

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for woman's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentation would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:—

Corry, Pa.—"I am happy to write you about the benefit I received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before my marriage two years ago, I suffered something awful every month with pains and other distressing symptoms, and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. Since then I have never been troubled with pain, not even a dull backache or headache, and it has helped me a good deal before childbirth. I recommend your medicine wherever I go."
—Mrs. E. E. Ross, 112 E. Church St., Corry, Pa.

When a woman like Mrs. Ross is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why it should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

BERLIN.

Surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Orvis A. Sawyer on Anniversary.
A surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Orvis A. Sawyer at their home in Berlin on Saturday evening in honor of their 30th anniversary. The evening was merrily spent in dancing, music and card playing, about 60 of their friends being present. A poem was read by Miss Estella Redmond, presenting them gifts of cut glass, china, silver and linen. Mr. Sawyer responded feelingly. Refreshments of cake, coffee and doughnuts were served. At a late hour their friends dispersed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer many more anniversaries.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. It's positively guaranteed for stomach, liver or kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION.

Raymond Barnes of Gaysville Arrested for Alleged Robbery.
Raymond Barnes of Gaysville was arrested Monday night at that place, charged with larceny committed at Hartford last Friday. Entering the house where Frank Cavanaugh and others were sleeping, he is alleged to have secured $38 from Cavanaugh and was going through the clothes of the others when the alarm was given and he escaped. Officer Hoar went to Gaysville and brought him to the Junction, where yesterday morning before Justice Darrah he pleaded not guilty, waived examination and in default of bail was committed to jail at Woodstock.
A case of small pox is reported at the south end of the Junction, the victim being Frank P. Billings, a plumber.

GAS, HEARTBURN AND DYSPEPSIA VANISH

A Little Diapessin Now Will Settle Your Out-of-order Stomach and End All Indigestion Five Minutes Later.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach, if you will take a little Diapessin occasionally. Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, nausea, indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), biliousness, heartburn, water brash, pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.
Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapessin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.
Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapessin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.
Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief within five minutes.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Sousa and His Band at the Opera House Friday Night.

John Philip Sousa, master of band conductors, is the greatest traveler among musicians. During the past eighteen years he has covered more than half a million miles, playing or directing his band—before great audiences in many of the civilized countries of the globe. Besides the United States and Canada, Sousa has won notable success in England, Germany, France, Russia, Austria, Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.
Now that march king is preparing for a tour of the world which began late in August and will not end until the early fall of 1911. Following his appearances at Ocean Grove (N. J.), Sousa and his band will be heard at Willow Grove, at the western Pennsylvania exposition, Pittsburg, in several concerts in New York state and then in some of the principal cities in the middle West. After his farewell at the Hippodrome, New York, Sousa sails with his men for London, where his first European concert takes place January 2.

Before the 25,000 mile trip is over, Sousa will have won the applause of music lovers in most of the countries already mentioned and, in addition, will have faced the citizens of Egypt, Australia, Arabia and Japan. As always, two distinguished soloists, a singer and a violinist, will accompany the Sousa band. Herbert Clarke, the first cornetist and assistant conductor, will also appear frequently as soloist.

At the Barre opera house Friday, November 18.

Acting Was Well Done In "The Nigger."

In spite of the drawback of an unattractive name, "The Nigger," which was presented at the opera house last night, proved to be one of the local dramatic possibilities seen on the local stage this season. Edward Sheldon's play cannot be called anything but the deepest dyed tragedy, with all the lugubrious details that go with it. In fact, it leaves a most depressing effect on one. However, that does not prevent splendid chances for histrionic art, and several of the participants last night showed their abilities therein to a marked degree. Fred Eric as the hero-governor Phillip Morrow, proven to have negro blood in his veins, was very acceptable although failing at times to bring the required power into the lines. Catherine Carter was a top-notch as the heroine of the piece, Georgian Byrd, and Ethelbert Hales, the venomous character of the play, was so good that he commanded applause. The remainder of the cast was above the average.

"A Gentleman From Mississippi."

The education of a fat and jovial southern senator in the devious ways of Washington social and political life forms the main theme of "A Gentleman From Mississippi," which will be given at the Barre opera house Tuesday, Nov. 22 with a great cast headed by James Lackaye. William A. Brady has established a reputation for splendid productions and "A Gentleman From Mississippi" is one of his latest messages of this sort. To begin with, the play is one of the most delightful comedies that has been seen in many years. Senator "Bill" Langdon has been sent from Mississippi to represent that state in Washington. The supporters of the trusts expect to find him an easy mark, but the simple old planter proves himself more than a match for them in diplomacy and fighting. He falls into the hands of Bud Haines, a young newspaper correspondent, whom he makes his private secretary and who guides him safely over the slippery places. Langdon's daughter and the secretary from a mutual attachment and this becomes the principal love interest of the play. The old senator himself becomes smitten with a widow, his eldest daughter and a congressman from her native state also become victims of the tender passion and the infection even spreads to Langdon's stenographer, who reciprocates the burning sentiment of a young newspaper man.
