B. Chattertown, Cambridge, Mass.

In Lewis-Horton and company, the Pavilion has an attraction that is bound to meet with popular favor. The act presented by this little company of three people is so decidedly different from the usual run of vaudeville acts that it comes as an innovation. It is a little one-act comedy, in which the situations are extremely funny and acted in a manner that shows talent of a high degree, every situation being handled in a manner that brought many hearty laughs. Jack Green came in for several hearty rounds of applause. His work showed skill and cleverness and is of a different character from that usually done by artists in his line. An entire new program of pictures comes to-day, all of which are of the feature variety.

The regular meeting of Hiawatha lodge, No. 29, I. O. O. F., was held last evening with an attendance of more than 100 Odd Fellows from this city and surrounding towns. Following a long-established custom, a delegation of members from nearby lodges were present, and with a number of the grand lodge officers were the guests of the evening. Following the work on the first degree, a social hour was enjoyed, followed by substantial refreshments. An informal after-dinner program was carried out at this time, with remarks from some of the officers present. Following is a list of those who responded during the evening: B. S. Sylvester of Northfield, district deputy grand master; L. C. Holcomb of Milton, grand herald; Rev. J. B. Reardon of Springfield, grand chaplain; H. W. Scott of Barre, grand junior warden; F. W. Jackson of this city, grand representative. Some of the visiting lodges were also represented in the exercises by short speeches of appreciation. Following are the lodges sending delegation to last night's meeting: Washington lodge, No. 75, of Washington; Gill lodge, No. 37, of East Barre; Aradine lodge of Plainfield; Williamstown lodge, No. 50, of Williamstown; Vermont lodge, No. 2, of Montpelier.

Annual meeting of Barre aerie, No. 1573, Monday evening, Dec. 12. Election of officers, initiation and a smoke talk. R. J. Duncan, president.

C. F. Smith, auctioneer, with the D. A. Perry Real Estate agency, conducted a large auction sale this week for W. C. Woodward in Fairlee. The farm was sold to William Godfrey of Fairlee for $3,500. Cows sold from $10 to $70 a head, hay averaged $1.10 a ton, corn 60 cents a bushel and oats 50 cents; farm machinery and tools brought equally as good prices.

Burtis W. Goodfellow of Montpelier has gone into partnership with his father, W. H. Goodfellow, proprietor of the jewelry store at 211 North Main street, opposite Depot square. Mr. Goodfellow has had long experience as a salesman and for the past four years has been employed in the Bruce Melbourn old shoe store in Montpelier, where he was a successful and popular clerk. He will begin work in the jewelry store next Monday.

At the Dreamland theatre can be seen "An Unselfish Love," a story of western Canada. This picture, while telling a most interesting story, at the same time will give the spectator an idea of the marvelous possibilities in the western part of Canada for those who have brain and brawn. Our hero, having been refused because of his lack of wealth by the father of the girl whom he loves, determines that he will overcome that difficulty and sets out to make a fortune by farming in western Canada.
