

Clergyman's Son Cured of Tuberculosis

Consumption is a baffling disease and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call it by its own dread name—and then take Eckman's Alternative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. No one need doubt that there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

Gentlemen: Prior to Feb. 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with La Grippe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats, mid-day chills and loss of flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 lbs. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alternative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became milder and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health, back to 150 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alternative.

E. H. COWLES, (Signed) "I cannot find words to express my appreciation of what your remedy has done for my son. It changed his life into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life."

"I wish to add my endorsement to every word of his testimony."

REV. J. J. COWLES, Pastor Presbyterian Church, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain opiates, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. Wash entered Martin's store a day or two later—on April 12 last.

"Will you make the agreement I spoke of," asked Walsh.

"No," answered Martin. "I don't want her. Keep her, she's good enough for you."

Walsh shot him dead; his hand was steady, his aim true, and his bullet pierced Martin's brain.

"Martin should have been killed long before he was," said Charles Buehling, one of the jurors who acquitted Walsh, immediately after the verdict, and he added:

"If I had been in Walsh's place I would have done just as he did—but sooner, perhaps."

The other jurors who were gathered around Buehling were silent, but nodded approval of his words; besides, their verdict had first spoken for them.

Walsh went to Springfield this morning. There his wife has lived since the day of the tragedy with their daughter, Mrs. Izetta Morris, 14 years of age and a bride of a fortnight. Walsh, who felt his duty to kill, who declares he should forgive, says he will take his wife, if she will go, to Greensboro, Ky., where he was brought up. He has sold his hardware store and his home at Palmyra, near here.

Walsh knows well how much he has to forgive. His daughter testified at his trial that his wife and Martin, who owed him many kindnesses, had plotted against his life.

FREEDOM FROM PAIN

Made Easy by Famous Scotch Doctor's Prescription. The wonderful remedy, Mysterious Pain Ease, that is now in steady demand from Maine to California, came to America by accident. Twenty years ago Junius Barnes was injured in a railway accident near New York City and was attended by a fellow traveler—a Scotch physician—who gave him a secret prescription that effected an almost miraculous cure of a serious sprain.

From this small beginning Mysterious Pain Ease has come to be regarded by physicians as the one safe, quick and harmless remedy of its sort on the market.

Read what Dr. Frankle, the eminent technical and analytical chemist of New York, says:

"I have made a thorough examination of Mysterious Pain Ease and am willing to go upon record to the effect that a safer, better, or more effective remedy for the ills that it is compounded for cannot possibly be found. Its specific virtues are such that it should receive the recognition of the medical profession generally."

TO TAKE BACK WIFE AS CHRISTIAN DUTY

After Being Acquitted of the Charge of Murdering the Rival for His Wife's Love.

Carlinville, Ill., Oct. 17.—Pleading the unwritten law and acquitted of murdering George Clarence Martin, who, after despoiling his home, taunted him, George M. Walsh will take his wife to him again.

"I have a Christian duty toward my wife, and I shall do my duty," said Walsh. "I know I will be criticised for taking her back, but I care nothing for that. She is truly repentant. No sinner can do more than repent sincerely."

It is difficult to tell whether love for his wife, pity for her, or a very rare and powerful sense of duty animates this man. In trying to decide one should remember that Mrs. Walsh confessed her unfaithfulness to her husband, restraining his righteous anger, Walsh went to Martin.

"I will divorce my wife and give her half my property, if you will agree to marry her and take her away, so that I can never lay eyes on her again."

"I'll think it over," Martin answered sadly.

Walsh entered Martin's store a day or two later—on April 12 last.

"Will you make the agreement I spoke of," asked Walsh.

"No," answered Martin. "I don't want her. Keep her, she's good enough for you."

Walsh shot him dead; his hand was steady, his aim true, and his bullet pierced Martin's brain.

Alabama Will Present His Name to Convention.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Alabama will present a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency and he will be Oscar W. Underwood of Birmingham, chairman of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives. Mr. Underwood himself admits that he is a candidate. "I talk my friends in Alabama are going to pay me the compliment of endorsing me and that they will present my name to the convention," said Mr. Underwood. "I will be very proud to have their endorsement. No man could feel otherwise about it. But I have told them that what they do they must do by themselves. I have a man's work out for me down yonder," waving his hand in the general direction of Washington, "and I am going to try my best to do it. I am not going to neglect it to be a candidate for the presidency or for anything else. For what my friends do I shall be grateful. But what is done my friends will have to do."

The people of the United States pay a subsidy to the wool industry of at least $104,400,000 a year, according to calculations of Mr. Underwood, speaking here; he declared the wool tariff indefensible and criticized President Taft for his veto of the wool bill. He undertook to show the actual tax imposed on the individual through the tariff. "An illustration of the extent of the burden is accorded by a study of a typical article of comparatively cheap cloth, such as enters the ordinary man's suits of clothes worn by the great masses of the people," he said. "The article is an all worsted fancy fabric, the wholesale English price per yard of which is 77 cents and the freight to New York one cent. The compensatory duty is 44 cents per pound, or 23 cents per yard, the ad valorem duty 50 per cent, or 38 cents per yard in addition, or 78 per cent of the import price. It requires 3 1/2 yards to make a man's suit. There are at present 92,000,000 persons in the United States. It is estimated one-fifth are heads of families or men, making 18,400,000 such a year. There are doubtless an equal number of women wearing woolen, making a total of 36,800,000 suits, or the equivalent of 128,800,000 yards of such cloth which, with the children's
