

STRONG TEAM OF ATHLETES

Will Represent Goddard at Vermont Interscholastic Meet

IN BURLINGTON SATURDAY

At Yesterday's Trials One Record Was Equalled and Four Were Broken—Coach Stacy Picked the Athletes to Carry the Red and White Colors.

Trials in preparation for the annual spring interscholastic meet at Burlington next Saturday were held on the seminary campus yesterday afternoon for the Goddard seminary track squad under the direction of Coach Stacy, who has rounded into shape one of the strongest, if not the best, track teams that ever wore the colors of the red and white. Yesterday one of the records held by the seminary athletes was equalled and four were broken. The record equalled was the 100-yard dash. The 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run and the hammer throw are the new events to be established in the seminary's book of records. Moses, a former Exeter academy star, who entered the seminary last fall, has the honor of equaling the 100-yard and smashing the 220-yard and 440-yard dashes. LeBarron set the figures for the half-mile run, with Capt. Sherburne establishing new measurements for the hammer throw. The main object of the trials was to get a line on the squad in comparison with the records of the last meet at Burlington.

Last year Coach Stacy returned with a score of 36 piled up by the representatives of the hill school and this year he is optimistic of even better results. In the dashes, the school has a man in Moses that would be able to capture places in the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes, and with Capt. Sherburne figuring prominently. LeBarron in the runs shows signs of developing into a star. He has the stride, grace and stamina necessary to accomplish the events. In the field events, Capt. Sherburne should uphold the distinction he has already secured in interscholastic circles. Sherburne has a strong class of underliers, including Cutting, Merrill and Root. The only member of the squad to enter the high jump is Martin, who is new at the seminary, and is fast developing into a star. No entry has been made for the pole vaulting contest. Leland will be the sole representative to be entered in the hurdles. Yesterday Craig was not in condition to take part in the sprints, owing to arenched knee, but will be in order Saturday to don the spiked shoes. Craig, with the exception of Moses, is the speediest man on the hill. The following comprise the squad that Coach Stacy will accompany to Burlington: Capt. Sherburne, Moses, Caig, Patterson, LeBarron, Goodere, Cutting, Martin, Leland, Merrill, and with a possibility of Whitecomb, the freshman, who has showed good form in the distance run, joining the team.

The feature event of the afternoon was the quarter-mile contest. Moses won in the remarkable time of 52 2-5 sec. The course was about a dozen feet short of the regulation distance, but taking into consideration the poor track it goes to show that the winner was in prime shape and running with unusual speed. The other contestants, Sherburne and Patterson, finished but a few feet behind Moses.

The summary: 100-yard dash—Won by Moses; Sherburne second, Cayhuc third. Time, 10 2-5 sec.

HOW ARCHBALD FINDS SURE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Alleged Plan to "Entrap" Archbald Disclosed

AT IMPEACHMENT HEARING

Outgrowth of Court Case—Cockrell Says That Boland, Who Filed the Charges Against Judge, Made Admission.

Washington, May 14.—A purported deliberate plan of W. P. Boland, the Scranton, Pa., coal dealer, who originated the charges against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court to entrap the jurist in an embarrassing transaction, was revealed yesterday before the House judiciary committee, which is investigating the case to determine whether impeachment proceedings should be instituted by the Senate. Allan Cockrell, confidential secretary of the interstate commerce commission, read to the committee his memorandum of W. P. Boland's original statement of the charges against Judge Archbald. Boland, according to the memorandum, told Interstate Commerce Commissioner Meyer that he purposely sought to entrap Judge Archbald in the Katydil culm bank transaction, after a demurrer in a suit against him in Judge Archbald's court was refused. Boland declared that he sent E. J. Williams to Archbald to lure him into the Katydil culm option deal with the Erie railroad, after Williams had come to him with Judge Archbald's $500 note for discount. Boland refused to discount the note and subsequently his demurrer was decided against him. In making the charges, Boland admitted, according to Cockrell, that he had used Williams in an effort to involve the judge in a discreditable transaction.

"Mr. Boland was so full of his ten years' fight for his rights," said Mr. Cockrell, "that his narrative required several hours to tell, but in the memorandum I merely set down the salient points."

Mr. Cockrell participated in the conference with Attorney-General Wickersham later when the Bolands related their charges to him. He was asked if Edward J. Williams when Attorney-General Wickersham showed him photographic copies of the papers in the case had repudiated any of them, as he has since repudiated his signature.

"Williams did not dispute any of the papers," said Cockrell. "He identified them all and admitted that he had signed them."

Mr. Cockrell also said that Williams identified the assignment contract in which Judge Archbald was referred to as a "silent party." This Williams denied before the committee, though acknowledging his signature.

On cross-examination A. S. Worthington, counsel for Judge Archbald, asked Mr. Cockrell if W. P. Boland had said anything about any other federal judge. Cockrell declared that Boland, in conference with Commissioner Meyer, Feb. 21, last, had an affidavit made by some one in Scranton, referring to a breach of promise suit before a federal judge in Scranton.

"This was a matter not supported by anything but the statement at hand," said Cockrell. "It did not appear worth much on its face and it was deemed inadvisable to make any reference to it in these proceedings."

J. H. Rittenhouse of Scranton, a civil and mining engineer, testified that the number of tons in Katydil culm dip aggregated more than 90,000. It was negotiated for in the option from the Erie by Williams and Judge Archbald as something over 40,000 tons. The aggregate value of the contents, Rittenhouse estimated, was $47,533. The options were to have cost Williams and Archbald $8,000.

Rittenhouse testified that the Katydil dump was about twenty years in process of formation, that its value had increased largely in recent years, and that if it had been worked by the Erie railroad itself the Erie's income on the property might have reached approximately $75,000. Rittenhouse found after Williams and Archbald had negotiated a sale of the Katydil culm for $20,000 to the Laurel Electric Line through its vice-president, Mr. Conn, that the title was clouded and for that reason the transaction fell through. The committee took a recess until 2 o'clock.

COURT UPHOLDS LIFE TERM FOR THREE CONVICTS

West Virginia Habitual Criminal Law Is Declared to Be Constitutional.

Washington, May 14.—West Virginia's habitual criminal law, fixing life sentences for persons convicted three times of felonies, was yesterday declared constitutional by the supreme court. Chief Justice H. G. Gray, a horse thief, sentenced to life imprisonment for a third offense, tested the law.

"The propriety of inflicting additional punishment upon old offenders has long been recognized, both here and in England," said Justice Hughes in delivering the court's opinion.

TWO KILLED BY CENTRAL TRAIN

Struck Covered Wagon at Crossing—Two Escape Injury.

New London, Conn., May 14.—A Central Vermont train from Brattleboro struck a covered wagon at Harrison's station yesterday afternoon, instantly killing the driver, Albert Beckwith, and Arline McNeil, aged 10 years. William and Angus McNeil, brothers of Arline, were thrown from the wagon but escaped serious injury.

TAFT'S FIRST DAY IN OHIO

Declares Roosevelt Thinks Himself Whole Show

Taft Defends Reciprocity and Says He Believes It for the Good of Farmers—Started Day's Campaign at Marietta.

Steuvenville, O., May 14.—President Taft's first day of his final campaign swing through Ohio ended here last night with a speech marked by the most pronounced verbal assaults upon Col. Roosevelt to which Taft so far has given public utterance. The president's speeches were filled with indignant attacks bubbling over with uncomplimentary adjectives. He started the Ohio campaign at Marietta in a cold rain which lasted for hours. At Marietta he said: "Mr. Roosevelt says the American people will elect him because he is necessary for the job. I want to call your attention to the job he proposes. He is going to bring about the millennium when he gets into office. All horses will disappear. Politicians will be fewer, he is going to have a finger in every community in every state. "Everything is going to be heavenly. If that be true it will take more than four years. I beg you to ask him when he comes here whether he would take a fourth term, or fifth term, and why he should not continue in office during his life. It is a monument he makes, you would think he was the whole show, and that there wasn't any body else in the country. It is I, I, I. "They tell me this is a Roosevelt town," was the president's opening remark yesterday to a crowd that met his train at Dexter City to listen to the second speech of his present campaign tour. "It is," yelled a man on the station platform. "They say you are against me," continued the president, "because I was in favor of reciprocity. Well, I was. I was in favor of reciprocity, and I was in favor of it because I believed it for the good of the farmers and every other class. "Just as Mr. Taft finished that sentence the train started to pull out. "Stop the train," said a president, "to the delight of many of his hearers, "I want to talk to these people. "We sell our foodstuffs and agricultural products to Canada four times what they sell to us," declared Mr. Taft, after the crowd had walked forward and surrounded his car again. "They cannot raise corn up there; they can only raise the hardest cereals, and it would be greatly to the benefit of the farmers—but the thing is dead. Now what I want to say to you—you are utterly illogical in opposing me on an account of reciprocity when the fact is that before I entered into reciprocity I wrote to Theodore Roosevelt and consulted about it and told him all the arguments both ways. He commended me most highly for going into the business and approved it in every way. Now that he finds that reciprocity is not popular with the farmers he recants and says that, well, he has changed his mind about it. "I would not have all your votes if I had to take back what I really believed was for your interest, whether you like it or not and whether you give me your votes or not. But I appeal to you whether it is a square deal for a man to change right in the neck when he wants votes, although we both were for reciprocity. Now that is a condition I would like to have you study. It is a dead issue, and I see no reason for voting one way or the other so far as reciprocity is concerned, but I ask for a square deal."

SIX-YEAR TERM FOR PRESIDENT TO BE FAVORED

Senate Judiciary Committee Would Make a Re election Illegal.

Washington, May 14.—The Senate judiciary committee yesterday decided to report favorably the Works resolution restricting the presidential tenure of office to a single term of six years. A minority report, favoring a single term of four years, also will be made from the committee. The reports are expected in a day or two.

A big majority of the committee voted affirmatively on the question. The form of the resolution will be perfected and it will then be approved and reported to the Senate. In Works' resolution, the six-year term and non-re-election restrictions apply also to the vice-president.

Ratification by three-fourths of the states is necessary to amend the constitution.

Spotting Notes.

Nearly the entire stock of the St. Louis Browns' catchers are below the medium size. Kritchell and Stevens are in this list. It is an infrequent occurrence to see small men in the major leagues behind the bat.

Stuffy Melnis of the Philadelphia Athletics is leading the hitting in that league, with Tris Speaker of the Boston team second. Melnis is hitting for 429 and 390 is the best effort of the Boston star.

The well-known English swimmer, T. W. Burgess, who won the Alexander medal for swimming across the English channel, will soon make another attempt at the hazardous swim. The purpose of the swim is to win the valuable cup recently offered by Mr. Alexander.

The well-known Woonsocket horseman, Frank E. Stevens, has taken charge of the clubhouse at the Parkway, R. I. track.

That he yearns for men to steal on him are the reports going around about Larry McLean, the husky catcher of the Cincinnati Reds. McLean is an excellent base thrower, but old timers hint that Larry signs for wide ones in order to obtain a throw.

Many players are carried more for their hitting ability than for their fielding capability. Such is the case of Erwin, the giant Brooklyn catcher.

The Naps' losing streak was broken when Harry Davis shifted the infield around, sending Lajoie to first and Ball to second.

Big leaguers have failed to reach three line times in games this season. Plank was opposed to them in one contest and Groom of Washington was the other reason for their failure to proceed that far in the other.

Sunday afternoon, May 5, a fire on Yale field burned a portion of the baseball bleachers, the damage amounting to about $300. A great loss might have been incurred had not the blaze been discovered by the night watchman at an opportune moment.

Confirmation of rumors that Roger Bresnahan, the manager of the St. Louis Nationals, wished to purchase the franchise of the club came unexpectedly the other day. The price testified to was $300,000.

Joe Jackson of the Naps is out of the game at present with a bruised wrist. With Jackson and Lajoie out, the efforts of the Cleveland team to cop the pennant are very weak.

Saturday afternoon at New Haven, two of Yale's major sports ended in a tie.

Saturday at the Dartmouth-Harvard dual meet at Cambridge, Cable, the colored weight thrower, outdistanced both Marden and Tilley, the two Dartmouth stars. The Harvard coach expects still more of Cable at the intercollegiate.

The falling off of the Georgetown nine of late is a disappointment to many of their followers in the north. The school has always figured prominently in college ball, but this year it is far from it.

A HAPPY CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

When Cross, Sick, Feverish, Tongue Coated or Bilious Give Delicious "Syrup of Figs."

Mother! look at the tongue! see if it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, is restless, doesn't eat heartily, or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad; has stomach ache, diarrhea, sore throat, or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with poisons and clogged up waste and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours the foul, decaying, constipated matter, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child shortly. With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious taste. Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given to-day will save a sick child to-morrow. Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine U.S. reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

leg of the race was an electric key and that when he pressed his leg against the key the current was turned on.

So absorbed was I in my puzzle that I failed to notice that Manuel had but a few coppers left when I had reached my conclusion. I whispered to him to go to the chief engineer's office and ask him to send me a few men. While he was gone I sat down at the table to play till he came back. On his return with the men I lifted the top of the table and exposed a magnet and a dry battery just where I expected. Attached to the table leg was the key. I ordered the gambler to return the money he had won from Manuel and the others and to get away from our proximity as soon as possible or I would have him locked up. He returned the funds, and I saw him no more.

But alas! When the next pay day came around I saw Manuel, accompanied by his wife, she carrying the baby, making straight for a similar tent, where he soon got rid of his week's earnings.

But I concluded to waste no more time on a family in whom the gambling spirit had taken so strong a hold that it could not be eradicated.

Banzai. The word "banzai" is the Japanese cry of joy, victory or applause. It is the equivalent of the English "hurrah," the French "vive" and the German "hoch." The word received its first marked prominence in our part of the world during the Russo-Japanese war, throughout which historic struggle it was heard on many triumphant fields.

LIKE FINDING MONEY

D. F. Davis Offers Popular Medicine at Half Price.

D. F. Davis, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money, for he is selling a regular 50-cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount, he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty-cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently through the solicitation of Druggist D. F. Davis that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, D. F. Davis will return your money.
