The Winter Style Book Now Ready

BARRE TO HAVE PUBLIC EXHIBITION OF MODERN METHODS OF KILLING DISEASE GERMS

A movement has been on foot during the past few months to get the residents of this city interested in the destroying of the disease germs that are responsible for the sickness and death in this city. The fact that the greater part of the sickness and death are traced directly to the ravages of the disease germ only gives ample evidence that some action must be taken to relieve the unfortunate condition. After a slight investigation of the different methods and means of obtaining the results required, a few of the public-spirited citizens have spared neither time nor money to give this subject a deep and thorough study, and the result is they are unanimous in recommending "Cabot's Sulpho Naphthol." They find it the most thorough in its effect of anything in this line. This information was secured and obtained for the Barre Drug company, corner Main and Merchant streets, who have all the statistics gathered in this investigation; also the guarantee of the maker, together with testimonials from hospitals, sanitariums and people from every part of the country; also a large supply of the goods on sale. It costs nothing to gain information, even for your own health.

Because there were not enough applications for reservations on a special Pullman sleeper from Barre and Montpelier to Boston over the Central Vermont railroad next Friday night, it has been decided to cancel the order for the car.

The advance agent of winter, a lusty young blizzard, arrived this forenoon, and for a time the conditions resembled winter in real form. The snow storm followed a heavy rainfall last night, which changed the balmy air into a cold wave.

The local candle pin bowlers who went to Northfield Saturday afternoon took a match from the Northfield team by winning three out of three as well as the total pin fall. A return game will probably be rolled on the Pearl street alleys in this city soon.

Mrs. C. S. Bowlyn of Providence, R. I., arrived in the city yesterday, called here by the death of her sister, Mrs. E. A. Prindle. She was accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Nicholson of Barre, another sister of Mrs. Prindle, who had been visiting in Providence for a few weeks.

Frank LeClair of North Main street went Saturday to Winooki Falls, where he was called by the death of his father, Paul LeClair. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon with the burial at Winooki. Many older residents of Barre will remember the late Mr. LeClair as the man who had charge of the brick construction work when the main building at Goddard seminary was erected.

Clan Gordon and the Ladies' Auxiliary closed a successful week's fair in Howland hall Saturday evening, with a large number of people in attendance. In point of attendance, as well as receipts, the fair was the most notable in the history of Clan Gordon. Although figures are not at hand, the total attendance far exceeded that of other fairs held in the past. Two different nights in the week, as many as 600 persons are said to have been present, while 360 admission tickets were sold for the entertainment on the last night. This number was considerably increased later in the evening, when the dance order started. The closing night's program was meritoriously given as follows: Japanese drill, three girls; violin solo, Eda Garusi; piano duet, Mary Birnie and Waretta Veale. During the dance, the several prizes offered during the week were allotted. Riley's orchestra, which has been such an important factor in the success of the affair, furnished music for the dancers until the fair closed at 12 o'clock. Credit for the unequalled financial success of the week's fair is largely due to the joint committee of some twenty members chosen from the clan and the ladies' auxiliary.

The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Clan Gordon please take notice that they are requested to attend the funeral of our late sister, Mrs. Thomas Shirriffs, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from her late home on Madison street. Wear badges. Per order the sec.

World's Championship Baseball Games—Giants vs. Athletics.

Aside from scenes of straight playing, the incidentals of the game this year have been carefully planned. All of the important stars of the diamond have been pictured in close-up views; there is a complete panorama of the parks, both at New York and Philadelphia. Novel and unique scenes showing in close-up views the science and skill of the various infield and outfield players, their methods of stopping grounders, of catching flies, of stealing bases and sliding for home, will lend zest and new interest to the game. Views of the crowds, of important baseball officials, mascots, etc., will of course be included. Fans all over the country who couldn't see the world series of games will thoroughly enjoy the events in the games here pictured. They can obtain a fair idea of the way the game was played. The most thrilling plays are reproduced. It's at the Dreamland.

Two local hunters, who live just across the line in Barre Town near the Circle street neighborhood, went to the pains of driving to the town clerk's office in Granville last week to procure hunting licenses. They were somewhat chagrined when the town clerk told them that the licenses could have been obtained from the Barre city clerk's office or of any other town clerk in Vermont.

J. E. Cole of St. Albans, Central Vermont railroad superintendent of bridge construction, was a business visitor in the city to-day.
