

TOURISTS FIRED UPON

One American Woman Badly Injured

AND ANOTHER SLIGHTLY

State Department at Washington Got Dispatch To-day, Telling of an Attack on Visitors in Jerusalem.

Washington, D. C., March 10.—Jerusalem dispatches to the state department say that Afghan fanatics fired upon a party of Americans, seriously wounding Miss P. Moore of Terre Haute, Ind., and slightly injuring Miss Matilda Maurice of New York.

MASS ASSEMBLY WAS FORBIDDEN

But Philadelphia Strikers Insisted on Meeting in National League Baseball Park.

Philadelphia, March 10.—Despite Director of Public Safety Clay's order, prohibiting a strikers' meeting in the National League base ball park this afternoon the strikers have posted orders to all strikers to assemble to march to the meeting. If they persist a clash with the police is expected. All the striking carmen to-day received five dollars, the first strike benefits paid.

Business interests are fearful that the strike may become state or national, and a big meeting will be held tomorrow to make a new effort to settle. There were no disturbances even to-day.

The success of the strike leaders in inducing somewhat over 1,000 employees in the Baldwin works to walk out yesterday afternoon, following the early morning desertion of possibly as many more, was the most striking development of the day yesterday in the local situation. This alone was enough to cause the committee of 10 in charge of the general strike to regard the day as its most successful day.

The strike leaders, however, were seemingly satisfied that they had won their most important victory and last night announced that not only had many hundred men from other plants joined the ranks of the strikers, but that the next day or two would witness even more important accessions to their ranks.

To the threat of a country wide strike if the local traction heads did not agree to arbitration with their men, the officials of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company made curt response, announcing that they had said their last word on arbitration and that if the widespread strike depended on its yielding to the arbitration demand, the strike would have to come. Other evidences, too, were given by the city's employees of labor many classes that there was confidence in their ranks that a national strike could not, or would not, be forced and that the sympathetic movement in the city, potent as it now appeared, would wear itself out. Several firms announced that their hands were returning to work and others announced that they had consent to wait and let time work for them.

THIRTY-TWO PAPER MILLS INVOLVED

In Strike of International Paper Company Employees—Fifty Strike Breakers On Hand To-day—No Local Disturbances Yet.

Glens Falls, N. Y., March 10.—Fifty strike breakers are here to replace the three hundred employees of the International Paper company, who walked out to join the strike, which forecloses to these thirty-two mills of the paper trade. There has been no local disturbance yet either here or at Corinth, where Company L, of the state guard is doing strike duty. Ten thousand men will probably be involved by tomorrow.

REFORMER ARRESTED.

On Mayor's Order and Was Later Released.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 10.—Logan M. Bullitt, son of the father of Philadelphia's mayor, the Bullitts, and himself prominent in civil reform movements, was arrested last night by order of Mayor Heyburn and locked in a cell in the city hall, when he endeavored to save the mayor with a subpoena in an equity suit, brought by a committee of citizens against the city officials.

Bullitt is the head of the committee, which has been making an exhaustive investigation of the city's financial affairs and has threatened to tie up all further expenditures by two bills in equity, filed some time ago in the local courts. When Mr. Bullitt called at the mayor's office, the city's chief executive refused to see him. Bullitt then stationed himself in the corridor and refused to leave when ordered by Detective McFadden, the mayor's body guard. Although he explained that he was an officer of the court and waiting to subpoena the mayor, the detective took him up stairs to the cell room, where he was stated and then locked up. Mayor Heyburn told reporters, who were having their regular evening interview with him, that he accepted full responsibility for McFadden's act. Later in the evening Bullitt was released on an order signed by Magistrate Gorman.

TRENTON CAR MEN ON STRIKE.

Walk Out Following Refusal of Raise. New Jersey Tieup Feared.

Trenton, N. J., March 10.—With the employees of the Trenton Street Railway company demanding 23 cents an hour, a raise of 4 1/2 cents, a 10-hour day, recognition of the Amalgamated Association of the Electric Street Railway Employees of America, and the return to duty of men recently discharged because of their activity in working on strike last night, following the refusal of the company to accede to the demands.

The company refuses absolutely to accede to the demand that the union be recognized, or even admit that certain men have been discharged for fomenting the union, which is new here. They will not put back to work men recently discharged, saying these men were laid off for the good of the service.

There is no disorder. Henry J. Gottlieb, vice-president of the State Federation of Labor, said last night that the move, led by Thomas N. McCarter, president of the public service corporation, on record in Newark against receiving any committee from the Amalgamated association, possibly is the prelude to an extended street car men's strike in New Jersey.

FOSTER MAY GET FATAL POSITION

In Case of Congressman Perkins' Death He Will Be the Ranking Man for Chairman of House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Washington, D. C., March 10.—The critical illness of Representative James Brock Perkins emphasizes the fact that a strange fate seems to be pursuing the chairmanship of the house foreign affairs committee. The first victim was Representative Robert Hitt, of Illinois, probably the most famous chairman of the foreign affairs committee, who died some seven or eight years ago. Hitt, in an unfortunate moment, decided to run for the vice-presidential nomination, made the race for the prize, and died of a broken heart soon after his defeat.

Following him the chairmanship fell to the late Representative "Dick" Adams of Pennsylvania. Adams committed suicide, supposedly on account of financial reverses. The chairman's shoes then fell to Robert Conner, of Iowa, who for a number of years was one of the recognized leaders of the congressional younger set. Conner, soon after succeeding Adams, failed in health and retired from Congress.

Now, fourthly, Mr. Perkins is stricken and according to the news received from his bedside at Garfield hospital, can scarcely recover. Representative David Foster of Vermont, is the ranking Republican member of the foreign affairs committee and if Mr. Perkins dies, will naturally succeed.

Some members are wondering whether Foster may not hesitate to accept the place in view of the rather terrifying history that the honor bears. As he is a very energetic, New Englander and about the last man on the floor to be swayed by superstitious fears, it is dollars to pennies that he will take the place, if the speaker offers it to him. If he does take it his friends believe that he will "break the spell."

SURE, FOSS WILL RUN.

Former Vermont Decides to Be Candidate for Congress.

Boston, March 10.—Eugene M. Foss, Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts at the last state election, decided today to run as a Democratic candidate to succeed the late Congressman W. C. Lovering in the fourth district. He will oppose W. R. Buchanan of Brockton, the Republican nominee. Foss and the Democratic state committee were in conference here to-day.

BRITAIN'S NEW NAVY ESTIMATES

Expenditures Will Total $203,018,500 in 1910, Increase of $27,805,000 Over 1909.

London, March 10.—The navy estimates for 1910, which were issued by the admiralty last night, provide for the expenditure of $203,018,500, an increase of $27,805,000 over 1909. The increase is almost wholly taken up by shipbuilding, armaments, and other items authorized by Parliament before dissolution.

The new program provides for five large armored ships, five protected cruisers, 20 destroyers and a considerable number of submarines. By April 1 there will be under construction seven battleships, three armored cruisers, and two torpedo cruisers, 37 destroyers and nine submarines.

The estimates further provide for an increase of 3,000 men in the personnel of the navy, and the completion during 1911 of two floating docks to accommodate the largest battleships. These will be stationed at Portsmouth and Medway. Ronald McKenna, first lord of the admiralty, in an explanatory statement, announces the formation of a new naval mobilization department and a permanent navy war council, consisting of the first sea lord as president, the directors of the naval intelligence and naval mobilization departments and other officials, to deal with all matters relating to preparation for war.

Rev. James P. Harper, who has been pastor of the Congregational church at North Bennington for nearly five years, will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday and will soon after leave for Wilton, Mass., where he has accepted a call extended by the First Congregational church.

CHASING A NEGRO.

An Angry Mob on Trail to a Georgia Town.

Following a dispute Tuesday with Roland K. Kilo, assistant overseer of the plantation on which Randall is employed, Randall and his wife attacked Kilo, who was stabbed by the woman. Early yesterday morning, Randall stabbed R. Stratford, the overseer, as the latter was entering the plantation commissary. Stratford drew his pistol, but the negro managed to gain possession of it and shot Stratford to death. Randall's wife, with a baby in her arms, and two small children by her side, crossed the river to the Alabama side. There has been no attempt to arrest the woman.

"GODFATHER" EXPLAINS.

Attorney Max Powell Tells of His Connection with Knox Elopement.

Burlington, Mar. 10.—In a letter to the Burlington Free Press to-day, Max L. Powell explains his position in the Knox-Dowler elopement. "As any vow of secrecy is now abolished, I will state my connection with the much heralded Knox-Dowler elopement. "Last Sunday morning, as I was starting for church, I had a phone call from Champlain, N. Y. A prominent attorney there, a long-time friend and one to whom I was indebted for many favors, shows me a letter over the phone that young Knox, a classmate at Andover of his son, and his fiancée were at his house and had eloped, that the New York law required consent of parents and inquired as to our marriage law. I inquired into age and he said 21 for Knox and 18 for the bride. I told him that under our law they were of age, that no consent was necessary, and that any town or city clerk would issue a license, those facts existing. He asked as a special favor to him if I would assist them to obtain a license and I consented. My first question to Knox was as to his age, and he said he was born in 1888, and he so stated to the clerk. Her age both gave as 18. "Both stated that they had been engaged for eight months, that their parents knew and approved but wanted them to wait a year, and young Knox stated that he was following in the footsteps of his elder brother, who also eloped. My friend from Champlain in his phone message spoke in the highest terms of the young lady and said she had stayed with his daughter Saturday night and her position was exceedingly embarrassing, and he urged me on her account to do what I could. The situation then was this: Here was a couple who had eloped—no consent of that kind—President Cleveland's first administration, for several years a member of the board of appeals of the pension department at Washington, returning to Ellsworth three years ago, and one of the best known lawyers in Maine, dropped dead in Postoffice square yesterday of heart disease.

For many years he was a leader of the Democratic party in Maine, but of late years had been affiliated with the Republican organization. He was a delegate to the national convention, which nominated Tilden and Hancock for president. In 1884-5 he was mayor of Ellsworth after serving four years as judge of the municipal court. He also held the latter office at the time of his death, having been reappointed two years ago. Mr. Redman had been in the public service all his life. He was 62 years old, was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1870 and never was married.

WILL HAVE HOTEL.

That Much Burlington Feels Assured Of.

Burlington, March 10.—"The Hotel Burlington will be rebuilt," said R. E. Brown yesterday, speaking for a purchaser of the property whose name is withheld. "I cannot at this time," continued Mr. Brown, "divulge who the man is, whether he is from this city or from out of town. I will say, however, that he is a hotel man of long experience. A deposit has been made with Mr. Delaney, the owner of record of the property and as soon as the title of the property can be cleared, the mortgages paid off, etc., the transfer will be made and the work begun of clearing away the ruins preparatory to rebuilding. "It ought not to be more than a week or ten days before the transfer can be made. The purchaser will erect a modern hotel on the site of the burned structure. Further than this I cannot say."

Mr. Delaney was seen by a reporter, but he referred him to Mr. Brown as his counsel. He said that the sale was in process of consummation. He said that if himself was not at the purchase of the hotel Burlington property, Mr. Powell, as trustee of the property, said Mr. Delaney, "had an option on it, which he has failed, as yet, to take advantage of. The amount of money that I had to pay on mortgages and other expenses incident to the care of the property have been large and I do not care to pay them longer. "A deposit has been made by the purchaser and the transfer will be made soon."

Neither Mr. Delaney nor Mr. Brown have authority to sell the hotel property," said Max L. Powell, in response to a question as to the reported sale of the hotel Burlington property. Mr. Powell is the principal mortgagee of the hotel real estate and trustee for Mr. Delaney's creditors. "No sale can be made without my consent as trustee, and holder of the mortgages on the property," continued Mr. Powell, "and as yet I have not given my consent. There is absolutely nothing to say in the newspapers in regard to the sale as yet."

There is a rumor current that the new purchaser of Hotel Burlington property is ex-Governor U. A. Woodbury, but this could not be certified at the Van Ness, Ex-Governor Woodbury is expected home from the South in a week or so.

TOOK TASK FROM JURY

Litigants Settled Case in County Court

BARRE BANK PLAINTIFF

Administrator of Cabot Man's Estate Sues Insurance Company for Interest on Fire Insurance Policy. Barre Liqueur Case Up.

Just after arguments had been made in Washington county court late yesterday and before Judge Butler had started to charge the jury in the assumpt case of Barre Savings Bank & Trust company vs. Charles Elison of South Ryegate, the parties to the suit got together and settled the case, so that the entry, "settled and discontinued," was entered on the docket. The nature of the settlement is not known, but it is understood that there was a cash transfer. The bank was suing the defendant to recover $141.68 on a note signed by William Eraser and endorsed by the defendant. After the settling of that case, it was announced that a settlement had been reached in the similar case of the Barre Savings Bank & Trust company vs. George Roben, also of South Ryegate, and a like entry was made on the docket. When court resumed this morning, the case of Michael Montgomery, administrator for the estate of the late Levi J. Walbridge of Cabot, vs. the Union Mutual Fire Insurance company of Montpelier was started, the plaintiff suing to collect interest on a fire insurance settlement. The plaintiff asked for interest from the time of proof of loss to time of payment, a period of about five years, which would make the amount about $300. The plaintiff did not put in any evidence. Advertiser Denoy testified for the defendant company stating that his company had tried several times to pay the amount of the insurance but each time Mr. Walbridge had stated that there was an attachment on the property and putting the company off. J. H. Senter represents the latter in the present action, and Harold B. Howe the plaintiff. The jury which heard the case is: P. C. Danforth and E. W. Wiley of Barre; Towns Solomons, Robert and B. B. Batchelder of Plainfield, William Collier, of Barre City, E. J. Foster of Waterbury, William Freeman of Warren, Warren B. Goodell of Woodbury, Lee Lane and Herbert Wells of Marshfield, John Murphy of Fayston and Grant Templeton of Worcester.

This morning Victoria LaPlier and Francis Decollet of Barre were arraigned before the court on the charge of illegal keeping of liquor, having been bound over from the Barre municipal court. Bail was fixed at $500, which was furnished by James Decollet. "A number of diverse proceedings have been entered to-day, as follows: Cora Eastham vs. William J. Eastham, Catherine E. Marston vs. James Marston (of Montpelier), William Bassett vs. Mahitza S. Bassett, D. W. Hunt vs. Lulah Hunt, Bertha Hastings vs. Hiram G. Hastings, Cora Hinkley vs. Alfred Hinkley, Ella Hill vs. Oris Hill, Myrtle Amara vs. Antonio Amara, Beattie Folsom vs. Percy O. Folsom.

FRONT OVER FARM.

Is Being Aired in Chittenden County Court.

Burlington, March 10.—The case of John Schillhammer vs. Fanny S. Clerk in, an action of assumpsit of recover $475, was begun yesterday afternoon in Chittenden county court, it being the first case to be tried at the present term. I. F. Wilbur appears for the plaintiff and R. E. Brown and V. A. Bullard for the defendant. The litigants reside in Jericho. The plaintiff sets up that the defendant purchased a farm of the late M. H. Packard of Jericho, when a mortgage on the farm was given back by Mr. and Mrs. Clerk. The plaintiff, Mr. Schillhammer, at that time endorsed seven mortgage notes for husband and wife. This was followed by the death of Mr. Clerk, and Mrs. Clerk gave up the farm. It was agreed that Mrs. Clerk should pay $50 to Mr. Packard and give a warrant deed to the farm. Mr. Schillhammer was released from his liability by paying $75 to Mr. Packard and getting his notes. The defense will try to prove that the transaction involving the transfer of the property to Mr. Packard included the cancellation of the notes.

ON OLD OFFENSE.

Larry Wilmont Goes to Jail at Chelsea for Three Months.

Chelsea, March 10.—In August, 1908, March M. Wilson, then state's attorney of this county, issued a complaint against Larry Wilmont of East Thetford for selling intoxicating liquor contrary to law, and until Monday of this week Wilmont had successfully evaded arrest by keeping out of the state. But Monday, however, Deputy Sheriff George M. Wilson of Post Mills learned the fact that Wilmont was within his jurisdiction, and in short order gathered him in, and on Tuesday at least Thetford Wilmont was brought before Justice of the Peace C. C. Emerson. He entered a plea of not guilty, whereupon the present state's attorney, S. C. Wilson, proceeded to put in the state's evidence, and after having his memory refreshed by a rehearsal of the evidence, the respondent retraced his original plea and entered a plea of guilty. Justice Emerson sentenced him to hard labor in the county jail for a term of not less than three months nor more than five months, and Deputy Wilson made the commitment to the popular county hooley Tuesday evening.

WANT STATE AID.

Many Burlington Voters Seek Some of Good Things.

Burlington, March 10.—Mayor Burke received a petition yesterday, signed by a large number of legal voters, asking that a city meeting be called to see if they will vote to raise a sum of money not to exceed $200 to be expended upon the city highways, in excess of the amount required by law to be raised for highways, and whether they will authorize the city council to appropriate such excess for the benefit of the highways. If the city votes to expend $200, the state will furnish an additional $300. A similar offer was declined last year.

The fire was discovered shortly after the men went to dinner and the cause is unknown. For a time the greatest excitement prevailed as the building was located directly in the center of the village, but by hard work, the firemen, with the hand pump, saved adjoining property.

Business Block at Corner of Main and Elm Streets

AND STRAIGHTEN STREET

Trustees of Aldrich Fund Voted Last Night to Erect Three-story Business Block Where "1802" Building Now Stands.

The Aldrich library trustees voted at their meeting last evening to erect a three-story business block in place of the present building, now occupied by the National Bank of Barre and Merchant & Fraser's grocery store. The work of construction will be begun as soon as practical. In preparation for the erection of this new block, the library trustees have passed deeds with the city, so that Main street, from the Wood block to the corner, can be straightened. Mrs. Helen Fowler and Henry Wood Fowler, owners of the Wood block, have deeded to the Aldrich library trustees the land lying between the Wood block and the National bank building, and have also released the restrictions on the land between the buildings, which is covered by a deed to Mr. Aldrich of 1885. These concessions give the trustees a lot large enough on which to erect a block with a depth of 60 feet along the end of the Wood property, and close up to it. The new block will have 44 feet frontage on Main street and 80 feet on Elm street. The new building will be arranged for stores on the first floor, and the second and third will be given over to offices. But for the concessions of Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, the trustees would not be able to erect so satisfactory a structure on the lot, and as this assistance is without material expense to the trustees they feel very grateful to the donors of the land. A committee has been appointed to select an architect and secure plans.

This light will be burned all night and is one of several which the city will have installed in the darkest places on the principal streets for all night burning. The light is hung from an electric pole opposite Jack's luge room and it is terped on and off by the police. The company put on a 150-watt light, instead of a 40-watt, which the city ordered. C. Q. Church of Whiting is visiting in Montpelier for a few days with friends, many of whom he made while there last year as a member of the legislature. Mr. Church has just returned from South Africa, where he went about six months ago with a cargo of sheep.
