paid in procuring the loan." His stand taken in committee of the whole last Thursday, as reported by the Congressional Record, cannot be reproduced here in full, but the following parts of it are of especial interest:—

"Mr. Page. Mr. President, I have not in my own mind very much doubt but that the senator will succeed in his contest, but I want to say for one that this precedent which he speaks of as having been established in the case of New Jersey—

"Mr. Kean. I beg the senator's pardon, New Jersey was not the only state. I do not doubt, if the senator from Vermont will look over the records of the state of Vermont, he will find that the state of Vermont was reimbursed every dollar the state had ever advanced or any citizen of that state had ever advanced.

"Mr. Page. Mr. President, I am glad to be corrected by the senator from New Jersey, if it is a correction; but I do not so understand it. The state of Vermont paid out $170,000 for a service similar to that which is mentioned in this bill, and a good many years afterwards—I am sure it was in 1891—the state of Vermont was reimbursed; but we never received one dollar of interest.

"Mr. Crawford. If the senator will permit, if I understand this claim right, it is not at all a charge of the state of Pennsylvania for interest upon money advanced by it; it is a claim of Pennsylvania to be reimbursed for what it actually paid out, not interest on money which it had advanced, but to be reimbursed for actual cash which it paid out to reimburse its citizens who furnished the money to pay for the militia. Those citizens had borrowed the money and had paid interest in the loan, and they were reimbursed by the state, and this bill is to reimburse the state that cash, without any interest on the cash so advanced.

"Mr. Page. That is purely a distinction without a difference. The state of Vermont and other states borrowed money during the war. We paid the interest on the money borrowed, and when we came to the department here at Washington and asked to be reimbursed, they gave us what we paid out, with no allowance for interest.

"If this bill is to pass, I want to give notice here and now that a bill will be reintroduced to reimburse Vermont for interest which she paid out on what we advanced. I do not believe that Vermont ought to ask it. I do not believe that Pennsylvania ought to ask it. We are adopting a rule which we do not usually practice here in the payment of claims; that is, to pay interest.

"I hope the bill will not pass; but if it does, I do not want any senator hereafter to rise in his place and say that I am wrong if I introduce a bill to reimburse Vermont for the interest she paid out."

The passage of this bill—it did pass, despite Senator Page's opposition—to reimburse Pennsylvania means a perfect avalanche of bills to pay all the other loyal states for interest they paid on loans or for "expenses" in procuring the loans. It looks like a distinct commencing of our patriotism and the transformation of it to actual dollars and cents. The "sacrifices" which the states made during the Civil war thus become mere business transactions, which the states in later years seize upon to extort penny for penny from an already overburdened national government.

Salaries of Mayor

The salary of Barre's mayor has been increased from $250 to $350 per year. Rutland is somewhat more modest in its mayor's salary, but it is doubtful whether Barre or any other city in Vermont gets any better service from its mayor than Rutland did for the $200 salary, which Mayor Carpenter named for the past year. The board of aldermen were disposed to be more liberal but Rutland's executive vetoed the move.—Rutland News.

No "Buddy Sap"

In a recent address before a party of scientists Prof. H. A. Edson, who is associated with the Vermont Experiment station at Burlington, said: "Maple sap within the vascular bundles of the tree is free from micro-organisms, but it becomes heavily inoculated with yeasts, molds and bacteria, in the tap holes, spout and buckets. This infection becomes increasingly heavy with the advance of the season, and is the cause of the dark color and buddy flavor of late run material. When micro-organisms are excluded even the last run syrup is of light amber color and possesses a fine delicate flavor." This does away with the idea of "buddy sap." It means that the dark color and inferior flavor of syrup made from late run sap is due to the fact that micro-organisms develop more rapidly and affect the sap as the season advances and the weather becomes warmer rather than any influence exercised by the swelling of buds as the old time sugar maker believed.—Rutland News.

Points Regarding the Census.

The census begins April 15 and must be completed in thirty days. The enumerators will wear a badge inscribed "United States Census, 1910."

The law requires every adult person to furnish the prescribed information, but also provides that it shall be treated confidentially. So that no injury can come to any person from answering the questions.

The census bureau, prior to April 15, will distribute to every farm owner and tenant in this state, a blank or schedule containing the census questions relative to farm operations and equipment. This should be filled up, if possible, not later than the morning of April 15, but if anyone has been unable to fill it up by that time, he should do it as soon afterwards as he can.

People who do not speak English, or who do not understand the schedule completely, should get help from others, if possible, in filling it up.

The president has issued a proclamation, calling on all citizens to co-operate with the census and assuring them that it has nothing to do with taxation, army or jury service, compulsory school attendance, regulation of immigration, or enforcement of any law, and that no one can be injured by answering the inquiries.

It is of the utmost importance that the farm census of this state be complete and correct.

Therefore every farm owner and tenant should promptly, fully, and accurately fill up the "advance farm schedule" and carefully preserve it for the enumerator when he calls.

The Comet Did It.

Until it reached the big blue skies,
And filled the angels with surprise?
The comet!

What made the Lady Boss condemn—
Oh, comet,
My coming home at 3 a. m.?

What made—and here's the thought that stings:
That chap hold axes to my kings?
A little bird serenely sings:
The comet!

CO-OPERATING WITH CENSUS TAKERS.

The attention of readers of this paper is directed to the statement of Census Director Durand, to be found in another column, respecting the great work which is to be done beginning on Friday. The taking of the United States census is becoming a greater task every ten years, and to do it properly the census bureau requires the co-operation of the entire people of the nation. That means that each individual should take it upon himself to see that the work of the enumerator in his district is made as easy as possible. The answers to the prescribed questions should be readily given, with the understanding that the information is to be held in confidence. This refers particularly to the agricultural census, and farm owners and tenants are urged to lend their cooperation to the end that the results may be accurate.

SELLING PATRIOTISM AT A PREMIUM.

Senator Page of Vermont may have made some mistakes in learning the ropes of the Senate, but his constituents in Vermont are pleased to see that he can fight vigorously for what he considers to be the right in the matter of the United States government reimbursing the state of Pennsylvania for interest on money borrowed to pay state militia during the Civil war. Senator Page makes no objection to the proposition to pay states for the principal paid their militia, but he does think it wrong to demand interest on the state's loans and, furthermore, to demand "the expenses which it
