LINE MAN KILLED.

Paul Dammann, Aged 21, Died at Brattleboro Saturday.

Brattleboro, Aug. 8.—Paul Dammann, 21 years old, died from injuries received in falling from a pole of the Twin State Gas and Electric company Saturday on the Hinsdale road across the river. Grasping a live wire carrying 5,000 volts, supposed to be dead, Dammann, who was at the top of the pole, pitched forward and fell 25 feet, striking on his head. He died about 25 minutes later.

Superintendent Leon O. White with Dammann and three other employees, went across the river into the town of Hinsdale, N. H., yesterday morning to make repairs upon the high-tension line, White stated that he instructed Charles Brackett, who was in charge of the power plant here in Brattleboro, to shut off the current at 10:15. When that hour arrived he told his men to wait 10 minutes to give Brackett leave. At 10:25 three of the men climbed poles.

Dammann was seen to "flick" one of the wires with the back of his hand. Evidently the man was unable to get a shock, as he proceeded to his work of tying in the line to the glass insulator on the cross arm. He evidently leaned back and touched the back of his neck against one wire while his hands grasped a pair of pliers touching the other wire. Supt. White glanced up at the man as he lurched from the pole and was beside him as he struck the ground.

Without waiting for permission from the Hinsdale officials the body was brought to Brattleboro and taken to an undertaking establishment, where it was prepared for burial. It will be sent to Brooklyn, N. Y.

Charles Brackett, who was in charge of the power station and supposed to shut off the power, would make no statement in regard to the accident and referred all inquiries to Supt. White. Mr. White, however, stated frankly that the power was supposed to be shut off and that he gave orders to have it shut off at 10:15. As to the reason why the current was not turned off, Mr. White would make no statement.

Dammann had been employed by the Twin State company about two years, coming to Brattleboro from Brooklyn, N. Y., where he had a mother and sister. His sister is secretary to President L. I. Meloon of the Twin State company, who has his office in New York. The young man was a favorite with President Meloon. Dammann was to have been married within a short time to a Brattleboro young woman.

AUCTION SALE

Personal Property

On account of sickness and being unable to care for my stock, I will sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder on

at one o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises where I now live in Berlin, Vt., formerly known as the John Scott farm, and situated three miles from Montpelier, the following:—

12 Fancy Half Blood Holstein Cows young and good size, and commencing to come in this month; they are a nice lot, all good ones. Also 7 yearling heifers, all grade Holsteins, 2 horses, 1 five year old, weight about 1,100 pounds, sound, stylish and a beauty, 1 older horse, weight 1,100, good worker and driver, 4 shoats, 3 eight week old pigs, and other articles not mentioned. This is all good property and would not be sold only for the reason above given.

AUCTION SALE

Farm Stock and Tools!

I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder on

Friday, August 12, 1910

at one o'clock in the afternoon on the premises where I now reside, formerly known as the Wheelock farm, on the west hill in Barre, Vt., one and one-half miles from Barre City, the following described personal property, to wit:—

Ten Extra Good Grade Jersey Cows good age and size, 1 new milk, balance to come in soon, 1 bay horse, 8 years old, sound and kind, good worker and driver, ten-year-old brood mare with foal, 3 white Chester blood sows, due to farrow in two weeks, white Chester boar, lot of hens and chickens.

About the State

The condition of Barry and Tracy Teachout, the young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Teachout, of Essex Junction, who have been critically ill of infantile paralysis, is more favorable.

Mrs. G. F. Parker has started the fresh air fund in Chastleton for city children with a gift of $50 and a committee has been formed in Rutland to place children in private families, manage them in camp, and collect funds, etc.

The barn belonging to the tenement house of John Elmer at Vergennes, occupied by A. S. Pierce, was burned to the ground recently, the fire being caused by Mr. Pierce's three-year-old son lighting matches in the barn. A quantity of hay and some harnesses were burned.

During the electrical storm Wednesday night, August 3, two cows belonging to Moses Marsell, of Cornwau, were struck by lightning and killed. Lightning also struck and shattered a part of the barn in which Cyrus Stone of Bridgport, was killed last Saturday.

Thursday's electrical storm did considerable damage in Poultney. A cow belonging to Edward Butler and valued at $80 was struck by lightning and killed. A barn owned by Daniel Meek of East Poultney, which had just been filled with hay and oats, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

MADE WORLD TOUR FOR WORK AND PLEASURE.

Prof. Perkins of University of Vermont and State Geologist Has Returned to Vermont.

Burlington, Aug. 8.—Prof. G. H. Perkins, who occupies the chair of anthropology at the university of Vermont, has just returned home in this city after a six month's trip abroad, covering a distance of some 35,000 miles. Professor Perkins' trip was made partly for pleasure and partly for the museum of the university. He, by the way, was the first teacher in any institution of learning in America to give a course in anthropology.

Professor Perkins spent a good bit of time in Egypt, studying the condition of the fellahs; and peasantry, and it was while in Cairo that he acquired a very valuable collection of Egyptian antiquities for the university. The collection contains between 400 and 500 specimens, and includes a mummy in its case, which was a live man some time about 2,500 B. C. The collection includes alabaster and bronze vases and dishes, pottery and glassware.

Professor Perkins went out into the desert about 100 miles south of Cairo and visited the ruins of two deserted cities and in that way got some more specimens. He spent some time with Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Hanson, two Vermonters, who are living in a little town of fellahs. Dr. Hanson is employed by a bey, who owns several villages, to look after the sick. He is a graduate of the medical department of the university of Vermont and at one time practiced in Hinesburg.

Professor Perkins reached New York on Tuesday, on the steamer Hamburg, from Naples, after a voyage a part of which was tempestuous. He left Burlington the middle of last January, and joined a Clark touring party at San Francisco, sailing thence on the steamship Cleveland, in February and remaining with the party, which included 700 or more tourists, as far as Egypt. The first stop was at Honolulu, and the next at Yokohama. Three weeks were spent in various Japanese cities. The visit to Japan was of especial interest and pleasure to Professor Perkins as he was accompanied in that country by the Sho Nemoto, a Japanese student, who was graduated a few years ago from the university of Vermont, and who is now high in the councils of the Japanese government.

Thence the party sailed to Hong Kong, China, Manila and Java. From Java, the party went to Calcutta, thence by rail to Darjeeling on the Tibetan frontier. This was a most interesting part of the trip, says Professor Perkins, as he had a glimpse of the Tibetan army in the mountains. The people are most interesting and the scenery is magnificent. A splendid idea is gained of the Himalaya region rising 28,750 feet above the sea level, and one of a group of the highest mountains in the world.

The travelers journeyed thence to Ceylon and thence to Bombay. Then they journeyed for 1,000 miles through India to Agra, where are located the famous temples. From Bombay again Professor Perkins went across through the Red Sea to Egypt, traversing this country eight hundred miles.

From Cairo the trip was made to Alexandria to Athens and to the Corinth gulf and across the Adriatic to Brindisi and to Naples, from which later port he took a ship for home.

Among the curios which the professor brought home is an ancient and extremely valuable Indian dagger. This specimen is made of steel, and has a double steel handle inlaid with silver. By manipulating the handle, after the dagger has been driven home, it opens, disclosing an inner blade with its poisoned point.

This he will add to the Cannon collection in the museum. Other specimens of great value is an Indian prayer wheel, and a neck charm, worn by the natives. In speaking of the temperature in Egypt, Professor Perkins said that the thermometer nearly all the summer registered 120 in the shade, but that it was not uncommonly 125.

TRUTH CROPS OUT

Why Ple Suffers So Often Fail to Get Relief.

Science is getting to the bottom of everything, including the cause and cure of piles. The brightest doctors now admit that piles are caused internally and can be cured only by internal treatment. Dr. J. S. Leonard's new time ago perfected a remedy in tablet form—Hem-Roid, which cures the cause of piles, and therefore cures permanently. It is sold by Burt H. Wells, Barre, Vt., under money-back guarantee. $1 for 24 days treatment. Dr. Leonard's Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

PARKER COMPLIMENTS GOMPERS.

On the Settlement of Trouble with the Bucks Stove and Range Company.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, received a letter at Washington Saturday from Alton B. Parker, former Democratic candidate for president, congratulating him on the recent settlement of the controversy between the federation and the Bucks Stove and Range company. Judge Parker wrote: "I knew from Mr. Mitchell in advance of the settlement of labor's difficulties with the Bucks Stove and Range company that it was progressing. For its accomplishment I tender you my congratulations. If now we shall be successful, as I am confident we shall be, in the supreme court of the United States, you will have successfully waged on our side a great contest with a company whose president began it.

"I am glad of the opportunity it has afforded me to understand more fully your purposes, your unselfishness and the high character which you bring to the performance of your duties."

An Entertaining Athletic Girl.

"Marjorie Benson had always had study," says Clara Cochran Cody in Woman's Home Companion for August. "To swim, ride, row, to play golf or tennis, to manage a pair of horses, had been her greatest pleasure. Indulgent parents and a good deal of money had made this possible to the age of twenty-three.

"Two years ago she found herself alone in the world, with a small, insufficient income. Necessity is often the mother of courage as well as of invention and this quick-witted girl realized that her athletic accomplishments might be turned to profitable account in a summer resort.

"She remembered a summer place where she had once spent three months and where she knew every road for miles about, as well as every charming spot on the serpentine river and along the beautiful bathing beach. Before the season opened she settled herself in one of the best and pleasantest hotels on the beach. The proprietor allowed her to post up in the office a card stating that Miss Benson was prepared to give lessons in swimming, riding, golf, tennis, rowing and the management of a canoe.

"Very soon, Miss Benson had more 'customers' than she could attend to. Her intimate acquaintance of country and river here was soon discovered, and she was in demand to serve as picnic guide and as 'coachman' for driving parties."

ESTATE OF LEVI J. BOLSTER.

STATE OF VERMONT, ss. The Honorable District Court of Washington, ss. Prothonotary for the District aforesaid: To all persons interested in the estate of Levi J. Bolster, late of the City of Barre in said District, deceased: Greeting: Whereas, said Court has assigned the 23d day of August next for examining and allowing the account of the executor of the estate of said deceased and for a decree of the residue of said estate to the lawful claimants of the same; and ordered that public notice be given to all persons claiming or entitled to any share in said estate, three weeks successively previous to the day so assigned, in the Barre Daily Times, a newspaper published at the City of Barre in said district.
