NEW TRUST CONTROL LAW

Wickersham Working Out the Problem

COMBINATIONS KEEPING

Just Ahead of Legislation—Government Unable to Prevent Condition—Concern Felt Over Strength of Big Financial Interests.

Washington, April 1.—A new weapon is being forged from the government's experiences in dealing with monopolies of trade and combinations of capital which, it is learned, Attorney General Wickersham hopes to present to Congress in the belief that it will be incorporated into law. Just what shape this proposed legislation will take has not been made known by Mr. Wickersham. Under the present laws, the department of justice has on several occasions found that the statutes have become obsolete while litigation was being brought to a final decision. Combinations of all kinds, through processes of re-organization and management to keep just a step ahead of federal prosecutions and in many cases therefore the work of the department of justice has not always been as effective as desired. The attorney general told one of his callers that he considered the situation the greatest economic problem before the world; that so-called unlawful combinations had grown far faster than the law and that the anti-trust statutes of the present time cannot hope to keep pace with all the conditions they are expected to remedy. With a view to meeting the problem as it exists to-day and as it promises to develop, the attorney general is giving the subject deep study. Within the next few months may take place the most important steps toward regulation of combinations and monopolies since the passage of the Sherman law. Several instances of alleged combinations, which the department of justice, so far, has been powerless to attack because there was no law applicable to them, have been brought to the attention of the attorney general. Prominent among them is the so-called "money trust" in New York. It was pointed out that a year ago, the great financial interests of New York commonly were classified into three groups; they now are popularly known as one. The New York clearing house association recently had unofficial notification that Attorney General Wickersham's attention had been called to its methods of business. The association engaged James M. Beck, a former assistant attorney general, to present an informal statement of its methods to the department of justice. When all was finished, the attorneys understood, tacitly, at least, that there was apparently nothing in the business of the New York clearing house association which could be construed as coming under any of the laws on the statute books. Practically the same thing took place with the New Orleans association last winter. Nevertheless, the department of justice regards with some concern the concentration of banking capital in New York.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or hemorrhage are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the night, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root if you do you will be disappointed.

SHOOTS TO FIND HIS SISTER IS BURGLAR

Girl Dead from Wounds by Her Brother, Who Thought He Was Firing at a Housebreaker.

Philadelphia, April 1.—Roused by an unusual noise in his home at Lansdowne, near here, early yesterday and seeing a figure moving about in the dim light, Alexander Kerr, 18 years old, fired a shotgun at the object, and then discovered that he had shot his sister, Nellie, 16 years old. The girl died in 15 minutes. The father of the two is a night watchman, and was away from home. The grief-stricken young man's story was corroborated by the mother, and the authorities have not taken action against him.

CARRY OUT THREAT.

Black Hand Explosion Follows Letter Demanding $1,000. New York, April 1.—Although writers of Black Hand threatening letters demanding $1,000 of an Italian storekeeper in an East One Hundred and Seventh street tenement had neglected to specify where the money should be handed over, their threats of what would happen if the money were not received were carried out early to-day when a bomb was exploded in the front of the tenement. The explosion shattered windows, cracked walls, blew down partitions and caused a panic among the hundreds of tenement tenants in the five-story building. Nicola Longhitano, the man threatened with the Black Hand's vengeance, said that he had not notified the police because he thought he would get additional letters telling him when and where to pay the money.

COX LAWYERS OUTFLANKED.

Prosecutor Secures Another Indictment and Change of Venue. Cincinnati, O., April 1.—George B. Cox's legal forces, which since February 21, with apparent success have been waging war of technicalities against the indictment charging the manager and Republican leader with perjury, yesterday were outflanked. The grand jury on the eve of its mustering out returned a fresh indictment against Cox charging perjury. On this true bill prosecuting Attorney Henry T. Hunt immediately obtained a change of venue from Judge Gorman and as a consequence Cox faces the prospects of being forced into an open fight in the courts of Clermont county, before the complicated situation in Hamilton county courts has been cleared up. No leader of the Cox legal army was near the scene of action when the prosecutor made this latest move. When they learned of the movement, they were powerless to offer opposition.

CANNON WON'T LEAD.

Former Speaker Not a Candidate to Head Minority. Washington, April 1.—Representative Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois to-day made formal announcement that he would not be a candidate for minority leader in the next Congress. This leaves only Representative Weeks of Massachusetts and Mann of Illinois as contenders. Mr. Mann will win, or receive in the Republican caucus next Monday night the complimentary nomination for speaker, which carries with it the minority leadership.

O'GORMAN IS ELECTED

Supreme Court Justice New Senator From New York

HAD INSURGENT SUPPORT

Joined With Regulars in Making Choice, Giving O'Gorman 112 Votes to 80 for Depew—Legislature Adjourns to April 17.

Albany, April 1.—Supreme Court Justice James Aloysius O'Gorman, Democrat, of New York City, was elected United States senator last night by the legislature after the most protracted struggle over this position that is recorded in the annals of the Empire state. On the final ballot, the 44th since the contest began, he received 112 votes to 80 cast for Chauncey M. Depew, whose term expired on March 4.

The result was in doubt almost up to the minute of recording the votes. This was due to the uncertainty as to how many of the Democratic insurgents, who for over two months had prevented the election of a senator because of their opposition to William F. Sheehan, the original caucus choice, would enter the second caucus, which had been adjourned from day to day since Monday. At the close of a day marked by almost continued negotiations between the Democratic factions, the insurgents finally capitulated and Justice O'Gorman's election was accomplished. A few minutes before the ballot was cast, Justice O'Gorman's resignation from the bench was filed at the office of Secretary of State Lasansky, as a constitutional provision would have prohibited his election while holding the office of a justice of the supreme court.

Wild applause marked the end of the long contest and the legislature, driven from the state capitol by Wednesday's fire, quickly adopted a resolution adjourning until April 17. Governor Dix last night expressed gratification at the result. "The state of New York," he said, "has elected for its representative in the federal Senate, an eminent jurist, a man of pronounced ability, of great attainments and of the highest character. The election of Judge O'Gorman cannot but meet the approval of the citizens of this state, regardless of party. He will rank with the ablest statesmen the Senate has known, and will represent the Empire state and bestow honor upon the party that elected him. I am gratified at this solution of the problem which has confronted the Democratic members of the legislature for the past ten weeks."

FAVORS RECIPROCITY.

Senator O'Gorman Outlines His Position on Public Matters.

New York, April 1.—The new senator from New York will support all progressive policies of the Democratic party and will join hands with President Taft in urging reciprocity with Canada, and the fortification of the Panama canal. "My best efforts shall be devoted to meeting the just expectations of my fellow citizens," he said in statement issued at his home late last night. "As stated in my telegram to the Democratic caucus yesterday, I am in thorough accord with the principles enunciated in the platforms of the last Democratic national and state conventions." Mr. Gorman here sketched an outline of his policies, in substance as follows: He stands for immediate downward revision of the tariff; reciprocity with Canada and parcels post, fortification of the Panama canal, direct election of United States senators and the federal income tax. He favors right economy in government expenditures and is opposed to "all special privileges and private monopoly; to the new nationalism and to the centralizing tendencies of the Republican party."

PROMINENT TAMMANY MAN.

For 30 Years Justice O'Gorman Was Regarded as Foremost Orator. James A. O'Gorman has long been one of the most prominent members of Tammany hall. He has been one of its foremost orators for 30 years having established his reputation as a public speaker in the interests of the political organization when, at the age of 21, his eloquence was credited with having saved a doubtful Assembly district for the Democrats.

Mr. O'Gorman was born on the lower east side of New York City, May 5, 1860, and is therefore not yet 51 years old. He married Anne M. Leslie in this city on January 2, 1884. They have nine children, seven daughters and two sons. After finishing a course in the public schools, Mr. O'Gorman, as a lad of 17, entered the college of the city of New York, where he obtained an academic training. From there he went to the university of New York law school, was graduated and admitted to the bar in 1882.

He began building up a law practice with rapid success. From the time he cast his first vote he had aligned himself with Tammany hall, so that before he was out of law school, his services as an orator were in demand. Tammany favored him generally. In 1893 he was elected a justice of the municipal court. He continued to rise in every Tammany campaign and in 1899 he was elected a justice of supreme court for a term of 14 years from January 1, 1900. His salary as such has been $17,500, or almost three times what he will receive as a United States senator. Since 1885, Mr. O'Gorman has been a member of the general committee of Tammany hall, the controlling body of the organization. In 1902 he was chosen a grand sachem of the Tammany society, defeating Mayor Van Wyck for the position.

The new senator is a member of the Law institute, the Medico-Legal society, Catholic club, Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, New York Athletic club, Champlain club, Royal Arcanum and other organizations. He has received the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the college of St. Thomas of New York, 1904; Fordham university 1908, and New York university 1909. His home is at 318 West 198th street, New York.

RANDOLPH.

Miss Etta Chamberlin left here on Friday for Montpellier, to resume teaching in the Union school the first of the week. Heber Holman, jr., who is critically ill with pneumonia, remains about the same as for a few days, with no perceptible change. A nurse from Burlington is in attendance and Miss Eunice Slack of this place, another trained nurse, is also assisting in the care.

Miss Mary Boyce, who is critically ill with pneumonia, following measles, is no better, and on Friday was operated upon for mastoiditis, it being thought there might be some relief from her first trouble.

Mrs. C. A. Blodgett fell in the house this week and fractured one of the ribs on her left side.

Mrs. V. I. Spear came from a winter's stay in Randolph Center with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Holden, Friday, and is now at her home on Randolph avenue.

Miss Mildred Jones, a member of the senior class of R. H. S., is not ill at her home in Warren, with scarlet fever, as has been reported, but her sister, Marion, has the disease and does not know how she contracted it.

Mrs. Lo. Hatch and two children recently returned from a few days' stay with friends in Barre.

Mrs. Fannie Lee and son, Raymond, are in Woodstock with Mrs. Edward Bushor, and will remain there for the present if Mrs. Lee finds employment.

H. M. Totman, who has been in Boston since Sunday, where he went to attend the florists' convention, returned home Friday night.

The funeral of Mrs. John Cotey, whose death occurred at her home on Central street, was held from the home to-day at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Chesbro officiating, and the remains were placed in the tomb to await burial a little later in the spring.

Misses Carro and Frances Bucklen, who are cousins of J. W. Fargo, arrived here recently from New York City and have rented a house on the Curtis Kilbourn farm in Brookfield.

Mrs. Fannie Lewis has arrived from a winter passed in Massachusetts with her daughter, Miss Bessie Lewis.

Mrs. V. A. Grant and her daughter, Miss Lucile Grant, who have been in Boston a week, returned Friday.

The committee on the new town clock held a meeting recently and found that there is now money enough raised to do as they first proposed, to place the clock in the tower of the railroad station. The committee, however, think that a better plan would be to increase the fund sufficiently for a four-face clock in the square on a tower of its own to be constructed for that purpose, and those having the matter in charge solicit suggestions as to the best way to pursue.

The little four-year-old son of Francis Roberts is quite ill with a bad sore throat, and he has been placed in quarantine to await the development of the disease, fearing it may prove to be scarlet fever.

Mrs. J. S. Howells, who has been looking after the household of Mrs. N. C. Greene, has gone to her home in Barre to take a rest for a time, after which she will return here to assist Mrs. Greene, who is yet unable to be up but a little each day.

MOST FEARED MAN IN ITALY

Courts at Last Reached Erricone

ARRESTED BY AMERICAN

Chance Even Now That He May Escape—He Maintains Insolent Air; Denies All the Charges.

Viterbo, Italy, April 1.—The lovers of the dramatic had a feast at yesterday's session of the trial of the 36 Camorrista for murder. Enrico Alfano, the terror of Italy, reputed to be the actual head of the criminal organization, was under interrogation and held the spectators' close attention.

The man is innocent or a consummate actor. As he proceeded, the slender figure seemed to grow until it dominated the court room, and friends and enemies alike shrank from the gaze that he fixed first upon one and then another, while he poured forth the most scathing arraignment of the authorities that has ever been heard in an Italian court of justice.

"I am a victim of yellow journalism," he cried. "I have been ruined by carabineers, who have made me appear as an assassin."

One could have heard a pin drop when President Bianchi commanded Erricone to come from the prisoner's steel cage and take a place before the bar. Quietly Erricone stepped forth. He replied to the preliminary questions in a voice that was not strong, but was penetrating. He denied categorically the accusations of the informant, Genaro Abbate-maggio. He said that he was not in a position to condemn the Cuocolos to death.

As the questioning proceeded, Erricone showed signs of irritation, finally trembling with excitement. As the thrusts of the president and crown prosecutor went home, Erricone's face hardened with anger, until he looked like a savage animal about to spring upon its prey. Suddenly he abandoned all attempts at composure and gave rein to his feeling in an eloquent peroration.

"It is a lie, a myth," he shouted. "It was neither the head nor the tail of the Camorra. I was a boy among boys of the poorer class. I was no better and no worse than my mates. They say I was quarrelsome and committed excesses. Yes; but what boy in my class of life has not done wrong or been indiscreet?"

"I was ruined first by the sensationalism of that newspaper, the Mattino. That is why, although I now regret the deed, all my nerves rebelled as a member of the staff of that paper approached me when I was arraigned in court as a murderer. I could not help spitting in his face."

"Then the carabinieri made me appear as an assassin. No one has a right to so stigmatize me. Not even a hardened criminal, to serve his own ends, becomes an assassin only after he has been condemned."

President Bianchi interrupting, told Erricone to calm himself, but the only effect was to cause the prisoner to burst into tears and sobbing violently, he continued: "For four years I have suffered persecution and martyrdom. Constantly before my eyes is a picture of my dear, innocent brother, dying in a prison cell, adjoining my own. In my ears ring his lament as he passed through the agony of death. He was young and the beautiful image of his Creator. He died innocent."

For a moment Erricone paused and the only sound came from the prisoner's cage, where Genaro Ibelli, alleged head of the Camorra in the Vesuvian village, leaning his head against the steel bars, wept.

It was a dramatic moment and there was a sigh of relief among the spectators when Erricone got his feelings under control, and launched into a denunciation of Abbate-maggio. He described the informer as a poor young man, whom he had helped by giving him employment as a stable boy.

Erricone said that Abbate-maggio had returned his generosity by stealing from him, blackmailing him and trying to ruin him.

"Ametta is a brigadier of the carabinieri," remarked the president, "has declared that you are a Camorrista."

"Erricone replied: 'All Naples knows that Ametta is disreputable. He is the companion of evil women.'"

"But Ametta has been accused, tried and acquitted."

"All Naples knows how certain acquittals can be obtained," was the rejoinder of the prisoner.

SUNDAY BASEBALL ALLOWED.

Mayor Gaynor of New York Dedicates a Part of Street to the Sport.

New York, April 1.—The boys of New York may play baseball on Sundays all they please on a city playground, two hundred feet wide and two miles long. Mayor Gaynor and Park Commissioner Stover settled that between them yesterday. Asked under what law the mayor and park commissioner were dedicating a city street to be a city playground, Mr. Stover replied: "The law of common sense and good nature." The Sunday playground is to be West street, from the Battery to Gansevoort street. There are only warehouses, market buildings and ship chandlers' shops, for the most part, on the east side of the street, and pier heads and ferry houses on the other. There is no part of the city where a stray fly ball could do less damage. The street is practically deserted by traffic on Sunday.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

D. F. Davis, Barre, and Frank Roark, East Barre, will pay back your money if Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets fail to cure dyspepsia. "Never in the history of my store," said one of the above druggists to a representative of a wholesale drug house "has there been so great a demand for my remedy as there is just now for Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets. Barre and East Barre people are coming in every day inquiring if it is really true that we sell Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets with the understanding that they will cure dyspepsia or pay back the money." Of course this guarantee plan is quite unusual, but we do just as we agree and we will hand back your money without the least argument if you are not decidedly benefited. "Not one person in fifty has asked for their money and it may surprise you to know that at least a dozen within the last ten days have been in to tell us how much they have been relieved, and how glad they are to know that at last there is a remedy that really will cure indigestion and dyspepsia."

Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets brace and tone up every nerve and fibre, help digest the food, put new life into the digestive organs, improve the appetite, clear up the complexion, cure biliousness, dizzy spells, coated tongue and sick headache. Try them for twenty days and if you don't see a great improvement, step in and tell D. F. Davis or Frank Roark and they will hand back your money cheerfully and without argument.

Blood Builder--Nerve Tonic All the Name Implies

Nothing on Earth Like It for Run Down Conditions. Dear Doctor's Daughter: I knew your father and grandfather, and I wish every one knew as well as I do what two wonderful doctors they were. I was in the hospital last winter eight weeks, and when I came out I commenced taking your Blood Builder and Nerve Tonic, and there is nothing on earth like it for run-down condition and nervousness. It has built me up wonderfully. I know of so many cases right here in Providence that your Stomach-Lite has cured that I thought I ought to write and tell you. You are doing a great work, and that you come from the celebrated Wilbur family of doctors is all that is needed to have faith in your medicines.
