The Barre Citizens' band gave its last concert of the season at the music stand in the park last evening before an appreciative audience. Twice balked, the musicians were at last able to complete the series of sixteen concerts without interruption by rain, although the weather was none too mild for out-of-door music last evening. The following program was carried out: March, "Portland Cadets," D. W. Reeves; waltz, "Reign of Youth," George Barnard; intermezzo, "Cavalleria Rusticana," Mascagni; serenade (b), "The Old Church Organ," Chambers; selection, "Mikado," Sullivan; medley, "Popular Hits," Italic; finale, Hall.

The new program of vaudeville that comes to the Pavilion to-night is highly recommended by vaudeville managers in the surrounding cities. Van Lear and Rome, who will appear at the Pavilion for the rest of the week, present a burlesque magic act, which ranges from high-class illusions to the most ridiculous comedy magical stunts. The act is said to be entirely different from all other comedy magic acts and contains many hearty laughs. Howe and Edwards are well known to vaudeville patrons of the large cities, where they have worked for the past several years. Their act consists of comedy, harp playing and dancing and is a novelty act that has been very successful in pleasing the theatergoing public of other cities. The pictures are up to the usual high standard maintained at the Pavilion. The one in which Arthur Johnson appears is unusually pleasing and brought round after round of hearty laughter last night.
