

DELAY ON RECIPROCITY

May Vote on Bill Late This Afternoon

CANNON'S SPEECH HELPS

To Solidify Republicans—Vote May Be Closer Than Was Expected—Indications That It May Not Be Reached Until Saturday.

Washington, April 20.—The House of Representatives will vote on the Canadian reciprocity agreement to-day. Mr. Underwood had expected to call for a vote late yesterday afternoon or early in the evening. The closing speech in opposition to the agreement was to have followed him in support of the measure. Both speeches were postponed until to-day and there is a possibility that a vote will not be had until Saturday.

While the Democratic leaders are confident of putting the agreement through without much difficulty, indications are that the vote would be much closer than had been anticipated. It is now figured that there will be between a dozen and twenty Democratic votes cast in opposition. Mr. Cannon's three-hour speech is believed to have done much to solidify the Republican opposition to the measure, so that the opposition on that side of the House is expected to be greater than was anticipated earlier in the week.

General debate on the measure will close to-day at 3 o'clock with speeches by Representatives Underwood, McCall and Dulzell. The bill will then be taken up under the rule giving permission for amendments. An effort will be made to secure a final vote on the bill to-night, but the leaders of the House are not sure that it can be reached.

DIRECT ELECTION ENEMIES BEATEN

Resolution for Amendment to Constitution Sent to Judiciary Committee by Senate.

The efforts of the opposition to direct the election of senators to delay sanction of the resolution paving the way for a constitutional amendment by getting the question tied up in the committee on privileges and elections have come to nothing. The resolution, which has passed the House and is now pending in the Senate, was referred yesterday to the judiciary committee without a struggle.

It was expected there would be a fight and a test vote. But the opponents of the resolution realized in advance that they could not prevent reference to the judiciary committee. So when Senator Culberson renewed his effort to have the matter referred to the judiciary, he met with no opposition.

Senator Dillingham, who will be chairman of the privileges and elections—which, it is understood, would pigeon hole the resolution—upheld the right of the committee to the resolution, and insisted that this case should not set a precedent, but farther than this he made no contest.

The judiciary committee will report the resolution out, but cannot take the matter up until it has been reorganized.

Senator Bailey, in advocating that the resolution go to judiciary—a committee composed of great lawyers—said he did not want to stir up any controversy, but if the resolution for an income tax amendment had gone to judiciary it would not now be subjected to the criticism that is given it in some quarters. He referred to the words "from whatever source derived." These words were the basis of the criticism of Governor Hughes of New York that income from state securities might be taxed under the amendment.

PLEA FOR ARIZONA BY SENATOR WORKS

Californian Warns Party Against Rejection of Statehood Petition.

Washington, April 21.—Arizona's right to statehood under the constitution which it has presented found a strong advocate on the floor of the United States Senate yesterday in the person of Senator Works, California's new member of the upper house of Congress. He took occasion to warn the Republican party that unless it should heed the demand made upon it for an indorsement of the initiative, referendum and recall, "earnestly demanded by an overwhelming majority of our people of all political parties," the party would go down "to defeat and final destruction and oblivion."

The senator touched on the Lorimer case. "This widespread uprising against the corruption that, if persisted in, must eventually overthrow our representative form of government," he said, "is founded upon the most convincing evidence that corruption is seating at the very vitals of the republic and threatening the perpetuity of our free institutions. We need not go outside of this chamber to find evidence of this fact. It was charged that the election of a member of this body was procured by corrupt practices and the bribery of votes in the legislature. I need not enter upon a discussion of the evidence in that case. It is enough to say that corrupt practices had been resorted to in the election and that some votes had been purchased."

LIE PASSED IN A CAUCUS

Illinois State Senators Have a Sensational Encounter

OVER REFERENDUM BILL

As a Result an Open Fight Between Conservatives and the Progressives Is Announced As On.

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—Senator Frank H. Funk of Bloomington and Senator Walter Slide Jones of Chicago engaged in sensational encounter during a conference of Republican Senate members.

The row was precipitated by a discussion of the initiative and referendum.

Senator Jones during a heated argument charged Senator Funk with attempting to smother the initiative and referendum.

"You're a liar!" shouted Funk, as he jumped over a table and struck Senator Jones on the jaw. Senator Jones whipped off his glasses and made frantic efforts to strike Funk.

Other senators joined in efforts to separate the combatants.

Senator Edward Beall of Alton dragged Funk back, while Senator Samuel A. Ettleson of Chicago held Jones.

Sensors Jones, Ettleson and Henson then bolted the caucus. Jones was trembling with rage against Senator Funk.

Jones then announced that the fight between the Conservatives and Progressives was thrown wide open and declared that he would stump the entire state.

"I will put before the people an initiative and referendum that is on the square," said Jones.

PERHAPS MR. LONGWORTH.

Possible That He Will Succeed Doctor Hill at Berlin.

Washington, April 21.—While President Taft has not decided definitely upon a successor to Ambassador Hill at Berlin, one name that is expected to consider is that of Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

Mr. Longworth is understood to be willing to enter the diplomatic service, having passed about all the time he cares to in Congress or political life. Both he and Mrs. Longworth, who was Alice Roosevelt, are intimate friends of the president.

One objection that may be made to his appointment to such an important post as that at Berlin would be his inexperience in diplomatic affairs. If not selected for Berlin, however, Mr. Longworth may be chosen to fill some other important post.

Effect of Resolution Offered by Fitzgerald

WOULD REPEAL THE ACT

For Certificates of Indebtedness—He Also Moves Against Monetary Commission—Calls on Secretary for Information.

Washington, April 21.—Representative Fitzgerald of New York, chairman of the House committee on appropriations, yesterday introduced in the House a resolution to repeal section 40 of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act, authorizing the secretary of the treasury to issue $200,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness. Under the provision of the war revenue act designed to raise revenue for the Spanish-American war, the secretary of the treasury was authorized to issue three per cent certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $100,000,000. The Payne-Aldrich act made the authorization permanent and permitted the secretary to increase the amount of the certificates of indebtedness to $200,000,000.

Mr. Fitzgerald also introduced a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury to transmit to the House of Representatives a detailed statement showing the moneys paid out on account of the monetary commission and the dates and purposes of the payments. This resolution is believed to be the first step in the House toward the abolition of the commission. Senator Cummings of Iowa has already introduced a resolution in the Senate calling for the final report of the commission not later than next December, with a view to putting the commission out of business.

In explanation of his resolution repealing the act authorizing the issuance of $200,000,000 of three per cent certificates of indebtedness, Mr. Fitzgerald said yesterday that there is a widespread belief that the provision was increased and made permanent in the tariff act to make up a possible deficit resulting from a possible failure of the tariff law to revise enough revenue to run the government. "Whatever the reason for its enactment," said Mr. Fitzgerald, "to permit a member of the cabinet to have the power to determine whether temporary loans shall be made to the amount of $200,000,000 is intolerable, and should not be permitted to continue."

NO STATE LOSES MEMBER.

Massachusetts Gains Two Under Reapportionment Bill Reported to House.

Washington, April 21.—Massachusetts will be entitled to two additional members in the House of Representatives if Congress passes the reapportionment bill favorably reported to the House yesterday by the committee on census, making the total strength of the delegation sixteen. The bill places the membership of the next House at 433, an increase of forty-two over the present membership. Under this plan no state loses a member, which would have been the case had a number lower than 433 been named. The bill reported yesterday is practically identical with the Crumpacker measure, which passed the House last session, but which failed to come to a vote in the Senate. The Democratic committee, however, struck from the bill that section approved of last year which gives to the department of commerce and labor the right to make the reapportionment ten years hence. Under the bill reported yesterday, the following states gain members. One each—Alabama, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah and West Virginia. California 3, Illinois 2, Massachusetts 2, New Jersey 2, New York 6, Oklahoma 3, Pennsylvania 4, Texas 2, and Washington 2.

BRITISH BARK ASHORE.

Crew of Twenty-five Men Rescued With Difficulty.

London, April 21.—The British bark Port Stanley is aground in Ballyheige bay, on the west coast of Ireland, where she put in Wednesday night for shelter from a fierce gale. The crew of 25 was rescued with difficulty by the coast guard.

The Port Stanley sailed from Portland, Ore., on Nov. 13, and arrived at Queenstown on Tuesday last, later sailing for Limerick, which port she was attempting to make when she ran into the gale and finally put into Ballyheige bay.

There she lay to, but the storm increasing in violence, dragged her anchors and was tossed upon the submerged rocks. Life savers tried to reach the bark in a lifeboat. The sea, however, was too high. Then the crew of the bark threw out lines which were picked up and secured by the life savers. By the use of these lines the imperiled sailors were dragged through the waves from their ship to the small boats.

Well Dressed Men

Some men always look well dressed wherever they go, or whatever they do—you know such men among your own acquaintances; fellows who always have a style—an air—a certain distinction about them that makes their friends regard them as "well dressed" men. Do you know how they do it?

We'll tell you; its more in the clothes than it is in the man. The man gets the right clothes of course, and what's quite important, he takes care of them.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

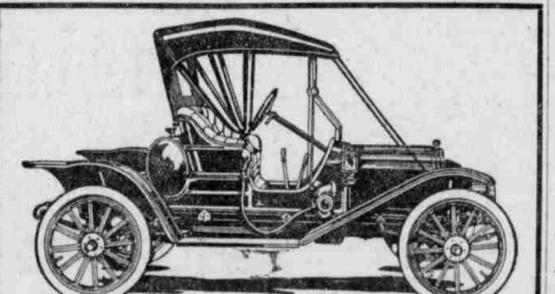

clothes are what such men wear. They fit right, and that's a vital point in this well dressed distinction. Such men wear clothes that fit—not only fit but all-wool quality of fabrics and tailoring. Such men know that these things are necessary to looking well dressed. And then—they take care of their clothes—have them frequently pressed and occasionally cleaned. They have more than one suit and change often.

Now, that's the way to do it. You like to see it in other men; you can just as well do these things yourself—any man can. We've got the goods, and we'll fit and dress any man who'll let us do it.
