Instead I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my foot was soon completely cured." Heals burns, boils, sores, bruises, eczema, pimples, corns, Suresis pile cure. 25c at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Warren Fair's horse slipped on the ice Sunday and broke his hip. Dr. Barrett of Montpelier, a veterinarian, was called, but was unable to do anything for it, and it is expected the horse will have to be killed.

Charles Young, who had been at Oliver Carpenter's home for five years, died Nov. 11 after a long illness. The funeral was held at the Carpenter home, Rev. Chapin officiating. Mr. Young's old neighbors, Harlow, George, Dennis and Leonard Folsom, were bearers, and burial was in the Eaton cemetery beside his wife.

The following data and interesting facts regarding the late George Wooster, will be appreciated by his friends. George Wooster, born in Walden, Vt., Oct. 8, 1825, who has been engaged in mercantile business in this town for over half a century, died of cerebral apoplexy Oct. 13, 1911. The funeral was held from his late home the following Tuesday afternoon, Rev. John A. Lawrence, a former pastor in this place, officiating. Mr. Wooster took an active interest in the welfare of the town. He was honored with various town offices, twice representing the town in the state legislature. He used his influence to secure the passing of the "biennial session" law. He was one of the original stock holders of the Montpelier & Wells River Railroad Co. The firm of Putnam & Wooster received the first freight which came over this road. In 1879 Mr. Wooster was married to Amelia Sweet of West Mansfield, Mass., who survives him. Of a family of six children, born to them, four daughters survive: Florence A., a teacher in the Mathewson school, Barre; Ella M., wife of Charles M. Lilley of this town; Grace A., teacher in the Waterbury business college, Waterbury, Ct.; and Dorothy E., who is in the training school for nurses, Grand hospital, New Haven, Conn. Two sons, George L. and Charles A., died at the ages of eleven and three years.

There will be a Thanksgiving ball at the hall Thursday evening, Nov. 30. Riley's singing orchestra of Barre will furnish music.

MARSHFIELD.

Mrs. Horace Brown, ill Three Months, Broke Arm in Rising From Bed.

Mrs. Horace Brown, who has been very ill and under the care of a trained nurse nearly all the time in three months, had the misfortune to have the bones of the lower left arm broken about a week ago. The condition of the bones was such that in helping her to arise from the bed, they snapped off in a clean break. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown have the sincere sympathy of their many friends.

Mrs. Ernest Rosebrook is nursing in the family of Elmer Burnham of Hollister hill.

Mrs. J. Berton Pike wishes to thank all who remembered her with postcards during her recent illness.

Mrs. H. E. Hadlock and little daughter, B. Irena, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Woodard of South Cabot recently.

Owing to illness of the correspondent, many items have been omitted or belated. When you have any news, phone it in, please.

Mrs. Caroline Robinson recently enjoyed a visit from her step-daughter, Mrs. Mary Edson Hammit, of Springfield, Mass.

Schools in town will close next Friday for the Thanksgiving vacation, the winter term opening Dec. 4, for a ten weeks' term for all except the high school, which has 13 weeks.

Mrs. A. Clyde Mears finished work for H. Brown about a week ago and Mrs. Sanborn is at the Brown's. Miss Winifred Wells of Burlington, a trained nurse, is caring for Mrs. Brown.

The body of an old townsman, Rufus Farr of Northfield, passed through here Nov. 15, when burial was made at Cabot. Mrs. J. Harvey Bullock of this town is a daughter of Mr. Farr.

Mrs. Sadie Hathaway and child of Bradford, Miss Mabel Young of West Stewartstown, N. H., and William Young of Orange were at S. H. Urwin's several days this week, called to town by the death of their father.

Lee and Clara B. Shortt have put in a new line of furniture and will carry a line of matting, rugs, window shades and lace curtains, with other things necessary to the trade. The public is invited to call and inspect the goods.

While driving down the hill near the village on Calais road, the horse driven by the New England Homestead agent fell into the ditch, and upon investigation was found to be dead. A veterinarian pronounced the trouble to be heart failure.

The marriage of Miss Jennie M. Bullock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Bullock, and Oscar L. Bemis, both of this town, occurred last Wednesday evening, at the residence of the Rev. C. H. Chapin. Congratulations are in order.
