. But further notice shall come later; keep in mind the Houston entertainment.

Resolutions on the Death of Brother C. C. Staples.

Whereas, Our heavenly Father has removed from us our brother, C. C. Staples, who was one of the oldest members of our order, and one who performed any work assigned him willingly and cheerfully;

Whereas, We mourn his loss and will

CHelsea.

Mrs. Amos B. Wright, who has been spending several days in Barre City visiting friends, has returned home.

The recent long thaw has started a good many springs and wells in this vicinity, which have been dry for many months.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur P. Bancroft of Fairlee is in town on official business, Tuesday evening, and returned to his home, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Goodrich of Northfield were in town Saturday and Sunday, visiting friends, and were guests of Mrs. Lizzie Smith.

Mrs. Newell Birby, who suffered a shock about four weeks ago, since which time she has been steadily failing, is now very low and her death is expected at any moment.

James R. Leonard, assistant cashier in the National Bank of Orange County, returned the first of the week from Brandon, where he had spent a short vacation at his old home.

Joseph A. Tracy, who has been battling with the measles for the past four weeks, is convalescing slowly, but hopes to be able to return to his studies at the Albany Business college in the near future.

Orris B. Bradshaw, who has been working in Barre City since last spring, has finished work there for a time and has returned to town and is stopping temporarily at Herbert D. Corne's on the west hill.

States Attorney S. C. Wilcox was in Brookfield Tuesday evening to attend the annual installation of the officers elect of Mystic Star lodge, No. 97, F. and A. M. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilcox and other guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Patterson while there.

E. G. Moroy and grandson, Edward Colby of White, who have been spending several days at the home of the former's son-in-law, Walter S. Goss, on Main street, returned to their home, Wednesday. Mr. Moroy was a major in the British army, and is an unusually pleasant and interesting gentleman to meet.

Mrs. Cornelius Seales, who suffered a shock a few months since, remains in a very feeble condition. Miss Nora Smith, who has been caring for her for several weeks, has finished her services there and returned to her home and her place is taken by Mrs. Mahlon Young of Tunbridge.

Norman Hill, who has been entertaining the measles for the last two weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to be out of doors again but as yet has not returned to his old place in the Chelsea meat market. During his enforced vacation, his place has been filled by Everett Spear.

Mrs. Nellie V., wife of Elmer J. Flinders, has undergone a serious operation at the Mary Fletcher hospital at Burlington, where she has been for the past two weeks. Mr. Flinders left Wednesday morning for Burlington to remain until Mrs. Flinders is able to return home with him.

Jack Joslyn, who has been serving a sixty days' sentence in county jail for intoxication, during which time he has worked as a hostler in B. H. Adams' livery and sale stable, has completed his sentence, and having been a faithful and pains-taking employee, will remain in the employ of Mr. Adams for an indefinite time.

The entertainment given at the opera house Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Chelsea Entertainment society, by "The Weeks company" was one of the best entertainments of the kind that our people have had the opportunity to attend here for many a year. As uncertainties they completely filled the hall and fully sustained the very flattering reputation with which they came to us.

Saved at Death's Door.

The door of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayers of Transit Bridge, N. Y., when his life was wonderfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, emaciated from losing 40 pounds, growing weaker daily, violent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Then I used matches medicine—Electric Bitters—cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and now am well and strong." For all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're supreme, 50c at the Red Cross Pharmacy.
