Last night was one of the roughest of the winter, according to farmers who returned home in the blizzard after a day in the city. So, also, thinks a driver who is connected with one of the local liveries. Leaving Graniteville in the middle of the evening with a horse attached to a sleigh, the lone traveler presently found himself waging a terrible battle against the elements, with the odds mostly in favor of the latter. Half-way to this city, the driver found the snow drifted so badly that further progress was impossible. Unhitching the horse from the sleigh, he finished his journey by foot, the weary animal bringing up the rear. A relief expedition sent out from the stable this morning dismounted the sleigh, harness and robes as the driver had abandoned them in the blizzard.

The signed contract governing the championship basketball game between Burlington high school and Goddard seminary next Wednesday night was received by manager Scott of the seminary team this morning. It was signed by the manager of the Burlington team, and thus the game is a certainty.
The best show ever seen at the price, was the verdict of the large audience at the opera house last night. The dramatic sketch of Claude Miller & Co. of four people was something entirely unlooked for at a performance where the admission was 10c. This act appeals particularly to regular theatregoers, as the company is composed of persons of high dramatic ability and their efforts hold the attention of the audience throughout. De Frates, styled "king of pyramids," performs numerous hair-raising stunts on tables and chairs twenty feet in the air. This act is positively the best of its kind ever seen here. Go Forth & Doyle, in a singing and dancing act, complete an excellent vaudeville bill. Three reels of pictures, changed every day, are shown at each performance. A special matinee to-morrow at 2:30. Children 5c, adults 10c.
The old saying is, "Laugh and you grow fat." If there is any virtue in it, it will pay this people to attend the Pavilion before the three acts, who constitute the program, finish their engagement. Each act is a real scream producer of the first water. Dan Riley of Nihil & Riley got so enthused in his comedy eccentric dancing that he danced right off the stage into the audience. This act embraces the best comedy dance ever seen in Barre. Krausader & Job received what was no doubt the largest round of applause ever given an act at the Pavilion. After they had taken several bows, a picture was started, but the audience wanted Krausader & Job and kept up the applause, which lasted for two or three minutes after the picture had started. This clever team will, as a special St. Patrick's day number, offer a medley of Irish airs at every performance to-day. Halliday & Burns, a very clever colored team, completes the bill. This act, like the two mentioned above, was a hit, winning favor and many laughs throughout their offering. A new program of pictures, all of which are Edison's, comes to-day.

"Hunt the Thimble" Cast.
The first performance of the charming operetta, "Hunt the Thimble," will be given this evening at the Universalist church vestry. The children have worked faithfully in preparation. The music is tuneful, timely and pleasing. The dialogue is bright and an enjoyable evening is assured to all who attend. The cast of characters follows:
Mr. Grant Dr. Jarvis
Mrs. Grant Miss Mildred Clark
Nellie Grant Marion Martin
Mr. Gried Mr. Edwards
Emma Charlotte Simmons
Annie Alice Tabor
Gertrude Thelma Miles
Mabel Mildred Stowe
Alice Rachel Hollister

Mary Marjorie Love

The Daylight Store

WELL CARRIED OUT.

Entertainment Under Auspices of the Presbyterian Gleasers.
Despite the unfavorable weather conditions, the sociable and farce given in the vestry of the Presbyterian church last evening was largely attended. The affair was held under the auspices of the Gleasers' club, and the proceeds will be devoted to a fund for purchasing books for the Sunday school library. A large advance sale of tickets for the entertainment, together with the admissions received at the door, will net a good sum for this object. The young people of the club had been carefully preparing for the sociable, and the pleasing manner in which the program was carried out amply reward them for their efforts.
The following meritorious program preceded a breezy little playlet entitled, "The Open Secret of Goddard College"; Selection, "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," chorus from Gleasers' Sunday school class; piano duo, Martha Reed and Bertha Dale; piano solo, Katherine Rowley; recitation, "Mary Jane McWilliams," Ruth Gladys Armstrong; vocal duo, Misses Margaret and Alice Walker; piano solo, Isabelle Mackie.
The participants in the farce showed the results of careful training and were roundly applauded. The cast of characters was as follows: "Maggie Taft," a college girl, Mary Watson; "Mrs. Taft," her mother, Katherine Rowley; "Grace Taft," her sister, Edith Watson; "Eleanor Spencer," Alice Bird; school girls, "Mae," Isabel Mackie, "Edith," Maggie Rhind, "Jean," Christine Mitchell, "Kate," Lizzie Dawson, "Ddot," Elizabeth Mitchell; "Carrie," Hattie Ross. The program closed with a vocal solo rendered by William Blake, and entitled, "Pickaninny, Good Night."
At the close of the entertainment, refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.
