

ENGLAND IS DUMFOUNDED

By Bluntness of Roosevelt's Challenge To It

TO LIVE UP TO ITS DUTIES

If England Is Incompetent to Carry Out Work in Egypt, Then Get Out and Let Some Other Nation Do It

London, May 31.—England to-day fell the wish of the "big stick." In famous Guildhall Theodore Roosevelt in response to the speech making him an honorary citizen of the city, assailed England's administration in Egypt and virtually declared that England should rule with a stronger hand or get out of the country and leave its government to more fit countries.

"If you feel that you ought not to be in Egypt and have no desire to keep order there, by all means get out. If you feel that it is your duty to civilization to stay there, show yourselves ready to meet the responsibilities of your position." This was Roosevelt's ringing arraignment of the British government's policy in Egypt.

Although the speaker was frequently applauded during his speech there was no real enthusiasm in his reception, the audience being perplexed by the speech. Roosevelt generally lauded the English and German colonization work in Africa, comparing it to America in the Philippines, the occupation of which he said had been a distinct benefit.

Today's bestial of honorary citizen was because of the work he had done in the cause of peace. Cheering crowds lined the streets as Roosevelt was driven to the hall from Dorchester house.

In the lead was the mayor's coach with an escort of mounted police. Mrs. Roosevelt, Kermit, Miss Ethel and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth were present at the exercises.

WAR GLORIOUS, SO IS PEACE

Masterly Appeal for Partial Disarmament

MADE BY REV. F. A. POOLE

Memorial Day Exercises in Barre Were Largely Attended Yesterday—Veterans Decorated Graves of Their Comrades.

Faithful to their duty of remembering their dead comrades on Memorial day, the gray-haired and fast aging veterans of R. R. Crandall post, No. 96, G. A. R., of this city yesterday morning held one of the most inspiring and impressive observances of the day that they have had in several years past.

RETURNING FROM THE CEMETERY, THE VETERANS WENT TO THE OPERA HOUSE HALL, WHERE THE FOLLOWING ORDER OF EXERCISES WERE CARRIED OUT: Selection by a quartet comprised of L. G. Griffiths, Miss Margaret Cornell, William Inglis and Miss Jessie Robertson; reading of general orders by Adjutant L. H. Thurston; salute to the dead by Capt. A. H. Dodge; selection by quartet; tribute to the unknown dead and reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by comrade A. J. Baldwin; selection by quartet; prayer by the Rev. Edward C. Downey; singing by the "Americas"; address, "The Glory of War and the Glory of Peace," by the Rev. F. A. Poole.

THE SPOKER IS WELL KNOWN TO BARRE AUDIENCES, HAVING BEEN RECENTLY PASTOR OF THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH IN THIS CITY, AND HE WAS GREETED WITH AN AUDIENCE YESTERDAY THAT NEARLY FILLED THE AUDITORIUM OF THE HOUSE. THE ATTENDANCE NUMBERED ABOUT 600 AND WAS MUCH LARGER THAN THE USUAL ATTENDANCE AT MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES. AS WAS EXPECTED, REV. MR. POOLE GAVE ONE OF THE MOST ELUQUENT, INSPIRING AND MASTERFUL ADDRESSES EVER HEARD ON MEMORIAL DAY IN BARRE, AND HE WAS GIVEN A GREAT OVACTION AT THE CLOSE.

HE SAID IN PART: We are gathered once more on the day set apart to commemorate the nation's heroic dead. It is a sacred day. It will be so for shame if we ever for a moment forget the men who fell in war for our country's honor. We call them our nation's heroic dead, and truly so they are. They are the men who risked their lives to vindicate the country's fair name and to preserve its honor. There is a halo of glory around this sacrifice. For there is glory in the battle, when man meets man, to shoot each other down.

WHERE IS THE VETERAN OF OUR CIVIL WAR, WHO CAN REMAIN UNMOVED WHEN THE NAME OF THE BELOVED COMMANDER UNDER WHOSE LEADERSHIP HE FOUGHT IS MENTIONED? There are heroes of battles that caused a thrill, and how many of these battles and heroes have been celebrated in verse and song? There is a bright halo, which shines above all great wars. It is the glory of winning a great contest in a great way. It is the glory of fame secured through superior ability, courage and skill. When glory and honor are at stake, man will not hesitate to risk his life, for man at his best has no capacity for self sacrifice.

THE MOST GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF WAR IS "HELL." One of the greatest wrongs has so depicted it, and he knew what he spoke. It is the sphere where human brother faces brother to strike each other down. Some go down in instant death and others linger in suffering and anguish before the end relieves them, and still others are named for life. Sometimes there are those who are most anxious for war, but are the least willing to hear its consequences. There have been wars promoted and waged purely by men who are to be commercially benefited by it, and to both of these kinds of men, I say, "selfish, despicable cowards."

THERE ARE MANY WAYS IN WHICH WAR IS A KILLING, and so must it not stand out in bright relief, when there is more glory in peace than in war? Hallowed are the peacemakers. Therefore there is not a shining glory awaiting the men who are striving for arbitration and the settlement of all international questions in a peaceful manner? Once a man's hands are made his fingers and he is called in and guarded and armed in readiness for battle. To-day, would we not equip it absurd for a man to so equip his home? And so, I say, it is not justly as absurd to equip the nation's home to the great extent that it now being carried out as such an enormous expense.

SMALL WONDER IT IS THAT THE GREAT ARMAMENT OF THE NATION IS CALLED A SATIRE ON CIVILIZATION. It has been cited that great navies and great armies make for peace, but, strangely enough, in the days when homes were so fortified, it was not in the days of feudal wars, when there was continuous fighting. Homes were not equipped with fortresses then, so that neighbors could shake hands in friendly concord over their backyard fences.

AT THIS POINT THE SPOKER SAID THAT, ALTHOUGH HE WAS A GREAT ADMIRER OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT, a man whose greatness has ever been exaggerated, although a nation, a man who put vitalizing moral blood in the nation that I believe is destined to cause a new era of health and vigor in this country, he
