BEACON FALLS RUBBER FOOTWEAR

We buy these Rubbers direct from the factory. The manufacturer eliminates the middleman's profits, selling direct to us. This saving is put into added quality. When you wear Beacon Falls Rubbers, you will find that they are "different" from other rubbers. If you examine them, you will see how they have been re-inforced at the right places, at the places where the wear comes. Call at our store and examine these Rubbers carefully. See how the extra wear is provided for. See why Beacon Falls Rubbers are "different." Just because a rubber wears well it need not be a poor looking one. Beacon Falls Rubbers not only wear better than others but look better. Come in and let us show you.

Quality the Real Test of a Real Store

It is not the quantity of clothing a store handles that makes it a good place to trade; it is the quality of the merchandise. If the garments shown by an institution are not correct as to style and right as to fabric they are undesirable, no matter what the price quoted. If you are a patron of this store you will agree with us that quality and quantity are closely allied as far as our own stocks are concerned. If you are not a patron it will be to your advantage to become one and share in the benefits of our greater value-giving.

James Canning Broke Hip While Hunting in Marshfield.
James C. Canning fell while deer hunting near Niggerhead pond in Marshfield and broke a hip. He was brought in on the Wells River train yesterday and taken to Heaton hospital. Mr. Canning was alone at the time of the accident and climbed upon a rock to get a view of the country, when he fell a distance of several feet. Upon attempting to regain his feet, he found his hip broken. Shooting his rifle and calling for help he remained lying in the snow, unable to move, for about two hours, when Perley Goslan of Groton, hunting a mile away, heard the sounds and came to his rescue. Not being able to move him alone, Goslan went back to Niggerhead pond, got a cot and a number of men and returned for Mr. Canning. The road was rough and hard to travel, but they succeeded in getting him to the Niggerhead station, from where they telephoned to the Wells River offices here and order was issued for the freight to stop there. Mr. Canning was placed in the caboose and made the journey as comfortably as could be expected. Volholm's ambulance met him at the station. Mr. Canning is superintendent at the shops of the Lane Manufacturing company.

200 pounder in Jones Brook neighborhood; F. H. Somerville, 225 pound buck after following it four hours; Frank Farnham, in Moretown, Cleveland Webster of Northfield secured a 200 pound buck in Roxbury.
A daughter was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Label of Saugus, Mass.; granddaughter of ex-Mayor F. R. Dawley.

HIS TIME WASTED.

Foreign Secretary Arose From Bed to Grant Interview.
With international complications on his mind, the foreign secretary, completely worn out, tumbled into bed. He was just dozing off when the front door bell pealed.
"A reporter, sir," announced a footman. "Will you see him?"
"I suppose so," sighed the foreign secretary. And, rising, he slipped on his dressing gown and slippers and descended to the library.
The reporter was a mere youth; but, though shivering with cold, the foreign secretary dictated two columns about the reasons for the compromise he had arrived at with a neighboring power. Then, satisfied that he had done his duty, he showed the youthful reporter to the door.
"G-g-good night," he said, with chattering teeth. "You might let me have half a d-dozen copies of the paper in the m-m-morning."
"Oh, this isn't for any paper," said the reporter.
"What?" cried the minister. "What the d-d-deuce is it for, then?"
"Why, you see," explained the youth, "I belong to the new school of Journalism, and this is a test interview."—London Answers.
