

WILLIAMSTOWN.

George A. Ainsworth.

Williamstown lost a good citizen when, on Sunday, October 23, Mr. Ainsworth breathed his last.

George Abbigance Ainsworth, son of Rodolphus and Hannah (Coburn) Ainsworth, was born in Williamstown July 19, 1836.

He was married to Miss Lorette B. Bass, an estimable daughter of one of the prominent families in Williamstown.

He was a gifted musician, both vocally and instrumentally. When in the West he sang in one of the large churches in Chicago.

He was an earnest Christian, having united with the Congregational church in 1858.

He was a man of prayer and a man of large sympathies. The sorrowing and distressed were glad to see him.

The funeral was held Wednesday at the residence of Mrs. J. E. Ainsworth and was largely attended.

Many ills come from impure blood. Don't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lazy liver and sluggish bowels.

Itching, torturing skin eruptions, disfigure, annoy, drive one wild. Doan's ointment brings quick relief and lasting cures.

After a heavy meal, take a couple of Doan's Regulents and give your stomach, liver and bowels the help they will give.

Everybody's friend—Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Cures toothache, earache, sore throat. Heals cuts, bruises, scalds, lumps any pain.

ALL STOMACH DISTRESS AND DYSPEPSIA WILL GO

Misery from Heartburn, Gas and Indigestion Vanish and Your Stomach Feels Fine Five Minutes Later.

As there is often someone in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such miseries as belching of gas, eructations of sour, undigested food, nausea, headaches, dizziness, constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and scours, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

A FINE PRODUCTION. Was "The White Squaw"—It Will Be Given Again To-night.

A story of life in the Michigan woods of nearly 100 years ago is "The White Squaw," presented in the opera house last evening, and although greeted by a small audience, it was the unanimous verdict that it was one of the best dramas seen here for many months.

Miss Della Clarke, who is the author of the play, as "Neemata," the "White Squaw," took the title role and was ably supported by a company of unusual excellence.

Miss Della played her role in a convincing manner. She had a wonderful capacity for restraint, which was mingled sufficiently with genuine emotion to bring out an intelligent conception of the role which she assumed, that of an innocent girl who believed herself to be an Indian with dark skin.

Joseph E. Gillow, as "Bruce Marshall," a fur trader for John Jacob Astor, had one of the principal parts of the play, for which he was peculiarly well adapted.

The scenes are laid in the forests of Michigan, near to what is now the city of Detroit and were far from exaggerating the fascinating life of the forest land.

The play will be produced at the opera house again this evening, and theatre-goers who are seeking for something that savors of the virgin forest and an atmosphere that is typically American, should avail themselves of this opportunity.

Moving Picture Progress. No doubt motion pictures will always be exhibited to a great extent for entertainment purposes, but recent developments along more serious lines are interesting, says a writer in "Success Magazine."

One film recently exhibited under the auspices of the American Civic association was entitled "The Filthy Fly," and showed graphically the unsanitary habits of that insect.
