Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pitkins, who have been visiting relatives in Barre and Montpelier for the last two weeks, will leave to-night for their home in Bayonne, N. J.

Among other features of the program at the Universalist fair and festival this evening will be readings by Mrs. Allie Trow Wishart and Miss Marion Raymond.

Car No. 50 of the street railroad jumped the iron and ran ten feet on South Main street before being stopped this morning. It took ten minutes to get the car back.

Miss Ruth Eastman returned to St. Mary's academy at Burlington yesterday, after passing the Thanksgiving recess at the home of her mother, Mrs. Etta Eastman of Washington street.

Mrs. Jessica Baird, who has been visiting relatives in the city for the past month, left this forenoon for Plymouth, N. H., where she will make a short stay before returning to her home in Bg Beach, Me.

The mission study class of the Church of the Good Shepherd will meet at the home of Mrs. Howland, French street, Wednesday evening, Dec. 4, at 7:30.

This takes the place of the regular November meeting. All women of the parish are cordially invited to be present.

Joseph Castellini, aged 14, of 92 Pleasant street, is nursing a broken leg after the injury being sustained last Thursday morning, when he slipped on the ice on Pleasant street. An X-ray of the arm showed a multiple fracture. The arm is doing as well as could be expected, considering the nature of the injury, the fractures being at the elbow.

F. S. Platt of Rutland, clerk of the United States court, will conduct a session of naturalization court in the city court room Thursday. It is expected that a large number of applicants will be present to receive papers of the first and second classes and petitioners are asked to bear in mind that the first session of the court begins at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

The large eagle, which has been on exhibition in the display windows of the Smith market at the north end of the city for the past few days, has been purchased by Sidney E. Spafford, the produce dealer. The eagle was captured by Asa Smith some weeks ago in the town of Orange after a frantic struggle. It is understood that the intent of the purchaser is to have the king bird consigned to Boston.

A special meeting of the committee of the whole of the city council will be held in the council room this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at which hour representatives of the Consolidated Lighting company, as well as Board of Trade members, will be present in connection with the hearing on the city lighting contract. The meeting is open to anyone interested in the awarding of the contract to light the streets of Barre all night and every night in the year.

The following Canaan, N. H., item in the Manchester Union will be of interest to many Barre people who are acquainted with Mr. Hinman: "The engagement of Marion May Hutchinson of this town to Harold Purman Hinman of North Stratford is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hutchinson, the former's parents. Mr. Hinman is associated with his brother in the lumber business near Barre, Vt. He is a son of the late H. B. Hinman of North Stratford, and is a Dartmouth alumnus, being graduated with the class of 1910. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity and was very well known and popular at Hanover during his college course. Miss Hutchinson was graduated from the Western maternity hospital, Springfield, Mass., where she is at present serving as head nurse. The engagement became known during a week-end visit of the young couple with Miss Hutchinson's parents, and they have been receiving the congratulations of their many friends here."

Last Saturday afternoon was something of a red letter occasion for the Rebellion veterans of the city. For R. B. Crandall post, No. 56, G. A. R., successfully launched its series of smoke talks at the Grand Army headquarters in the city building. A large number of the army men gathered at headquarters and the short hours of the afternoon were given over to remarks of a reminiscent character by several of the "boys." Nathan Harrington of South Barre was the principal speaker, and he gave an interesting account of the bloody struggle at Antietam. A number of the post members participated in that memorable struggle and Comrade Harrington's vivid account of the fight was especially interesting to them. The smoke talk came to an end near 5 o'clock. It is planned to hold several more occasions of a like nature during the coming winter.

The Frank McWhorter Co.

FUR COATS TO RENT

A PROGRESSIVE NEWSPAPER

Springfield Republican

MASSACHUSETTS

HONESTLY DEVOTED TO THE SERVICE OF THE PEOPLE

Independent of Selfish Political, Personal or Financial Influences

COURAGEOUS, ENTERPRISING, INTERESTING

ESTABLISHED IN 1824 BY SAMUEL BOWLES.

DAILY (morning) 8¢; SUNDAY 2¢; WEEKLY $1 a Year.

The Springfield Republican stands for political progress and social justice. It has stood for these causes consistently and strongly during the 88 years of its career. It stands also for honesty in all of the relations of life, personal, political, commercial, industrial, national and international. It considers that honesty is an essential basis of real political progress and social justice. It refuses to follow popular leaders who lack this fundamental virtue, however captivating and eloquent.

The Republican has a profound faith in democratic institutions, but it recognizes clearly that the safeguard of a progressive democracy is universal education, developing an enlightened electorate, which may deal justly with the difficult problems that modern civilization presents. It looks forward, through the agency of such an electorate, to an increasing restraint of the aggrandizing activities of powerful individuals and groups, to the end that there may be a juster distribution of the fruits of labor and a fuller realization of the ideal of the commonwealth.

The Republican seeks to embody its principles in its own service to the people as a newspaper. It strives ever to deal with its public honestly in its presentation of the news of the day. It tells no tales to promote its sales. It aims to educate, to enlighten and uplift its readers; and yet to interest and entertain them by honest methods. Its editorial page is one of the strongest, keenest, broadest, in the country. It deals with all the subjects that concern humanity in the spirit of helpfulness, of healthier, happier living.

The Republican gives a news service that is real, not flashy. It commands the best agencies for its general news, often supplemented by special correspondence. It covers its home territory with remarkable thoroughness, and it dev
