

TAFT TURNS TO PUBLICITY

He Adds to His Legislative Programme Bill

FOR CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY

Has Assurances the Measure Will Pass, Signs the Statehood Bill and Feels That the Session Has Made a Record for His Party.

Washington, June 21.—Encouraged by the success that has attended his legislative program up to this time, President Taft decided yesterday to make an issue of the passage by Congress before the adjournment of the present session of the bill providing for the publicity of campaign contributions in all campaigns affecting federal offices.

The president sent for party leaders in both House and Senate and told them that he had made a personal pledge during the last presidential campaign to do what he could toward furthering the enactment of a publicity bill. The president had hesitated to add this bill to his program, however, while Congress was devoting itself to those measures in which they had definitely committed themselves in their platform.

Now that the program is practically completed, he has decided to bring all of his influence to bear in behalf of the publicity bill.

Mr. Taft took Senator Burrows of Michigan for a long automobile ride Sunday. Mr. Burrows is chairman of the committee on elections. When he and the president parted, it was with the understanding that the campaign publicity bill would soon be called up. Yesterday the president secured the consent of Senator Brandegee temporarily to lay aside the Appalachian forest reserve bill, in order that the publicity bill might be given the right of way as the unfinished business of the Senate, following the disposition of the postal savings bank bill. The president does not anticipate any serious trouble in getting the bill through the House.

The opening of what is expected to be the last week of the congressional session found the president in good spirits yesterday. The home-coming of Colonel Roosevelt and the cordial exchange of personal messages between him and President Taft lent an added interest to White House events yesterday. Mr. Taft feels that he has accomplished all that he set out to do at the present session of Congress, and the fact that the publicity bill is to be added to the achievements seemed especially to please him.

Despite the criticisms that have been heaped upon him, Mr. Taft, according to his close friends, believes he has given his party a good record. And, when it comes to the campaign this fall, the president, in whatever he has to say, will not attempt to pass the new tariff law by, but will defend it again. Senators and representatives at the White House were inclined to the view that Congress may adjourn some time between Thursday and Saturday of this week.

The president will remain in Washington for three or four days following adjournment, to clear up a lot of matters that are pending and to talk with party leaders. It is probable the president will not begin his vacation until July 6, when he is due for a speech at Boston.

Washington, June 21.—The president signed the statehood bill at 1:40 p. m. yesterday. Both were retained by their owners as souvenirs.

BRIBE INQUIRY.

Senate Orders an Investigation of the Lorimer Charges.

Washington, June 21.—The Senate yesterday adopted the resolution reported last week from the Senate committee on privileges and elections, directing an inquiry into the charges of bribery in connection with the election of United States Senator William Lorimer. An amendment offered by Senator Borah of Idaho, directing that the committee proceed "at once" with the investigation, instead of waiting for the outcome of the criminal proceedings being conducted by the Illinois authorities, was voted down.

REFUSED HOSPITALITY.

Piney Young Horsewoman Wouldn't Ride, Even in President's Auto.

Washington, June 21.—That an invitation from the president is equivalent to a "command" was dispensed by a young woman Sunday afternoon when Mr. Taft invited her to take a ride in his automobile. The president, however, did not feel that he had suffered a rebuff as the invitation had been extended merely in a desire to assist.

Accompanied by his aide, Captain Butt, the president was taking a spin in his car. As they drew near a young man and woman on horseback, the mount of the latter stumbled and fell, throwing its rider.

Captain Butt sprang from the machine and ran to her aid, the president anxiously looking on to see if she had been hurt. He proffered the use of his machine, suggesting that the young woman allow him to send her home. She declined, saying she would remount.

Captain Butt and her secret assistant her back into the saddle, where she swayed dizzily for a moment. Again the president tendered the use of his car but again the young woman declined the offer and presently was herself again. She and her escort then rode off, without the president and Captain Butt having learned whom they had aided.

"HELLO, PRESIDENT."

Small Girl Has Minute with Taft on Car Platform.

Washington, June 21.—A girl apparently about 13 gave President Taft an amusing moment in Perryville, Pa. The president, Secretary Morton and several others were on the observation platform of the private car which was sidetracked. They heard the voices of children approaching. One of them was urging the others to "come on and not be afraid of him." The child's form followed the voice around the end of the president's car. The others held back.

"Hello, President!" cried the youngster. "How do you do?" replied Mr. Taft. "How are you feeling?" piped the little girl. "Quite well, thank you," answered Mr. Taft. "Well, you certainly look it. I'd like to shake hands with you."

VETERANS OFFENDED

Civil War Soldiers Denied Seats at Reception

ON ROOSEVELT PLATFORM

Their Petition Ignored—Communication from Chairman of Memorial Committee of New York Posts Was Read.

New York, June 21.—Veterans of the Civil war were denied representation in the reception to former President Roosevelt by the committee in charge, according to the statement made last night by General George R. Loud, chairman of the memorial committee of the 47 local posts. At the regular monthly meeting of the New York posts last night, General Loud said:

"Many persons have asked me recently why the Grand Army was not included among the organizations in the splendid tribute to Colonel Roosevelt. Now the incident is closed, I can answer.

"The reason was that we were ignored—yes, refused representation on the committee, although this was requested.

"Colonel Roosevelt is as sincerely loved by the Civil war veterans as any president we have had, with the exception, perhaps, of General Grant, and he has demonstrated his loyalty to the Civil war veterans.

BORAH ASKS FOR WEST FAIR PLAY

Idaho Senator Protests Against Withholding the Use of Water Power in Idaho.

Washington, June 21.—"What we want is a sane, practical conservation policy, under reasonable regulation, permitting the development of our natural laws of progress and industrial growth," declared Senator Borah in addressing the Senate yesterday, during consideration of conservation legislation.

Contending that it was a violation of every principle of the constitution to withhold power sites from the use of the western states, Mr. Borah inquired: "If Illinois or Massachusetts receive thousands or even millions of dollars as a revenue for their water power and Idaho receives nothing, but, on the other hand, pays millions into the federal treasury, is there equality among the states?"

He said that the contention that natural resources in a state belonged to all the people of the United States was all right in theory, but that in practice it was utterly untrue.

"Our power sites do not in any sense of the term belong to the people of New England or New York," continued the senator. "They are to be utilized by those who make themselves citizens of the state, and join with others in trying to build up a commonwealth.

Mr. Borah said Congress could not promote conservation by treating power sites, which to utilize was to conserve, as it did coal beds, which to utilize was to consume. Economic use and development should be the basic and fundamental principle of any conservation policy agreed upon or incorporated into law.

Senator Borah declared that any legislation upon the subject of conservation must be upon the basis that western citizenship is honest, law abiding, and intelligent; that western people appreciated the value of their resources and proposed to protect them, and that they were loyal to their states and to the nation as a whole.

IT WAS A SHUTOUT.

Italian A. C. Didn't Allow Hardwick a Single Score.

Through inadvertence, The Times last night erroneously reported the result of Saturday's game at Inter-city park between the Italian Athletic and Hardwick as 8 to 4, instead of 8 to 0, as the score stood at the close of the game. Although the Hardwick bunch was out-classed in every department, the totals should not be robbed of the credit of blanking their opponents in every inning.

STORIES OF THE DIAMOND.

McGuire Says Game Is One Round of Enjoyment for Him—Will Never Get Tired of It—There Is Always a Big Variety of Sport in Baseball.

No. X.

By JIM MCGUIRE. (Copyright, 1916, by American Press Association.)

Do ball tossers get any real enjoyment out of playing baseball every day, or do they consider it real work? Well, I cannot answer for all ball players, but I will say for myself that I do enjoy playing baseball. To you it may seem that I'm childish or a little simple minded; but, to tell the truth, I will say that I never really got over my early enjoyment in going out on a lot and playing with the boys.

Ball playing may get on other fellows' nerves, but never on mine. I can easily remember the time when ball tossers weren't supposed to have such fine, lilylike attachments as nerves, but I'd not talk about that now.

I cannot see why any ball tosser should ever get tired of the game. There is always a big variety. I've never seen two ball games alike in all the time I've been playing ball, and, as you know, I've been engaged in a few. Baseball is like billiards—there is always a chance for a new situation. Even if there weren't there are plenty of fun and exhilaration and sport in the game to entertain and amuse me from the beginning of the season to the end.

In fact, I enjoy everything connected with professional ball playing. From the morning practice, the warm-up before the game, to the trek back to the hotel bound bus, it is one round of pleasure with me. Of course I always like to win, and I try very, very hard to do so. If I lose—well, I never could see the sense of being a grouch when it's not a win.

Every now and then you will read of a star ball tosser saying that the sport is becoming too mechanical. Well, how would these same fellows enjoy it if some regular fan in the stand said that he just went to the game to kill time? Would he like it? I guess not.

With this sentiment prevailing among the patrons of the game, how long would it be before some of the major league stars, drawing from $4,000 to $10,000 a season, would be perusing the help-wanted columns?

Reason Enough. "Why does she think he has such a splendid future?" "Because she has promised to marry him, I guess."—Houston Post.

FILES SUIT TO OUST PACKERS

Attorney-General of Missouri Charges

CONSPIRACY OF PACKERS

Armour, Swift, Morris and Other Companies Charged with Violating the Sherman Law—Accused of Regulating Produce Prices.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 21.—Attorney General Elliott E. Major began ouster proceedings against five meat packing companies yesterday by filing quo warranto information in the supreme court. The companies attacked are Armour Packing company, Morris & company, Swift & company, Hammond Packing company and St. Louis Dressed Beef & Provision company.

The Armour, Swift and Morris companies are charged with violating the anti-trust law and conspiracy, and, with the Hammond and St. Louis Dressed Beef & Provision companies, as subsidiary companies of the National Packing company, with conspiracy to control the meat packing business in Missouri.

The five companies are named in two petitions, which ask that the corporations be excluded from all corporate rights, that their licenses be forfeited and that all or such portion of their property as the court may deem proper be confiscated or in lieu thereof a fine be imposed.

Armour, Swift and Morris are charged with having entered into a conspiracy in livestock, poultry, butter, eggs, dairy and agricultural products, to control the prices to be paid by retail and wholesale dealers for dressed meats and to control the prices to be paid by all retail and wholesale dealers for butter, eggs, poultry, game, dairy and agricultural products and by-products from the business of slaughtering livestock.

The second count of the petition charges that the three packing companies conspired to restrain trade and destroy competition in the purchase and sale of meat products, livestock, poultry, butter and eggs and by fixing a price to be paid by all the members of the alleged agreement and conspiring to control the business of buying, selling and dealing in packing house products.

SULTAN TO VISIT U.S.

Sulu's Ruler, Who Wished to Wed Miss Alice Roosevelt, Coming.

Manila, June 21.—The sultan of Sulu, who once offered his hand in marriage to Miss Alice Roosevelt, is to visit America. He announces that the chief object of his trip abroad is to dispose of a collection of pearls valued at something like $250,000, the proceeds from which will be devoted to improving the condition of his people.

He will be accompanied by 14 prominent Moslems. He has already sailed for India and will make stops at several European cities.

In August, 1906, President Taft, who in his capacity as secretary of war was touring the Philippines with a congressional delegation and an unofficial party, visited Sulu. The Americans, including President Roosevelt's daughter, were entertained lavishly by Sultan Rajah Mohammed Kiram, who showed them with gifts and finally declared his wish to make Miss Roosevelt the sultaness of the Sulu archipelago.

He insisted that his people were unanimous in their desire that she remain among them. Miss Roosevelt, however, returned home to become the wife of Congressman Nicholas Longworth, another member of the party.

KAISER TO ATTEND REGATTA.

He Has the Consent of His Physicians to Go to Kiel.

Potsdam, June 21.—Emperor William has so far recovered from the inconvenience of a sore knee joint, occasioned, according to the court physicians, by over exertion in the saddle, that he decided yesterday to attend the yachting regatta at Kiel. His majesty has the consent of his physicians in the matter. He will board the imperial yacht, Hohenzollern, at Altona, proceeding thence to Kiel. When the emperor's knee first bothered him it was announced that he probably would not attend the regatta but would be represented by Crown Prince Frederick William.

POLICE BALKED

Sachs Murder Puzzles the New York Detectives.

New York, June 21.—The police are apparently balked by the skillfully planned murder of Moses Sachs, the aged jeweler who was murdered for $1,000 worth of diamonds and $300 in bank bills, and then stuffed into a trunk which was left in a hallway of a house on Goerick street. The trunk was found Saturday.

The police hope that the trunk can be traced to the dealer and thence to the purchaser. The autopsy shows that the old man was choked into insensibility and then put alive in the trunk. The jeweler was last seen in a grocery store on Chyside street on Friday.

NEED MORE THAN WALLOP TO WIN

Many Pugilists Have Won Titles Without Great Punch—Jim Corbett Is Good Example—Sullivan's Conqueror Never Had Knock-out Wallop.

"Jack Johnson can't hit hard enough to hurt Jim Jeffries. How can the negro expect to put Jeff away when such hard hitters as Fitzsimmons and Sharkey couldn't faze him?" are expressions heard every day in discussions of the coming battle. The fact that Johnson took fourteen rounds to dispose of Tommy Burns and twelve for Ketchell are pointed to as recent evidences of the lack of stein in Johnson's blows. It is a strong argument in many respects, for Johnson has not shown as well at times as men of less class against the same men.

But when it is argued that Johnson cannot hit hard enough to beat Jeffries the argument is weak. Take, for instance, Battling Nelson, who met defeat at the hands of Ad Wolgast. Nobody ever accused Wolgast of being a hard hitter. Still he chopped Nelson to ribbons and gave him one of the worst beatings any man ever suffered in the ring. Young Corbett, Aurelia Herrera, Joe Gans and George Meemie are some of the murderers wallopers Nelson beat after standing their hardest blows without wavering.

Jim Corbett never was a hard hitter, yet he easily defeated John L. Sullivan, one of the hardest hitters the game has ever known. Atoll has never been regarded as a hard hitter, and yet he held the featherweight championship for years. Frank Erne, a clever boxer with only a fair wallop, gave Kid Lavigne his first beating, and Lavigne was just as tough as Nelson. Previous to his fight with Nelson the best Wolgast could boast of were victories over second raters, and even his much for him, yet he put it all over Battling Nelson.

Jeffries must be recognized as a hard hitter, yet he could not put Tom Sharkey away in twenty to twenty-five round bouts, and Sharkey was as easy to hit as a barn door. Sullivan perhaps never had a superior in hitting power, yet he was beat by a weak hitting youngster from California—James J. Corbett. It is true that Johnson's record does not make him look like a hard hitter, yet he was not beaten for several years previous to winning the heavyweight championship.

Stanley Ketchell says Johnson has a punch with the force of a mule's kick behind it. There must be something in that, because Stanley felt the power of Jack's big manue.

MILLERS BEGIN DEFENCE

Are Trying to Show That "Beached" Flour Is Not Injurious.

HOW TO GET FAT

Use Sarnose, Says Druggist Davis, and Put on Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health. Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often results in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Sarnose. This flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh-forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness. Sarnose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run-down to strength and health that D. F. Davis, the popular druggist, sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Highstown, N. J. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.
